Partial Victory On Foreign Aid Is Won By Ike

Senate Group Restores Part Of Funds Cut

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower won a partial victory in his battle for foreign aid funds tonight when a Senate appropriations committee restored more than half a billion dollars that had been cut out by the House.

All told the House had slashed $1,110,000,000 from the $5,138,000,000 the President requested.

The Senate purse-string group restored $123,975,811 of new funds and $424,654,212 of old funds. This would allow spending of $548,630,023 more than the House voted, if the Senate committee's decision should finally be upheld by Senate and House.

The big bill will be brought up in the Senate early next week and after passage there then must go back to the House for consideration of Senate changes.

Usually a Senate - House Conference Committee has the final say, subject to later approval by both branches of Congress.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) acting chairman, confirmed that the Appropriations Committee defeated on a 7-7 tie vote an effort of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) to penalize nations getting aid if they traded with Red China or other Soviet-controlled areas in Asia.

Ferguson said McCarthy asked the group to vote that "it is the sense of this committee" that nations engaging in such trade shall have sums equal to the transactions deducted from their U. S. aid.

McCarthy earlier told reporters that he had been defeated on a tie vote but would offer his proposals later on the Senate floor.

The big foreign aid bill is designed to give military and economic aid to friendly foreign nations to strengthen them against any Soviet aggression.

Public's Apathy To Veterans Is Cited By Hatley

NEW ORLEANS, July 25 (AP) — Lloyd E. Hatley of Baton Rouge, director of the Louisiana Department of Veterans Affairs, today said of the indifference of the public toward veterans.

Addressing the 35th annual convention of the Louisiana Department of the American Legion, Hatley said the feeling of the people has changed.

He said if the veterans stand by while Congress passes a 300 million dollar cut in appropriations for the Veterans Administration proposed by the economy bloc, "there will be no protest from any other quarter."

He said the cut would "wreck havoc on the services being provided veterans under the law."

Hatley said the VA doesn't pay its doctors enough to keep them. He said that's why there are so many empty beds in VA hospitals while there are veterans waiting to get in.

Rep. Brooks (D-La) said he was concerned about the VA. "We gave the VA authority to require an affidavit of veterans entering these hospitals so rich people would not avail themselves of these services at the expense of those unable to pay."

The convention endorsed unanimously the nomination of Claude Duval of Houma, winding up a two year term as national committeeman for the American Legion in

Thwarted Burglars Set Fire To Store

SHREVEPORT, La., July 25 (AP)—Burglars, apparently angered over their failure to find money, set fire to a grocery store today, causing damages estimated at $18,000.

Frank McAneny, Shreveport Journal photographer, discovered the burglary when he tripped over a cash register that had been thrown from the building.

Fire Department officials said they found lighter fluid near where the fire began, indicating the blaze was deliberately set.

Produce and paper bags were strewn throughout the store in an apparent attempt by the burglars to find money, police said.

State Police Receive Assurances

Many Sheriffs Pledge Aid In Gambling Crackdown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A majority of sheriffs in Louisiana parishes where gambling operated in the open agreed to enforce a state police order banning all gambling activities after midnight Saturday.

Others said they expected no trouble and planned no action but had "passed along the word" that state Police Supt. Francis Grevemberg had ordered slot machines and other illegal devices banned throughout Louisiana.

Apparently the major target of the new gambling drive was the slot machines. The order also bans bingo games, counter dice and pinball machines that pay off.

Sheriffs from St. Martin, St. Bernard, Lafourche, Pointe Coupee, West Baton Rouge, West Feliciana, Avoyelles and Evangeline Parishes told The Associated Press they would enforce the order.

Sheriffs from St. Charles, Iberville and St. Landry said they had "passed the word" along but planned no further action.

Sheriffs, from Iberia, St. Mary, Acadia, Vermilion, Caddo and Ouachita, said the gambling ban would not affect their areas because there was no gambling there.

One sheriff, Willie Waggoner of Bossier Parish, said he had "no comment."

Vermilion Parish Sheriff Maxie Landry said his bailiwick didn't have any slot machines, "only pinball machines that don't pay off" and bingo games.

"I'm not going to do anything about them (bingo games)," he said. "The only ones who play here are the Catholic organizations who play for prizes."

He said the groups held bazaars with prizes donated by merchants to raise money for the church.

Sheriff E. L. Reswebber of St. Martin Parish said his office would comply with Grevemberg's order. He said an estimated 300 slot machines would be out by the deadline.

He said a check would be made Sunday to ensure that the devices were removed.

"There is no syndicate here," he said, "the slots are personally owned."

Dr. Nicholas Trist, St. Bernard Parish sheriff who had requested permission to operate a charity bingo game in the parish, said, "Whatever he (Grevemberg) says will be enforced."

Caddo Parish Sheriff J. Howell Flournoy said he had no comment

Little Cause For Probing Seen In Parish District

The state-wide clamp-down on gambling at midnight Saturday will mean little or no more work for state police in Ouachita Parish according to Sheriff Bailey Grant. Grant told the Morning World that his department knows of no gambling in this parish. "With the possibility of a few sneak poker games, there is no gambling in Ouachita Parish."

Grant told the Associated Press earlier "I fought that battle five years ago. There's no gambling here."

Contacted at his home, Captain Roy Byrd, commander of the Monroe detatchment of the state police, would not comment on the recent order.

At Lake Providence, East Carroll Parish Sheriff J. W. Gilbert, said that he took steps yesterday morning to notify all places of amusement to remove all automatic pay-off devices. He was also reported to have notified operators that no further bingo games would be permitted, even for church benefits.

Commander W. R. Abernethy of the Lake Providence American Legion post, reported that legionnaires worked most of the day Saturday removing the 80 slot machines owned and operated by the legion from places of amusement. Abernethy said that the machines would be stored.

At Tallulah, wicely known as a "wide open town" for gambling, Madison Parish Sheriff C. E. Hester told the Associated Press "Some people like it; some don't. I've informed the operators. The next move is up to them. I don't plan any action."

Weatherman Still Predicting Rain

Although few residents could notice the difference, the mercury did drop a little yesterday. The high registered at the Civil Aeronautics Administration's Selman Field station was 93 degrees, one degree less than Friday. The minimum temperature was 72 degrees.

During the afternoon the stylus on the temperature meter in front of city hall spasmodically reached for the 96 degree mark on the graph, but only attained that peak a few times.

Partly cloudy skies are forecast for today and Monday in Louisiana and Arkansas with widely scattered afternoon thunder showers.

Korean Heroes Are Honored At McChord

McCHORD AIR FORCE BASE, Wash., July 25 (AP)—Eleven soldiers and airmen were honored during reviews at McChord Air Force Base and Ft. Lewis today for heroic deeds in Korea.

Lt. Daniel O'Brien, 28-year-old son of William C. O'Brien, chief attorney for the Post Office Department in Washington, received the Distinguished Flying Cross. O'Brien, who completed 101 missions over the Korean area from November 1950 to October 1952, is now with the 43rd Air Rescue Squadron at McChord.

Bronze star with "V" device for valor went to Master Sergeant Ja...s W. Nix, Little Rock, Ark., and Sergeant First Class Robert B. Reed, Indianola, Miss.

Red Reich Rule Said Bankrupt

QUANTICO MARINE BASE, Va. July 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the riot-shaken German Communist regime is bankrupt. He renewed a demand for free all-German elections as a step toward unifying the divided country.

In a lengthy, extraordinary letter to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, the President said anti-Red outbreaks in the Eastern zone point to the downfall of the Communist empire.

He wrote:

"Future historians, in their analysis of the causes which will have brought about the disintegration of the Communist empire, will single out those brave East Germans who dared to rise against the cannons of tyranny with nothing but their bare hands and their stout hearts, as a root cause."

He added: "I think that those same historians will record your own extraordinary steadfastness in the cause of European peace and freedom over many, many years."

The letter, dated July 23, was released by the President while he was at this big Marine base for a conference of military and civilian defense leaders.

Eisenhower counseled West Germany against wavering in its support of the 6-nation European Defense Community and adopting any policy of "defenseless neutralization."

"The peace we all so dearly seek cannot be maintained through weakness," he set forth.

ATOMIC PREDICTION

AUSTRALIA, July 25. (AP)—South Australian Premier Thomas Playford predicts his state will have an atomic-operated power plant by 1960. He said he had discussed plans for the installation, to be built at Port Augusta, at a recent conference with British scientists in London.

Chinese Troops Press 2-Front Savage Attacks

Thrusts Seen As Propaganda Gestures

SEOUL, Sunday, July 26 (AP) — Nearly 5,000 Chinese Red infantrymen pressed savage attacks today on the Central and Western Korean Fronts, apparently as a propaganda gesture in a dying war.

Four thousand Chinese assaulted U. S. and South Korean positions in the Kumsong sector of the Central Front. At least 600 Reds drove into U. S. 1st Marine Division positions in the west.

Defenders in most cases hurled back the attacks, the 8th Army said.

Only against the South Korean outfits did the Chinese make gains. And these were minor.

AP Correspondent John Randolph reported that the Reds laid down a tremendous artillery barrage—5,000 rounds in 20 minutes—before hitting the U. S. 3rd Division on the Central Front.

An estimated 1,000 Chinese swarmed out of low hills and a road six miles northeast of Kumhwa. Allied artillery, mortar and machine gunfire chopped up the attack.

South of Kumsong, 3,000 other Chinese hit South Korean troops on both sides of Sam Hyon Hill, won by the Reds two days ago.

Initial reports said the ROKs were forced to withdraw from some positions but that no serious damage was done.

On another sector four miles northeast of Kumhwa, the ROKs lost one outpost but held another one in the face of small scale Chinese attacks.

Jes' Ramblin'

Bill Nettles, "Whistling Bill," as he was called a few years ago in the south end, when he called door to door to sell something, be it ice cream or some trinket, would presage the sale by the comment: "Buy one of these things and I'll whistle a tune for you!" But those days are past into history but Bill is still active. He has just returned from Houston, Tex., where he has had recorded four of his late compositions, real hillbilly songs. Among these are the following titles: "Anchored in the Harbor of Your Heart," "Just A Little Bit of Everything," and "As I Turned and Walked Away."

Bill wrote and recorded tha famous "Hadacol Boogie" that rank-

Third Marine Division Shipping To Far East

QUANTICO, Va., July 25 (AP) — The 3rd Marine Division is shipping out for the Far East, it was announced today.

But whether is it to relieve the 1st Marine Division, which has been in the Korean battle line since early in the war, or to augment U. S. strength there was not disclosed.

The announcement was made, in response to reporters' inquiries, by James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary who accompanied President Eisenhower here on his visit to a military high command conference.

The fact that the movement of troops was announced before their arrival in a war zone was taken as an indication that the administration is confident the war in Korea is near an end.

If the 3rd Division, which was activated as part of the defense program after start of the Korean War, is at full strength, about 22,000 Leathernecks are headed for the Far East.

In addition to the infantry organization, an air group of 72 jet fighter planes will go to the war zone.

Gen. Lemuel Shepherd, Marine Corps commandant, said the 1st Marine Division, veterans of such actions as the Inchon landing and the Chosen Reservoir winter battle, "eventually" will be relieved from its Far East task, but added the time for that will be up to Gen. Mark Clark, supreme commander of Allied forces there.

The major part of the 3rd Division now is loading for departure from its Camp Pendleton, Calif., base. About 900 men and officers of the division who have been at Marine schools here will join the division on the West Coast shortly. They began leaving late today. Men whose enlistments expire in the next five months are being transferred from the 3rd Division to outfits remaining states-side.

Ouachita Valley Scouters Spend Night In Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz., July 25 (Special) —Desert heat confronted northeast Louisiana Boy Scouts as they started their four day trip home from the national Jamboree in southern California. None of them fared worse, however, but the more than one hundred degrees temperature recalled the weather they left behind the day they departed from Monroe on July eleventh.

The first day's journey took the three-bus contingent from the scene in California to Tucson, Ariz. for an overnight stop. The group had lunch at Yuma, Ariz.

A cooling rain brought a new experience after stopping for supper at Gila Bend, Ariz. Flash floods making highway in bad shape in places caused a slight delay in the making of the schedule.

Ouachita Valley Scouters left the Jamboree proud that they had maintained a high health record at the encampment. The three troops

Lincoln Man Killed In Crash

RUSTON, La., July 25. (Special) —A Ruston man was killed and two others injured when the car in which they were riding left Highway 80 and turned over several times four miles west of here early this morning.

J. B. Barmore, 30, was killed instantly when thrown from the moving vehicle, after which it rolled over on him, crushing his head. Barmore's brother, Charles, was the driver and an Ottwell youth, were taken to the Ruston hospital following the accident, but were not believed to have been seriously injured.

Lincoln Parish sheriff's office reported that the automobile left the road when the driver attempted to negotiate a curve at high speed. It rolled over several times.

Funeral services for J. B. Barmore will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday at Mineral Springs Baptist Church, Ruston, Rev. J. C. McCann officiating.

Services will be under the direction of Kilpatricks Funeral Home of Ruston.

Interment will be in the Mineral Springs Cemetery.

Barmore is survived by his father, Will Barmore; four brothers, Rural Barmore, Clifton Barmore, and Weyland Barmore, all of Ruston, and Phonsil Barmore, Rockford, Ill.; and four sisters, Mrs. Nina Revels, and Mrs. Annie Woods, both of Vienna, and Mrs. Iris Watts and Mrs. Vickey Kinchen, both of Ponchatula.

Booby Trap Is Discovered Near Elizabeth Line

ELIZABETH, La., July 25 (AP)—Allen Parish Sheriff Ralph Thompson said today a booby trap was discovered about the oft-dynamited gas main leading into this strike-wracked central Louisiana paper mill community.

Thompson said two of his deputies discovered a small alarm clock lying just above the gas main late Friday. Further investigation revealed a wire attached to several sticks of dynamite buried alongside the gas main.

The sheriff said he believed the charge was planted several days ago, and for some reason failed to explode.

An Elizabeth electrician volunteered to disconnect the wires. State police troopers assisted him in removing the charge.

Elizabeth has been the scene of marked violence since 500 paper mill workers, members of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers and the International Brotherhood of Papermakers, both AFL, walked off their jobs at the Calcasieu Paper Co., and the jointly-owned Southern Industries last September.

State Polio Total For Season Is 189

NEW ORLEANS, July 25—UP—Louisiana has had 189 cases of polio so far in 1953, according to a report issued by the State Department of Health for the week ending July 21.

The 15 non-paralytic and eight paralytic cases for the last reporting week brought the year's total to 111 non-paralytic and 78 of the crippling variety.

A breakdown by parishes for the last reporting week: Acadia, 2; Caddo, 2; Claiborne, 2; DeSoto, 2; Orleans, 2; Rapides, 3; and Avoyelles, Bossier, Calcasieu, East Baton Rouge, Lafayette, Ouachita, Richland, Terrebonne and Washington, one each. One out-of-state case was included in the report.

Halt To Firing Due To Follow Within 12 Hours

Panmunjom Site For Momentous Meeting

MUNSAN, Sunday, July 26 (AP)—Authoritative sources at this Allied truce camp said today the long-awaited Korean armistice will be signed tomorrow signaling an end to three years of devastating war and two years of troublesome negotiations.

The time of the signing was fixed probably at 10 a.m. (8 p.m. EST), Sunday.

The place will be the pagoda-like structure which the Communists have rushed to completion in the truce talk village of Panmunjom.

Within 12 hours of the signing.

Holohan Slaying Evidence Related By House Panel

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP) — House investigators, capping a story of wartime intrigue and murder, reported today there is sufficient evidence to indict two former American soldiers for the sensational Holohan slaying but said there is no legal way to prosecute them.

A 2-man House armed services subcommittee said a careful review of evidence "clearly reveals that probable cause has been established against Aldo Icardi and Carl Lo Dolce for the murder of Maj. William V. Holohan" in Italy in December, 1944.

John J. Courtney, subcommittee counsel, defined "probable cause" as a legal term meaning sufficient evidence for indictment. An indictment does not establish guilt, however, until all the facts have been weighed by a jury.

Icardi, of Pittsburgh, Pa., a lieutenant, and Lo Dolce, of Rochester, N. Y., a sergeant, parachuted with the New York major behind German lines in northern Italy in September, 1944.

Their secret mission, for the Office of Strategic Services, was to determine which of several Italian partisan groups, including Communists, should be aided with supplies.

Oil And Gas Well Drilling At Peak

TULSA, Okla., July 25 (AP) — A new all-time high in the number of oil and gas wells drilled in the United States will be reached by the end of the year, the Oil and Gas Journal forecast today.

The Journal set the figure at 47,873, a 4.5 per cent increase over the 45,821 wells drilled in 1952. The previous drilling record was established last year.

Two factors are stimulating the drilling rate, the magazine reported. One is the increasing demand for petroleum products and the other the greater availability of steel for drilling.

Wildcat drilling is expected to increase at a faster rate than development drilling. The Journal stated that 6,062 exploratory wells will be sunk the last half of 1953, bringing the year's total to 11,471.

Spotlight Will Swing From Reds To Truman's Administration

McCarthy To Shift Investigations

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) is planning to shift his investigating committee's emphasis soon from alleged Communism to charges of corruption under the Truman administration.

Faced with the necessity of operating with an all - Republican group, the Wisconsin senator is fertile field for investigation into what he terms corruption. He will try to make Democrats wince as they prepare for next year's congressional elections.

McCarthy apparently is being encouraged in this prospective new endeavor by Vice President Nixon and others who have about concluded that there is almost no hope of reconciliation with the three Democrats who walked off the inquiry group when Republicans voted to give the Wisconsin senator exclusive hiring and firing authority.

The Democrats who quit, Senators McClellan of Arkansas, Symington of Missouri and Jackson of Washington, have made it clear they have no intention of returning. Other Democrats have shunned appointment to the committee.

Nixon and other peacemakers apparently have given up attempts at reconciliation. They report that the Democrats won't stand for Roy Cohn, chief counsel, and David A. Schine, unpaid chief consultant for the committee.

Both have been criticized caustically by Senators Monroney (D-Okla) and Lehman (D-Lib-NY) and defended vigorously by McCarthy.

With the Democrats absent, some Republicans are hoping that McCarthy will be a little less active in tearing into existing government agencies, in battling with Eisenhower appointees and in demanding the right to investigate such organizations as the Central Intelligence Agency.

He has clashed openly with Allen Dulles, head of the CIA; Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith; Mutual Security Administrator Harold E. Stassen and others.

With Democrats on hand, the committee's activities on this score were officially bi-partisan. With only Republicans as members, such operations would be interpreted generally as a GOP attack on the GOP administration.

This is just what Nixon and others have been trying to avoid, in their difficult task of keeping peace between the White House and the Wisconsin senator. They have encouraged McCarthy to take on Democrats and he seems to relish the job.

McCarthy has become involved in a fight with southern Democrats that is definitely serious business. The Southerners have been around a long time, they have elephantine memories and where they consider their honor is impugned they are the most effective fighters in Congress.

In rapid succession, McCarthy has irked Sens. McClellan, Byrd of Virginia, Robertson of Virginia, Ellender of Louisiana, and Fulbright of Arkansas. Dixie senators usually hang together and pretty generally view an attack on one as an attack on all.

This means that McCarthy has lost much of the tacit southern Democratic support which in the past has given him some of the strength to override a palpable division among the Republicans over his activities. It could be decisive in some future test of whether the Senate cares to limit the field of investigation by his committee.

As a headline figure, McCarthy doesn't have to worry too much about some kinds of silent revenge that irked colleagues can take on a fellow member. It wouldn't necessarily be very damaging to him if a knife were inserted in an appropriations bill to slice out a pet Wisconsin project.

But enmity can take a thousand forms and there is no gainsaying the fact that McCarthy has been piling up much of it recently in the Senate.

Lost Relations Are Sought By Mrs. Frost

By: GLORIA KALIL
(Staff Writer)

Women are constantly losing earrings, fountain pens and all sorts of jewelry, but not many women have lost two sisters and a brother. Such is the case of Mrs. Willie Frost, formerly Grace Mae Robinson, residing on the Winnsboro Road.

Because of an estrangment of her parents, Mrs. Frost was taken away from her family by her mother, Mrs. Jane Robinson, formerly Jane Fielden, at a very young age. Mrs. Frost was told by her mother that her father had been an interne in Rosbud, Ill., and had died at the time of her birth. For almost 60 years, Mrs. Frost lived under the impression that she was an only child of her parents, John and Jane Robinson. Jane Robinson passed away in 1944 without revealing to her daughter the secret of her family.

In an effort to find the birth certificate of Mrs. Frost, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Allen Frost wrote to the Bureau of Vital Statistics in Washington and found no birth certificate for Grace Mae Robinson on record. Inquiring further in Rosbud, Ill. where Mrs. Frost was told that she was born, it was revealed that no residence of the Robinson's had ever been established there. In reply to a letter written to the American Medical Association for information of John Robinson, it came to light that he was not listed as being an interne.

Finally locating her mother's half brother, Mrs. Frost was told that Jane and John Robinson were the parents of four children, the oldest, Bert Robinson, who should be around 67, red headed and freckled if he is still living, then Mert Robinson, a girl who would be around 65 now, and Maude Robinson, another girl, light headed, who would be the age of 45.

Whether any of these are living and whether they married and had families is not known, as shortly after Jane Robinson left her husband John, and remarried, he moved and left not races of his intended whereabouts.

If anyone has any information about these people or know the whereabouts of Mrs. Frost's brother and two sisters they are asked to notify Mrs. Allen Frost, Route 1, Mangham, La.

Rev. John Haggai, Dynamic Leader, Ending Revival

Under the dynamic preaching of Rev. John Edmund Haggai of Chattanooga, Tenn., the First Baptist Church of West Monroe has been experiencing one of her greatest revivals. Crowds have been the largest and many decisions have been made. Rev. Haggai is the successful pastor of Woodland Ave. Baptist Church in Chattanooga and is considered one of the Baptist's finest young pastor-evangelists, according to Rev. Jaroy Weber, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Because of the tremendous interest in this revival, the high goal of 1300 has been set for Sunday school attendance Sunday. A promotion effort known as the "black sheep" attendance getter has met with marked success in that the greatest number of members have pledged to attend than ever before.

Revival services come to a close Sunday night with a dynamic message: "The Great Judgment." Morning services begin at 10:55, evening services at 7:45.

John L. Lewis May Give Break To Coal Groups

WASHINGTON, July 25 —UP— John L. Lewis appeared likely Saturday to give the hard - pressed soft coal industry a breathing spell before striking out for new wage increases for his miners.

The 73- year - old United Mine Workers' president is free to serve notice in one week that he wants to terminate the soft coal contract. He could call a strike 60 days later if his contract demands were not met.

But informants close to the situation cited factors which they said make it probable Lewis will maintain the status quo for awhile. These sources cautioned, however, it is often "fatal" to try to outguess Lewis.

Lewis, who is on an extended vacation in the midwest, typically has given no indication of his plans.

Local 4-H Girls Win Honors In La. Contests Held

Dorothy Lee Russell, of the Calhoun 4-H High School club, placed first in the state in food preparation in the Louisiana 4-H short course in Louisiana State University. She will be given an all expense paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago in December, where she will compete for national honors.

Ina Faye Owens received the highest rating in the poultry contests at the state short course. As a reward she will have a one-week all expense paid trip to New Orleans.

There were 1800 in the various contests and it is regarded that the showing made by the two Ouachita parish girls is something that is of much credit to themselves and to Ouachita parish leaders.

Army Relations Post Assigned Richard Chase

Appointment of Richard H. Chase of Providence, Rhode Island, former Army combat chaplain, to coordinate the relations of the Christian Science church with the armed services and the Veterans Administration, was announced Saturday.

Mr. Chase has been named manager of Christian Science activities for the armed services. The appointment was made by the Christian Science board of directors of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

His duties will include procurement of chaplains and civilian religious ministers at military installations and veterans hospitals, and liaison with the chaplains and supervision of the ministers furnished by The Mother Church for service throughout the United States and overseas. His office will be in Boston, headquarters of the denomination, but he will be in constant touch with officials at the Pentagon and elsewhere in Washington.

Activities of the denomination in connection with the armed services previously have been handled by a department known as Christian Science camp welfare activities. In addition to reorganization and expansion of the department, a revision was announced in the titles of Christian Science Workers taking part in the work at military posts and veterans hospitals.

Men and women who serve at these installations as Christian Science practitioners will henceforth be known as Christian Science ministers for the armed services. Previously they were known as Christian Science wartime ministers during World War II, and as Christian Science Workers since then.

245 Men And Women In Louisiana Over 100

By KAY RAY
(World Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON — A 100 - year panorama of life on the historic soil of Louisiana had been lived by 245 men and women at the time of the 1950 census, the Bureau of the Census of the U. S. Department of Commerce has revealed.

Among those who had celebrated their 100th birthday by the time of the census were doubtless many who had cleared homesteads along the bayous, planted cotton crops in virgin soil or been born in slavery.

One thing appeared certain — Louisiana's women are hardier than its men. The "old-timers" included 175 women and only 70 men.

In general, residents of the Pelican State are living longer. Their lengthening life-span is reflected in a comparison of census data. At the time of the 1940 census, there were only 226 persons who had achieved, or passed, the century mark in age. Even then men were at a premium, outranked by the fairer sex by 146 to 80.

One notable exception to the trend for longer lives is the fact that the number of male centenarians decreased by 10 between 1940 and 1950, while the number of women in the group rose from 146 to 175.

Of the centenarians, 40 were members of the white race, including five foreign-born men, and the remaining 205 were Negroes, statistics say.

In the "ninties" at the time of the 1950 census were 2,320 persons. Composing this category were 805 men and 1,515 women. When 1940 census - takers dropped around, there were only 1,627 persons who had reached the ninties. As could be expected, the ladies were in the majority with 995 as compared with 632 men.

Louisiana men start out, at least, inthe majority. At the time of the 1950 census the state had 67,005 babies under one year of age. This number included 33,985 boys and 33,020 girls.

The male sex was in the majority until the seven-year age group was reached. Then the girls surged ahead to outnumber the boys 28,240 to 27,945. However, from the ages of eight through 14 the boys were in the majority. But at the 15-year level, the girls regained the lead to keep it up to the 55-year level. In that age group, Louisiana had 11,400 men compared to 11,160 women.

From the 56-year level through the 63-year level men were again in the minority. They were in the majority again at 64 with 7,940 men compared to 7,820 women, but that was their final year in the lead.

The firmest basis for the statement that residents of the state are living longer is the rise of the median age from 25.5 years in 1940 to 26.6 years in 1950. Here again the women outdid the men. The median age for women in 1950 was 27 years or an increase of 1.4 years since 1940 when the median was 25.6 yers. Median age for men in 1950 was 26.1 years, or only a .6 year increase over the 1940 median of 25.5 years.

Here's Barbecued Shrimp As It's Done In Biloxi

(Chief Skilleteer)

A smash hit! It's Barbecued Shrimp as they do it in Biloxi. L. F. Janin, Jr., New Orleans Times-Picayune Chapter, sent us this one, and we shall be forever grateful. He uses the largest shrimp he can find, peels and cleans them while raw, and then barbecues them on an aluminum wire screen placed on his barbecue grill. We placed the shrimp about five inches above a good hot bed of coals.

He mixes his sauce with chili sauce as a base, adding vinegar, catsup, Louisiana hot sauce, and lemon juice. He says, "I make my sauce starting with the base adding the above sauces until it tastes right. Take the sauce and baste the shrimp with a small brush until they are done, usually three to five minutes depending on size of shrimp."

We worked up a sauce to give you the proportions we liked, using the following:

1 bottle chili sauce.
1 cup catsup.
3 tablespoons lemon juice.
2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar.
1 teaspoon Evangeline hot sauce.
2 teaspoons salt.
½ teaspoon garlic salt.
1 tablespoon brown sugar.
½ cup beer, which we tossed in as a bit of whimsy—and not a bad idea, either. But mix your sauce to suit yourself, and serve the delectable morsels up with a tossed green salad. This you'll like.

Anthony F. Cyzenski of the Worchester (Mass.) Gazette Chapter makes delicious corn sticks, and they make a fine companion for the barbecued shrimp.

1 egg yolk, slightly beaten.
1-3 cup sweet milk.
1 tablespoon sugar.
¾ teaspoon salt.
1 tablespoon melted shortening.
½ cup all purpose flour.
1-3 cup fine corn meal.
1¼ teaspoons double action baking powder.

Measure and sift dry ingredients into a bowl. Blend egg and milk and stir into the dry mixture, and add the melted shortening. Stir only enough to blend well. Divide the batter evenly among the forms in a well greased, hot corn stick mold. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 minutes or until done. Makes six large sticks.

Porter F. Bird, Buffalo Courier & Express Chapter, has sent us his method of baking fish in clay. Joe, his Indian guide, taught him this many years ago, and we agree with him that it is a great idea. The proportions are for a 14-15 pound fish. His instructions follow:

Cut off head as close as possible and enlarge hole around the vertical fin, and clean as usual. Sew up belly of fish and stuff with six large potatoes, partly boiled and diced, two cans tomatoes, one minced onion, two teaspoons salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper all mixed together. Break up ½ loaf of bread and stuff in, followed by three strips of bacon.

We varied the procedure by leaving the head on, mixing the stuffing, lining the interior of the fish with several strips of bacon, then stuffing the fish, and then sewing up the belly. It may be tied with string if you haven't means for doing the sewing.

We rubbed the fish in soft clay or mud, and when it had dried a little, applied about 1½ inches of clay over the entire fish, and let it dry about 15 minutes in the heat of the fire.

Prepare fire of coals in a pit or on rock, then remove coals and place fish on the hot rock or in the pit, cover with coals, and for three hours, replenishing fire as needed. When you crack off the dried mud, the scales come with it, leaving a regal feast. Adjust cooking time and quantity of stuffing for smaller or larger fish.

Send your favorite recipe and a stamped, addressed envelope to Morning World and become a life member of The Skillet Club, and we'll send you a membership card to prove it.

About four times as much heat is required to raise the temperature of water one degree as is needed to warm the same weight of air a similar amount.

Negro Woman Stabbed In Fight At Bar

Hessie Mae Smith, 24, Negro, was stabbed five times and received two lacerations of the right eye when she was leaving Ross's Cocktail Bar, located at 14th Street and Washington late Friday night.

She was at Ross's Bar with another Negro, Willie James Kelly, who was knocked unconscious when he attempted to investigate who was throwing things at his automobile. Kelly stated that while he was in the cocktail bar, someone stepped on his foot, and when Kelly asked the man to remove his foot, there was a few words between them but no one was mad.

When Kelly, his wife, and Hessie Mae Smith attempted to leave their automobile was being bombarded with different objects. It was at that time that both Kelly and Smith received the injuries. Both were taken to the Charity Hospital. Kelly was treated and released.

What Has Man Produced In Comparison

Have you ever stood on the levee about five or six in the afternoon in late summer and watched the sunset, or the beginning of sunset? Did you note the beautiful blue sky, an artist's dream, a dream beyond reach of mere paint and imagination? The clouds which are wispy and fleecy white seem to float by, blending their beauty with the golden rays of the setting sun, forming a pink halo where gold meets blue.

Did you see the trees which scant minutes ago seemed tired, beaten by the fierce summer heat? Did you notice how they took on a purple cast, a sight incomparable with anything produced by man? These trees, you see, are not products of man.

Have you ever stood on the seashore and watched the breakers roll in, capped by a white no painter can hope to match? Have you seen the power, and the majesty of the seas and the winds? Did you ever stand on a mountain top viewing the surrounding countryside in all its glorious beauty? Were you ever in the middle of a hurricane or a tornado and watched the powerful hand of nature, many times more powerful than anything mere man can produce, sweep everything before it?

Certainly, you have seen one or more of the many wonders of nature, and the word "see," does not just mean to give nature a fleeting glance, but to take notice of it, careful notice. God is all around you. He is near you at all times. You have only to open your eyes to see His works.

Man has indeed produced great spectacles. There is the George Washington Bridge. There is the Empire State Building. There are the great cities, the wonders of medicine, the wonders of the mechanical age, but nature has them all bested by many lengths.

What is the George Washington Bridge compared with Natural Bridge? Which will be there the longest, which was there first? What is the Empire State Building compared with Mount Everest? What are the great cities which in one earthquake, can be destroyed. What are the wonders of medicine which were put there by God to begin with, but only "discovered" by man?

Penicillin was used long before it was discovered. Ancient seamen used mold on wounds and found great curative powers in that product of nature. What are the wonders of the mechanical age which are even at this moment being used to destroy man? Look around you. Did man produce the earth? Did man produce the stars and the heavens above? Did man originate man?

Many times, many men believe their power is paramount over anything on the face of the earth. Well, that may be, but these power minded people need only look to the evening sky and see the twinkling stars to see God and to know that no matter how much earthly power they may possess, it is scant beside that of His works of incomparable magnitude.

There was once a powerful figure who stood on his balcony in the evening with his wife. He came to believe he had turned against his God. As they stood there in the early hours of darkness and wondered at the landscape unfolding before their eyes, she said to her husband, "Look at the heavens, aren't they beautiful?" He answered, "Yes, they are, look at them now because you will not see them later."

Sometimes, when you are low on the world, and on your fellow man, go out in your yard, or on the levee or in the fields. Pick up a clump of dirt. That's the good earth.

Part of it is yours to use while you're here. God made it just as He made you. As long as you have your mind, your facilities or most of them, you have nothing to worry about. When times get bad, there is still that good earth and it will provide for you as long as you are willing to give it some help. It has provided for millions on millions of people, animals, birds and other creatures of nature before you.

Because you have learned to husband and to harness that nature to some infinite degree, does not mean that you are its master.

Man is put here for only a short stay. What he does during this stay will determine his future as a soul. Life is to some degree, a training ground for your soul. It is a test, a high seat of learning and there are many things which can be learned if you will only try. The great difference between man and the other creatures is man's ability to wonder, to ask the question, "why." This ability is not given to lower species of animals.

Man's course is marked out as on a printed map. God marked it out and provided the right road to the future. Man is but an implement in that road's construction. At this point in history, construction has all but been halted as man attempts with all the energy in his puny heart, to destroy himself.

What right has any man to take another man's life in battle? What right has man to build what he considers the most powerful weapon when even a hydrogen bomb is but a small flame against the fire of a hurricane or a tornado or earthquake?

You, and all of God's creatures hold on to this earth which speeds through the space and through the ages with force not even imaginable by the mere brain of man. The hold you have on the face of this earth is determined by the most delicate of balances.

Did man form those balances?

When you think you are far superior to your fellow man, and are "a natural born leader destined to rule the wills of other men," go outside and look around you.

How big are you?

What have you, or any other of your fellow men done in comparison with the wonderous works of God?

A Tribute To A Father And A Son

For many years, this community, and this section of the state has known and come to respect Ben Dawkins. The people respected his fairness, and his impartiality as a judge of the actions of other men. Judge Dawkins has for years been a respected figure among his associates on the Federal bench. He has announced his retirement and every citizen who believes in fair play will be sorry to see him go.

All is however, not lost, as his son, Ben Dawkins, Jr., a familar figure to many, many local citizens, takes his father's place on the Federal Court. President Eisenhower has nominated him to succeed his father firmly believing that he has the qualifications to hold this great and important job.

Ben, Jr., was not nominated simply because his dad was the Judge, he was nominated on his own merits as a member of the legal profession and on his ability to be fair and impartial.

In the life of every father, there comes a moment when he is highly proud of his boy. Surely, this moment has come to Judge Dawkins who sees his son entrusted with so great a responsibility in the future years to come. Surely he will look back over his long years of good work and hard efforts and realize that in his son's nomination, he has performed a job well done.

A Judge's job is not an easy one. You see, he is not an inquisitor, ready to condemn his fellow citizens, he is the impartial mentor of justice representing the federal government's authority. That's where you come in. You are the Federal Government and Judge Dawkins and his many associates on the Courts are your associates in the Government, there to see that each person receives a fair and impartial trial before the bar of justice.

Ben Jr., has a long road ahead of him. He has a glorious road behind him. American Courts are the fairest in the world. That's a huge classification and a tremendous responsibility to uphold. When something happens in one court, when there is a miscarriage of justice in one court, that puts a bad light on all of the court systems of this nation. So, you can easily see the importance of this job ahead and the one behind.

One Ben Dawkins succeeds another. This Community is proud of its father and son team which has done in the past and will do such an important job in the future. The Federal Court system has been favored by Judge Dawkins senior and now, has been fortunate in the appointment of Judge Dawkins, Junior.

Judge Dawkins to Judge Dawkins: Tribute to a father and a son.

Congressman Passman And Foreign Aid

It was said by the "old man of Communism," Lenin, that America would one day, spend itself to death. That is coming true, and it does more so with each hour which speeds by. Millions and millions have been poured down the European "drain pipe" and all this nation receives in the form of thanks and appreciation is a twelve fold increase in trade to Red China and the other Communist nations by the British in particular and the rest of the Europeans in general.

The American people have taxed themselves into a state of insecurity to give needed help to these people who use this well meant help not to aid themselves, but to help their enemies and the enemies of this nation.

Last week, there was a warning spoken with emphasis in the House of Representatives. It was voiced by Otto E. Passman, the Congressman from this district. He voiced the assumption that if the United States continues spending as it has done in the recent past, it will spend itself to death. He was correct, if the plans of the Communists and the Marxists can be used as a criteria.

For his speech, the Congressman will be damned and denounced by all sources to the left, by all "one worlders" and internationalists and by all the Communists who have high hopes of seeing this nation perish of its own follies.

In the past, this newspaper has had some differences with the Congressman. It has taken issue with him when it believed he was wrong, but it has applauded him when he was right. This is the duty of the press and it is believed that the first to agree with this would be the Congressman himself. There may be times in the future when there will be other differences. However, the present policy of the Congressman is the issue at stake and it is felt that Congressman Passman has done a service to his district, state and his nation by his speech.

There will be many of his associates in the House and in the Senate who will violently disagree with him. He was one of a very small minority of Democrats who braved the storm and voted for the benefit of the entire nation.

America must stop these giveaway programs. Never before in history has the national debt been so high and never before has the individual American been forced to pay for a load which he should not have to pay and for which he receives no appreciation, rather, is envied and "used."

The United States cannot purchase friends and allies in any world market place. Humans cannot buy friends and neither can nations. Unfortunately, the philosophy of America's sponsoring WPA type programs all over the world has cost this nation a great many former friends. Where the money was actually needed, frequently, it was not sent. Instead, it was sent to nations who have now built their industries to the point where they not only can best this nation in some markets, but actually, have hurt the American workingman who has had to pay "through the teeth" to put these Europeans on their feet again.

It is fully realized that many nations as yet cannot stand on their own feet against the Communist tyranny, but there are others which not only are standing on their feet, but which are using America's cash against Americans. This must stop and the Congress is exactly where it will be stopped.

When a bank lends cash, it demands and requires references and credit ratings. Why is not the very same principle used in the foreign lending area? What kind of reference could the Soviet Union give when every past agreement has been ripped to shreds? What kind of credit have the Eastern European Communist nations who have also received aid? What about the French? They won't even collect taxes to start helping themselves, much less, paying off their debt. What about the British? The American people help them keep alive a Socialist government which runs that nation in debt over its ears and also builds up an industry to trade with the Communist enemy.

European credit has fallen to a new, all time low.

Congressman Passman's speech in all probability, voices the feelings of many an American.

Public Forum—Voice Of All The People

State of La.
Baton Rouge, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Your editorial of July 17th entitled "The Special Session" was a timely reminder to many people as to the complexity of the process of government in Louisiana. As things are, it seems imperative that every governor call the legislature into special session during off years to meet situations that cannot be foreseen a year ahead. You have rendered a service in noting that if this is to be changed, legislative action will be required.

The recent special session had before it a program to meet needs that have arisen in the past year. The proposals were very carefully considered and thoroughly debated by the legislators. Their overwhelming approval is clear evidence that the need for action was understood.

Best regards.

ROBERT F. KENNON,
Governor of Louisiana

City And Farm Groups—"Better Understanding"

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I have read with great interest and some concern the controversy on the farmer and the farm programs in the columns of your Public Forum. My modesty dictates that I refrain from entering the discussion but my pride in our efficient agricultural plant forces me to write a few words in its defense.

As our population shifts in greater proportion to cities as it has rapidly done in the last two decades, it seems to me that there is an urgent necessity that farm people try aggressively to help city people to understand better the farmers' problems. It is also very important that urban people make a greater effort to become better informed on these problems. City dwellers have a big stake in the farm plant. Farmers, aside from producing the food and fiber for a growing city population, are one of the best customer groups of manufactured items.

I am sure that not too many of us city dwellers feel as antagonistic to farmers as does "Jaypee" the author of two recent letters in the columns of your public forum. I am also well aware that there is a growing misunderstanding of the farm problem on the part of the townsfolk.

Surely not many of us think that the farmer is a sloven individual whose major interest is to sit in the shade of a tree and wait for the government to hock him out. Production records completely exonerates the farmer from this charge. Since I was a lad on the farm forty years ago, sixty million people have been added to our total population. All the increase has been in non-farm population. In 1910, thirty-three million rural people were producing the agricultural needs for ninety million people. Today, of the twenty-four million rural population, only sixteen million actually produce and they supply abundantly the needs of one hundred and fifty million Americans and produce a tremendous quantity of food for export. Farm output per man has more than tripled in that period. These advances have been made possible through improved technique in such things as improved varieties, wiser and greater use of fertilizers and by improved machinery and equipment, coupled with wise application of their use.

We city dwellers are naturally interested in cheap food. But more important than cheap food is that we do eat. I am interested in eating ten years, yes perhaps even thirty years from now. I know that to do this a healthy agricultural plant with well conserved soil will be needed.

After all, costs are a relative matter. Cheap food in 1933 didn't do me and my family a lot of good economically because as a school teacher I went more than six months without receiving a pay check. At the time in my own life when food was its cheapest I could not buy it because the general economy was wrecked. Economists blame that condition largely on a completely bankrupt agricultural plant.

To anyone who will look carefully at the whole record, two facts are clear. First, prices of food and other agricultural commodities are not out of line with national individual income and prices of all other things including labor and services. Second, farm income is actually lagging behind in price increases. Most farm commodities are selling below parity and most products are bringing farmers less today than they did four years ago.

The farm economy cannot remain strong with prices greatly below a fair parity with wages and industrial prices. To achieve this the government has formulated a number of policies and programs. Admittedly some of these have been unsound but they need to be strengthened, not destroyed.

The question of subsidies is a controversial as well as a complicated one. I do not like subsidies nor have I known many farmers who like them in principal.

Next to the defense of the nation, the development of beneficient economic policies has been the chief concern of the United States government. Here are some examples of government help to certain groups: subsidies to the shipping industry which gets special tax concessions; subsidies to airlines to aid in expansion; help to states in highway construction; carrying newspapers and magazines in the mail at less than cost; loans and payments to cities for low cost housing; assistance to more than 2,700,000 needy old people; free or below cost school lunches; tariffs to protect prices of manufactured items against importation of cheap foreign goods and many more that space will not allow.

Will Rogers once said "We are all ignorant. We are simply ignorant about different things." I do not present myself as an expert on the subject of farm programs, but since my entire professional life has been spent very close to the farm scene, I can see an increasing need for a better understanding between the city and farm groups of each others problems. The farm programs must benefit all of us or they will prove a disaster for all of us. I trust that our farm leaders will step up their programs of keeping us city slickers better informed and I also trust that we in the city can be fair and tolerant of our country cousins as they continue to build the greatest and most efficient agricultural plant ever known to civilization.

Richland Jamboree To Denounce Jaypee

Rayville, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I have read and enjoyed your papers since 1924, I will have to admit I am having more fun now, since Jaypee and I started this debate. This is the answer to Jaypee's second letter appearing in your informative paper, Sunday, July 19 — The farmers in Richland parish are having a Jamboree and backing me up!! Thanks again for letting us speak.

Dear Jaypee,

Whether I am an osteopath or not, the fact remains; you are the one who pulled the first boner!!

I admit I wrote a rather childish letter, but I was answering one of childish form — now that you have improved — I too shall endeavor to speak, through this medium, on a higher plane—

I am sure you are a very nice person, though sorely misinformed on the subsidy program — I cast my lot with the farmers, because they are taken for granted and usually just taken; not that they are ignorant, but, Jaypee when you operate a farm you must depend on God for climatic conditions first, then you fight insects, then you must find a market, if you raise perishables, it must be a quick market or you lose your entire investment. When the government issues a farm subsidy it usually benefits you, the city slicker, too for it is a form of better farms for tomorrow for better and more farm products to come. We all need escape mechanisms to release pent up emotions, you happen to harbor one against the farm program —certainly you can find loop holes in any type of aid and tax money expenditure but someone has to champion the cause of the farmer, and America, if you please, is behind the boys who feed us, clothe us and control us, no matter what your occupation.

I would really like to meet you, ut supra, I believe you to be a very nice person, your milk of human kindness has just probably curdled in your veins and you are angry for paying taxes, we pay much but we have more, much more than any other nation. Oh yes Jaypee, I mean neither a kyphosis, scoliosis, or lordosis. I mean the complete absence of the spine!!

You boldly state that you are against subsidies of all forms. Therefore you don't believe in the democratic way of life, the Heart Fund, the Red Cross, the March of Dimes, foreign aid, missionaries, all of these operate on subsidies.

Just a few weeks ago a drouth was predicted for our area. Today the middles have water standing in them. Now the thinking farmer bought irrigation pipes, drilled a well, bought a pump, and studied the report of some city slicker who yelled drouth. The poor farmer who didn't listen to the wails of this Jaypian individual has as much water on his crop as the thinker. I am not knocking the use of piped irrigation. It is a very important component to the answer of consistently having a good crop. What I am illustrating is the fact that studying the market, studying chemicals of the soil and what have you, doesn't always insure you against too much rain, too little rain, boll weevils, and thousands of other snares on making or losing a crop — of anything. You're still in business with God when you plant any seed!

I do apologize for my mauvais gout in using the word "stink," so let me say it just smelled to high heaven — society page, funny page or farmer's page.

No, mon ami, I do not object to a nom de plume — if it's large enough for you to hide behind, stay there.

Good evening to you, too!

"We Want The Truth"

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I am writing this out of pure disgust-disgust of what I read in your paper and the feeling that all was not told. If what was in the News-Star, July 22, was true, then I can't help feeling that more is there, but not told.

Perhaps you can't put all of it in the paper, and maybe that is best for all concerned. But there are those of us who want to know the truth regardless of who is hurt or who is helped.

If the Monroe police department is torn apart as the article read, then we, citizens of Monroe, would like to know who and-or what tore them apart. If the person who wrote that article wanted to write for us, the readers of the News-Star, then why didn't he (or she) tell us everything?

With all the talk of confusion and bickering within the bus department, another city department, it is more important than ever that the citizens be given both sides of all of these fusses. In the last place, it is up to us citizens to see that the city hall occupants are public "servants" instead of public "dictators."

DISGUSTED.

P. S. — Please do not print my name as I am in a precarious position at this time.

"Mama And The Outlaw"

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World.

I am one of the lucky few who has had the pleasure and privilege of reading "Mama and The Outlaw" while it was in manuscript form and I felt honor bound to tell the people of the Twin Cities that they truly have a treat in store for them.

This novel, written by Mrs. Herschel A. Gentry is one of the most moving, romantic, and lovely stories I have ever read and I have read hundreds of novels. Mrs. Gentry brings her characters to life. One actually seems to live the part. While I was reading "Mama and The Outlaw" I found myself laughing, then filled with excitement and at other times I was crying. That is just the effect that the story has on the reader — they become a part of the book.

I predict a great popularity for t's interesting novel and it is one of the very few clean novels and that goes to prove that a novel need not be filthy and have subtle meanings to be enjoyed. I dare anyone to start reading this exciting book and then try to put it down. You will all but eat with the novel in your hands.

Please have pictures and a series of articles run in your paper about our own Mrs. Gentry. If this were a novelist from New York or California everyone would be trying to get pictures and autographs etc. So let's don't let our home town talent go unpraised.

Rightful Benefits Of Capital And Labor

Grayson, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The editorial July 13 spreads out wide on the page informing us that this country is not governed by the people but by representatives elected by the people. With this universally accepted information you say: "This country is no democracy, nor can it ever be." To clarify this observation you go on: "The word democracy stems from the Greek DEMOS and KRATOS meaning the people's authority."

If the Representatives who shape the policies of this government are elected by the people is this not government by the authority of the people? If it is government by the authority of the people is it not DEMOCRACY according to your Greek? Please watch your definitions a little closer and fit them into your reasoning a bit better.

Your reference to Jefferson and Hamilton is not very well done. Jefferson was elected President on the Republican ticket and Hamilton was a Federalist. Names mean but little. Issues distinguish political parties and leaders. Hamilton believed that the government should be directed by the capitalists. Jefferson believed the people should rule. The middle class and the poor were afraid of Hamilton lest they be submerged beneath an hierarchy of the moneyed class. Jefferson has top spot in United States history as defender of the people against exploitation by the privileged few. The debate goes on as we search for some way by which every man can enjoy his rightful share of the benefits of capital and labor as the two work together for the production of wealth.

JIM CHRISTIAN.

Someone Must Till The Soil

Wisner, La.

Editor, Morning World:

This is a reply to Mr. Jaypee's second letter. I think he should have kept his paper with all of our letters in it so he could have used them for reference. Apparently, he has forgotten what he read when he said no one mentioned parity —only their hardships and trials. He is so wrong as we gave him several reasons for parity. The mere fact that the farmer works so hard and gets so little for his produce (notice, not just cotton) is reason enough for the government to try to help him get his equal share of profits. Why is it, Mr. Jaypee, that you are so jealous? Are you afraid the farmer will get ahead of you? If you get out of a job or get too old to work at your public job you can draw unemployment compensation or Social Security. That's as much relief as parity is. You won't ever hear the farmer kicking because someone is drawing unemployment or social security because he isn't jealous of his fellow man. He wants everyone to live and do well. Of course, you have to pay a little to be able to get this social security but it is not enough to miss. You may consider this not pertaining to the question, but I'm sure glad you aren't at the head of our government as you would probably have all of the farmers deported.

What better reason can you have for parity than that the farmer earns it and that he gets so little for all he raises. The government only pays parity to try to encourage the farmer to stay where he is because they realize someone must till the soil if America is to survive. Let us all migrate to the city to "earn" our keep and let's see what happens to supply and demand.

Yes, parity really runs into big money. This year my parity check amounted to $9.00. You should see all of the wonderful things I could buy with that. And Mr. Jaypee, I wish you would tell me when the "city slicker" started paying all of the taxes and the farmer none. Maybe I've been paying hard earned money that I wasn't supposed to pay, and if I choose to get up at 3:30 a. m. that is my business. It doesn't prove I'm crazy. Maybe I have a lot to do. And if someone else gets up at 5:00 a. m. that certainly doesn't prove they're lazy. You may never get up at 5:00 a .m. except to go fishing but you would never say you are lazy.

And we would like to know what crop you speak of that doesn't call for rain and the bugs won't eat up. I'd love to try a little of it.

You say you aren't speaking of the old time farmer, only the present farmer. They are the same yesterday and today. They are a honest living. Find out the price the farmer gets for anything he sells and then the price you pay for it. You will see someone beside the farmer is getting the profit and causing the price to rise. You have a very selfish attitude if you want everything cheap for you to buy and nothing for the farmer. I'm very glad few in the city feel as you do. I think that is part of what is wrong with the world today.

As for the farmer with his big family, he has just as much with this size family as the one with the small one.

You say a farmer should only plant what he himself can work. Suppose the business man only had the size business he could handle by himself. It's all the same.

Maybe you'll say I get off the subject. If so, you did too. I can answer every letter you can write as long as my $9.00 parity check can pay for postage. One thing the government has equalized is postage rates. I can mail a letter for 3 cents the same as you. Why don't you have something done about that since you pay the taxes and I don't?

THE DISGUSTED FARMER.

Why Not God Always?

WHY do we turn our thoughts to God . . . In sickness and distress . . . And seldom give our gratitude . . . In time of happiness? . . . When things go wrong and worries mount . . . Or there is tragedy . . . We pray to God sincerely and . . . In all humility . . . On bended knee we beg Him for . . . Relief from storm and strife . . . And pray that He will grant us just . . . Another day of life . . . But when we get along all right . . . And we have time to laugh . . . Our God is just a bible and . . . Another paragraph . . . How thoughtless and forgetful and . . . Ungrateful can we be . . . To God—our very source of life . . . And our eternity?

Franklin Teacher Wins State-Wide Essay Contest

WINNSBORO, July 25 (Special) An essay written by Mrs. Elizabeth R. Tillotson, language-arts instructor at Winnsboro High School, won first place in Louisiana in a nationwide contest sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary and has been sent to the organization's national headquarters for final judging.

The national winner will be notified by telegram on or before August 10, and will be awarded $500 in cash and an all-expense trip to the American Legion auxiliary national convention in St. Louis, Mo.

The contest was opened to fully certified teachers in accredited grade or high schools who had at least five full years of teaching, and the essays submitted by the contestants were entitled, "Why I Teach."

The Louisiana state prize winner written by Mrs. Tillotson, who has been a classroom teacher for 14 years, is as follows:

"Having been a class - room teacher for fourteen years, frequently I am asked by former pupils and old friends, 'Are you still teaching?' And it seems to me that I detect a faint note of incredulity and derision in the accent that they put on the word, 'still.'

"Yes, I'm still teaching! Though subject matter in the field of language arts remains practically changeless, the ever - changing class rolls of young people offer stimuli that make each child, each day, each year so wonderfully different. For these are not machines to be set mechanically at a certain speed and then operated by printed, fail-proof directions. Here is human clay with all its limitations—and its possibilities. What a challenge for the builder!

"And in building where is the time for boredom? In this wayward teen-ager the teacher sees her opportunity to salvage human driftwood. In this earnest student with his questioning mind she envisions the doctor, the farmer, minister or architect of tomorrow. What other field offers such limitless materials for building?

"Bored with teaching, year in and year out? Boredom isn't possible for the teacher who realizes she is the most effective salesman that Democracy has. In class-room settings she opens the door to new worlds as her boys and girls become cognizant of the dignity of mankind, created in God's own image. She has her courage and faith in America's true greatness re-newed each time their faces glow with price in learning their nation's history. She leaves to others the quest of fame and fortune and finds her bit of immortality in knowing that here in America's youth is the only possible answer to the question, "Can Democracy survive?"

For if you believe in Democracy, then you MUST believe in American youth — and in "Operation Blackboard!"

Henry Clay of Shreveport, departmental commander, said in his annual report that this was the second year in which the Legion in Louisiana had reached an all-time high in membership with 2,405 more members than last year for a record of 48,445.

Four resolutions, offered by Percy Lemoine of Alexandria, chairman of the rehabilitation committee, were accepted unanimously.

The call for continuation of statewide educational clinics on rehabilitation begun this year by Lemoine; appointment of a liaison committee to work with medical and dental associations on problems regarding hospitalization of veterans; endorsement of the rehabilitation program, and study with the governor's office and the Department of Institutions to determine if a $30 fee charged by the state to veterans entering mental institutions is necessary.

Journalism Students Tour Printing Shop

Northeast State students in Journalism 150 last week had another lesson in seeing printing in the process.

Visiting the Quality Printing Company of West Monroe, the group experienced a conducted tour of the plant.

This practical phase of training is being emphasized in a course which was added this summer to the journalism and English curricula. It is designed primarily for teachers who expect to direct school newspapers, yearbooks, or publicity.

Last week's project gave opportunity for students to observe numerous machines and publication jobs in operation.

Directed by Jack Reighney, one of the owners of the company, the class and their instructor, Mrs Annie Lee West Stahl, followed a printing order as it traveled from the typed copy to its run on a big press. They watched the linotype operator, the setting of type by hand and machine, the make-up of pages of a city directory, and sections of the book coming off the press.

"Then they observed the pages being mechanically folded and put into units in preparation for machine stitching which was explained.

Compiling the sections, a process requiring expert handling, was followed by a demonstration of binding.

Employing color in publications was illustrated in both single and combination color processes. Considering plastic, zinc and copper, advice given by Reighney on their use for cuts in school publicity played a part in the morning visit.

Class instruction in this journalism-English course has included lectures by experts in publication fields and inspection tours. Discussions have pertained to both letter press and lithography in publications, and an extensive tour has been made of the News-Star—World plant, including the photo-engraving department.

Louisiana 4-Lane Highway Nearing Record In Length

BATON ROUGE, Juy 25 (AP)—By the end of the year, Louisiana will have the longest toll-free four-lane highway in the United States, a 124-mile stretch between New Orleans and Krotz Springs, George Covert, director of the State Highway Department, said today.

"Considerable strides have been made in the past few months toward completion of the Airline Highway as a four-lane divided thoroughfare," Covert said, estimating the project would be finished "probably late in 1954."

The Airline is the name given to U. S. 61 between New Orleans and Baton Rouge, and U. S. 190 west from Baton Rouge to Krotz Springs.

As we were rushing to keep an appointment, we were peremptorily hailed by an aged man here, who propounded a question. He said he had raised two sons, educated them well and that one is in business for himself in a large Texas city and the other is in Kansas City where he is earning $100 a week.

"But, do you think my boys care for their old dad? They do not! One of them will not even send me a postal card on my birthday and at Christmas. He has cut me cold! What shall I do about it?"

We informed him that we are not Dorothy Dix, and that this source might be able to give an answer.

Walter "Sonny" Bennett, Jr., popular and deeply devoted to his church, will preach at both services morning and evening at Central Baptist today. He is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and will prepare for the ministry at Wheaton College, Illinois. His friends see a bright and highly successful future for him.

From the blue Atlantic as the Greek liner was nearing Portugal, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kokinos, prominent Monroyans, mailed a postal to "Mr. Brisbane," which was promptly handed to Jes' Ramblin'. (Wonder if he will ever live down the similarity of names?)

The message stated that all was beautiful and that a fine trip was being enjoyed. They sent their love to all their friends here.

O. O. Hathorn is far richer than we had imagined. We told of the dutiful son he has in Postmaster Woodrow Hathorn, but that was only half the story. All this time, unknown to us, he has a second son, Herbert Hathorn, of whom he is quite justly proud for he makes his home with this son. We are quite sorry we failed to recognize the son number two. Our sincere apologies!

Gary Cooper Slated For Surgery Soon

BIARRITZ, France, July 25 — UP—Lanky American film actor Gary Cooper confirmed Saturday a prominent American surgeon plans to come to France to operate on him soon.

Cooper said the operation will be for the relief of "a hernia ailment."

It was reported from New Orleans, Friday Dr. Alton Ochsner, of the famed Ochsner Clinic, would make a trans-Atlantic trip to treat Cooper.

Ochsner said he would leave within two weeks. He performed a hernia operation on Cooper in New Orleans in March, 1952.

Army, Boll Worm Moths Observed In Ouachita

Ouachita Parish County Agent J. J. Joyce, Jr. yesterday reported the discovery of boll worms and army worm moths in several fields in at least two sections of Ouachita Parish.

Joyce said he did not view the presence of the moths with alarm but said he "would like to urge farmers to keep a close observation in order to prevent possible serious damage."

A field in the southern end of the parish and some in the Calhoun area were reported infested. Eggs were present in all fields found to be infested with the moth, Joyce said.

A check in the north end of the parish did not reveal infestation, Joyce said. "However, no farmer should neglect the possibility of infestation at any time," the farm agent warned.

Joyce said fields found to be infested last week would be revisited Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week to "check developments."

The boll worm can best be controlled, Joyce said, shortly after the pest hatches out. He declared the army worm to be "not much of a problem if proper poisoning practices are followed."

Cotton fields, in most cases, are now at a stage when the most serious damage could be inflicted in the event of major assaults from army worms and boll worms, according to Joyce.

3,082 Attended Play Grounds Here Last Week

A total of 3,082 children attended the eleven play grounds in Monroe during the past week, according to a weekly report from the recreation headquarters. Of this number 1,286 were white and 1,796 colored.

Throughout the week all playgrounds held a ping pong tournament and a doll and carriage contest. Much interest was shown for all activities in spite of the rain that has fallen this week.

Winners on the play grounds were:

Sherrouse: Linda Johnson, Rose Mary Upshaw, Susan Ferguson, Sage Redding, Alyce Smith, Mary Murphy, Beth Howard, Janet Walters, Petey Smith, Patricia Howard and Julius Haddad.

Barkdale Faulk: Noah Mullins, Buddy Embanato, James Bryant, Margaret Ann Lewis.

Bryants Addition: Wanda Faye Williams, Augustine Vaughn, Shirley Ann Knight, Lois Lee Johnson, Evelyn Rankins and Lerdy Loyd.

All playgrounds this week will have a turtle race. Each playground will also crown a king and queen of the playground.

Boating, Skiing Exhibition Today

The newly formed Monroe Boat Club will hold a water boating and skiing show on the Ouachita river beginning at 4 p.m. today in the area behind Howard Griffin's. This is the first public demonstration to be presented in Monroe and is open to the general public.

The exhibition will include such acts as ramp jumping, double and triple skiing, surf board riding, "jockeying" in boats in motion and a clown act on water. Drivers in the boats will be Howard Griffin, Don Williams and Sid Simmons. Participants will also include Jack Smith, June Woods, Clyde Albritton, Chuck Welch, Bonnie Albritton, Lillian Gene Well, Tom King, Jr., and John Lacy.

The objective of the Monroe boat club is to promote the boating on the Ouachita river and to interest the general public in this form of entertainment.

Officers for the club are John Lacy, commodore, H. Shepart, vice-commodore, and Bob Newcomer, secretary-treasurer. The board of directors includes Howard Griffin, W. M. Yates, Jasper Haddad, Louis Well, Tom King, Garland Shell, Don Williams and Gene Knight. Simmons is activity director, while Yates has charge of the water-front safety.

Signing Of

the guns must be stilled.

Within 72 hours, troops of the Chinese and Korean Reds on one side, and fighting men of South Korea and 16 Allied nations on the other, must fall back 1¼ miles from a cease-fire line running across the Korean peninsula.

That act of withdrawal will create a demilitarized or buffer zone 2½ miles wide across Korea.

On each side of that zone, tens of thousands of soldiers will dig in and wait while the machinery of supervising the armistice and exchanging prisoners of war grinds out the tasks agreed upon in months of patience-wearing negotiations.

During that time the prisoners of war, the known and reported prisoners, some of the missing and in many cases presumed dead, will stream through the Panmunjom checkpoints, going home at last.

Then the combat soldiers on both sides of the buffer zone must wait in still further readiness while a political conference of the belligerent nations—and possibly others—is convened to thresh out the problem of permanent peace in Korea.

Ahead in that political conference are stormy problems. Not the least is the anguishing enigma of what South Korean President Syngman Rhee will do if his dream of unifying Korea is not realized or at least started on the path to realization.

Will he order his 16 South Korean divisions, American trained and equipped, to break the armistice? And if that happens, what will the United States and the Allied nations do?

These are among the problems still ahead. Today, with the armistice on the verge of the cliactic signing, an electric air of excitement swept through the Munsan base camp of the U. N. Command.

It was given added impetus by the latest meetings today of Allied and Red liaison officers at Panmunjom, reliably reported to be arranging final details of the armistice signing.

The liaison officers met at 10 p.m. (8 p.m., EST, Saturday) for 44 minutes and recessed until 11 a.m. They recessed again at 11:12 a.m. for 20 minutes.

Helping to make this record for cleanliness possible by aiding unit leaders in supervising cleanup operations, were the senior patrol leaders of the three troops, Skippy Buford of Hodge; Buddy Johnson of West Monroe; and Glenn Wayne Cobb of Jonesboro.

The California meeting of over 45,000 boys was termed "The healthiest gathering of youth in the history of the world." This was stated by medical officers on the closing day. The health record of the 1953 Jamboree surpassed that of the 1950 Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., with only 157 participants needing hospitalization during the encampment.

CAMBODIA SEEKS CHANGE

SAIGON, Indochina, July 25 — UP—Cambodia agreed Saturday to stay within the French union on a commonwealth status if France gives it "full independence and sovereignty." King Norodom Sihanouk, invited France to set a definite date for transfer of all remaining powers to Cambodia.

Little Hope Seen In Possible Acreage Change

DELHI, July 25. (Special)—C. W. Kennedy, Louisiana Delta council cotton committee chairman, said today that only very slight hopes remain that the south and west can agree on any proposal to revise existing cotton acreage legislation.

The traditional Cotton Belt of the mid-south and southeastern states has apparently succeeded in defeating efforts of the west to speed up transfer of cotton acreage to that area when allotments are imposed in 1954. The Senate agriculture committee has agreed at the request of the sponsors to not consider further proposals to change the provisions of the law.

Kennedy declared that in his opinion a statement by Chairman George D. Aiken of the Senate agriculture committee appearing in the July 25 Monroe Morning World was misleading. Senator Aiken was reported Friday as stating that southern senators killed legislation to give the west a break in anticipated cotton acreage cuts.

"Louisiana Delta council actively opposed this attempted western 'grab' because it would have meant the transfer of approximately 500,000 cotton acres from the south to our western competitors contrary to law," Kennedy stressed.

In order to clarify this matter and to present the southern side of the picture the Delta council spokesman furnished the following information in a review of the controversy.

Under existing acreage control legislation 1954 cotton allotments will be based on the five-year period 1947 - 1952 with 1949 excluded.

Producers in the new western area originally demanded recently that the base allotments be computed on only 1951, 1952 and 1953. They attempted to justify this proposal by saying that the law failed to take into account their recent tremendous cotton plantings.

Louisiana Delta council sent a six-man delegation to Washington to testify on July 10 at Senate hearings against this proposition. N. W .McHenry, Monroe; J. H. Gilfoil III, Lake Providence; A. C. Smith, Epps; John Carpenter, Tallulah; J C., Wilkerson, Newellton; and Grady Lightfoot, Lake Providence, joined other southerners in defeating this Kuchel Bill.

The Louisian Farm Bureau Federation at its annual convention in Alexandria July 19-21 followed the recommendation of its Cotton Commodity Group and voted not to support the policy of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Louisiana Delta council and other representative southern producers organizations strongly supported the Abernethy Bill which would have set a national allotment of 22½ million acres but would have resulted in a general reduction of about 6 per cent from the 1947-52 average planted acreage. Under the Farm Bureau plan Arizona would have received 46 per cent above its five-year average and California would get almost 7 per cent more with the remainder of the states taking about a 10 per cent reduction.

In the case of Louisiana a five-year average acreage is 868,200 acres. The Farm Bureau plan would have allotted us 781,000 acres or a 10 per cent cut. The Abernethy Bill would have allotted 817,000 acres or a 5 per cent cut.

Under the law the west will increase its acreage greatly because on a five-year average their recent plantings will improve their situation. However, we emphatically do not feel that the west should have attempted to speed up this process by trying to change existing legislation for their personal benefit.

Kennedy stated in closing, "In the event any other so-called compromise proposals originate based on improving the western position at the expense of our southern producers, I can assure you that Louisiana Delta council will continue to do its best to defeat them."

Many Sheriffs

but added that there were no slot machines in his parish. "I don't allow them," he said, "never have. Neither did the sheriff before me."

Sheriffs from three parishes said the slot machines there were operated for charities and civic improvements.

One, Sheriff Teddy Martin of West Feliciana, said the slots would go but the swimming pool would close on Aug. 1.

Martin said the machines were owned by individual operators who contributed to civic enterprises for charities. The pool, he said, was built and maintained by the funds from the gaming devices.

Avoyelles Parish Sheriff J. W. Jeansonne said he would comply with Grevemberg's order but "most of our machines are run for charity."

He said he wouldn't have any trouble getting rid of the slot machines. "Our people aren't hard headed about something like that," he said. "When I say out, they'll come out."

C. E. Hester, sheriff of Madison Parish on the Delta, said, "Some people like it; others don't. I've informed the operators. The next move is up to them. I don't plan any action."

He said some of the machines were operated by the associated charities.

Other sheriffs promised assistance to the state police in ridding the state of illegal gambling.

Deputy Sheriff S. E. DeCuir, speaking for Sheriff Alcide Bousnchaud of Pointe Coupee Parish who was out of the state, said, "We gave the operators notice to get the machines out by midnight or we'll come get them."

Sheriffs Sidney Dubroca of West Baton Rouge and Truce Soileau of Evangeline said they had notified the operators and would force the slot machines out if they weren't removed.

St. Charles Parish Sheriff Leon Vial Jr. said, "Well, if he's gonna do it, there's no use for both of us to do it," when informed that Grevemberg said he would rid the state of the slots.

Vial said he passed the word along and planned no further action.

In Lafourche Parish, Sheriff Frank Ducos said everyone had been notified and the slot would be removed. "What the governor wants," he said, "we want."

Ducos said there would be no trouble; "They'll take them out."

St. James Parish Deputy Sheriff George Gordon, speaking for Sheriff Gaston Brignac who was unavailable, said he expected no trouble as there were only a few slot machines in the parish.

He said everyone had been notified of the state police order.

St. Landry Parish Sheriff D. J. Doucet said he thought the order unfair but had ordered his deputies to notify all operators.

"One branch of the government, the Revenue Department, collects license fees for slot machines," he said, "another branch says they have to go. We're kind of at a loss what to do.

"I think they ought to let them finish out the year under their license or return the money."

Sheriff Charles Griffon Jr., of Iberville Parish said he had no comment on the order. "What can I say? The order has been handed down."

Lafayette Parish Sheriff Mayo Harson said he knew of no gambling there. "But there may be," he said, adding, "I think gambling is pretty well under control."

Sheriffs Nic DeRouen of Iberia and Buck Shaw of St. Mary said the order wouldn't affect their parishes.

Both said their areas were "clean."

Sheriff W. U. Larcade of Arcadia Parish said the only thing his area had was money give-away night at motion picture theaters.

He said he planned to talk to Grevemberg to determine whether the order affected the give-away program.

Sheriff Bailey Grant of Ouachita, when asked about gambling in his baliwick and what he would do about it, said flatly, "I fought that battle five years ago. That's their business. There's no gambling here."

IKE APPEARANCES

NEW ORLEANS, July 25—UP—President Dwight D. Eisenhower will visit here for the Louisiana Purchase sesquicentennial celebration Oct. 18 to Oct. 31.

E. V. Richards Jr., chairman of the Sesquicentennial Commission, said that he had received assurance from the President's appointment secretary, Tom Stevens, that the President will make the trip, probably Oct. 31.

A re-enactment of the signing of the Louisiana Purchase Treaty, with Mr. Eisenhower and a representative of France taking part, will be featured on the program.

HELP POOR CIRCULATION

WITH NIAGARA'S WONDERFUL NEW CUSHION AND HAND MASSAGE UNITS

These amazing home massage sets operate on the same principle as the Niagara professional equipment built for hospitals, institutions and health centers.

The units can be used while you read, rest or work at a desk. The deeply penetrating, very comforting massage action will help relieve limb cramps, numbness, cold feet and other circulatory ailments. Also, they'll help relax taut nerves and soothe sore, aching muscles grown soft through inactivity.

Recommended for those too busy or not physically able to engage in active exercise. ● Write for booklet and details.

Jonesboro-Hodge Promotes Active Recreation Program

JONESBORO, July 25 — (Special) — Recreational facilities for the Jonesboro - Hodge youth this summer include a library, swimming pools, baseball, and a recreation center.

The library in the Junior High building, supplied with books for all ages, is open from 9:00 to 12:00 a. m. Monday through Friday for children of all ages. It is operated by Mrs. Sudie Johnson, senior high librarian.

More than 1200 books were loaned in June to 244 registered borrowers. Story hour is conducted on Tuesdays and Thursdays for an enthusiastic group of more than 30 children.

According to Mrs. Johnson, there are many budding scientists in this section. The demand is great for books on scientific experiments, atomic energy, guided missiles, rockets, jets, space, and also for science fiction. Also popular are dog stories, horse stories, sports stories, mysteries, magic, puzzles, and how-to-do books.

The American Red Cross, Mrs. C. L. Steadman, executive - secretary, has promoted instruction at the swimming pools. Don Warren has just completed instruction to two beginner and one intermediate class in Hodge.

W. G. Bailey, senior high principal, is in charge of the Jonesboro pool. Other life guards and instructors are Jack Freeman, Donald Black, Charles Ray Carraway, and Miss Harriet Michaud.

Swimming certificates have been awarded to 127 beginners and 37 intermediates in this area. A swimmer's class will be organized next week if there is sufficient demand.

John Hale, Principal of Hodge Elementary School, promotes the Buddy League baseball teams.

The School Board, Lions Club, churches, and Red Cross join in promoting wholesome recreation for the youth. The Methodist Church opens their recreation center every evening. The Baptist Church promotes the Boy Scouts. All of the churches have their own organizations for the children and youth, according to one teen-ager interviewed on the subject. "Don't leave out the churches," he said.

Walter Bennett Jr. To Be Guest In Baptist Pulpit

Rev. Walter "Sonny" Bennett, Jr., will be the guest speaker at the Central Baptist Church, 3400 Lee Ave., this morning at 10:50 a.m. and the evening services at 7:45 p.m.

Rev. Bennett has been preaching since he was 13-years old and will continue his study to be a minister at the Wheaton College in Illinois. He is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and was a very active member of the school.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to come and hear this young minister bring earnest messages.

Wage Bargaining By Phone Workers To Resume Soon

ATLANTA, Ga., July 25—UP—Wage bargaining sessions between the Southern Bell Telephone Co. and Communications Workers of America (CIO) which ended Friday won't resume until Wednesday, a telephone company spokesman said Saturday.

This was the second session held since a representative of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service was called into negotiations by the union Thursday. A company spokesman said nothing definite has been accomplished yet, and the mediation representative, R. W. Donehoo, is being briefed on the situation.

Tech Offers Two Degrees In Geology

RUSTON, July 25 (Special) — Two degrees in geology at Louisiana Tech will be available with the opening of the fall semester during the week of Sept. 13.

A four-year curriculum leading to the degree of bachelor of science in geology is scheduled to be offered by the department of petroleum engineering and geology in the school of engineering.

The school of arts and sciences has listed a four-year curriculum in geology leading to the degree of bachelor of arts, with the geology courses to be taught by faculty members of the school of engineerings.

The geology curriculum leading to the B. S. degree in the school of engineering embraces the following courses in the freshman year:

The geology B. A. curriculum in the school of arts and sciences for the freshman year is as follows:

LEGION HOME — The brick structure above, built by the Powell-Martin-Barrett Post No. 37, is open to the town of Lake Providence, parish of East Carroll and the northeastern area of Louisiana for use as a public institution. The swimming dock, at right, was built by the Lake Providence post and is open to the public.

Activities Of Lake Providence Legion

LAKE PROVIDENCE— (Special) —The Powell - Martin - Barrett Post No. 37, American Legion, looks back over the 1952-53 year with pride and recounts its contribution to the town, parish of East Carroll, and the northeastern area of Louisiana.

The beautiful Legion Home, the parish's only community center, is kept open daily until 11 p. m., for the convenience of members and their guests. It is always available for religious and civic groups and is used for parties and socials by any member. A nine hole golf course, well equipped playground for children, spacious neatly trimmed lawn, white shell driveways and parking area all lend toward the beauty of the installation.

The Legion swimming pier and man-made sand beach is well maintained and under the supervision of two life guards and an aquatic instructor. There is no facility in this area that offers so much pleasure to so many people. A large, surfaced parking area can accommodate over 100 cars.

The baseball park and stadium is available without cost to the various children and adult teams. The recent "Miss Louisiana" beauty pageant was held in this park before some of the largest crowds ever assembled in Lake Providence.

Listed among the donations and contributions of the post during the past 12 months are: Band Boosters Club $2,400; East Carroll Parish Hospital Fund $12,000; Monticello Community Future Farmers $300; three parish troops of Boy Scouts, $660; Monticello High School, $700; Parish Library Fund $120; Christmas party at Legion Home for children of the parish $800; St. Patricks's School ball club $150; Blessed Martin DePores lunchroom fund $500; Lake Providence High School, $500; Allied Youth Post, $500; Summer recreational program $700, and many others, including over $2,000 in individual emergency relief cases.

The Post maintains an up-to-date file of blood types and stands ever ready to recruit and transport donors where and when needed. Donors from Lake Providence have been sent to neighboring towns when rare types could not be located at home.

Standing second in the district in membership, second only to Monroe, the post has an outstanding record in child welfare, civic projects and charitable enterprises.

ABOARD CARRIER — Naval Cadet Robert F. Polk, Jr., son of R. F. Polk, of Winnsboro, has completed a stringent schedule in military, academic, physical and flight training since reporting to the U. S. Naval Air Station. He is now ready for four months training course in instrument flight and in combat type aircraft which is the final step to the Navy "Wings of Gold."

Stories From Louisiana History

By CARRIE MAE HARPER

President Theodore Roosevelt was out to kill bears and he had heard of the plentiful supply of such animals to be found in northeast Louisiana. October, 1907, found the president and several noted Louisiana hunters at a lodge which had been set up on Tensas Bayou, some miles north of Tallulah. The area was known to be the home of numerous black bears, deer, panthers and many other wild animals.

On the night of their arrival the group sat around the camp table, eagerly discussing plans for the next day's hunt. The discussion was interrupted by the loud barking of the dogs and a voice calling out in the darkness, "Hello there!"

When the door was opened the group saw a man standing just within the circle of the light. He was carrying a shotgun across his shoulders and a hunting knife strapped to his waist. He was surrounded by a pack of lithe excited hounds and on his face was a truly man-sized, flowing beard.

"Who are you?" demanded the president.

"Myn ame's Ben Lilley," the man shouted above the din created by the dogs. "I heerd ye might be needin' a huntin' guide."

Ben Lilley was told to come into the lodge and spent the next few hours telling the president of his own exploits as a hunter. If his coarse manners and speech seemed strange to the members of the group, it must have been even more amusing to Ben Lilley to find himself hobnobbing with the highest official in America. For Ben Lilley was a rugged individualist who lived alone in the swamps and spoke as affectionately of his hounds as most men do of their children. He was one of America's last professional hunters.

And Ben Lilley got the President a bear.

As the hunt began that morning the dogs picked up the scent of bear and Lilley followed his dogs at a fast pace, leaving the rest of the hunting party behind.

He found the bear entering a hollow tree trunk to hide from the dogs. Quickly, Lilley ran to the tree, lay down on his back and pushed his feet up against the bear's posterior. He held the bear in this fashion until the others caught up with him. President Roosevelt got his bear.

More dignified kills were made by the president later and he did not record Lilley's feat in his account of the expedition, "In The Louisiana Canebrakes." The hunt is said to have inspired the manufacture of the popular toy, the "teddy bear."

Another memento of the president's visit is the village of Roosevelt near the site of the hunter's lodge. The population, about 100 of them, no longer search the woods for bear and the part played by Ben Lilley in the Roosevelt expedition has long since been forgotten.

FALL NEWS—THE SHAPELY LINE IN SEPARATES PATTERN BY CIRO

PATTERN M305
A CIRO ORIGINAL
by Harriette Hara

PROMINENT DESIGNER — "After - Five" separates with a flair for glamour — this is the special genius of American designer Harriette Hara. "For now, for fall—I like a line that's sleek and shapely," says this inspired, young designer of her newest collection for Ciro. In a mood of ultra femininity, she sculpts a bare-neckline blouse that defines your shoulders dramatically. Beneath the taut-midriff, the skirt is column slim in front with a surprise fullness flowing from the back. It's a silhouette that does magnificent things for any figure! The beautiful original of Pattern M305 is fluid mat jersey and supple velvet. You might make your version all in crepe or jersey — or combine jersey with satin, faille or bengaline. Whichever fabric you choose, you have a traffic-stopping design from the fabulous Ciro collection by Harriette Hara.

Pattern M305 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 blouse requires 1¼ yards 39-inch fabric; skirt requires 2½ yards 39-inch nap fabric.

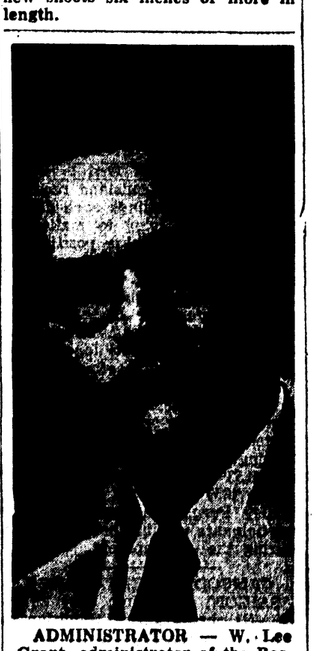
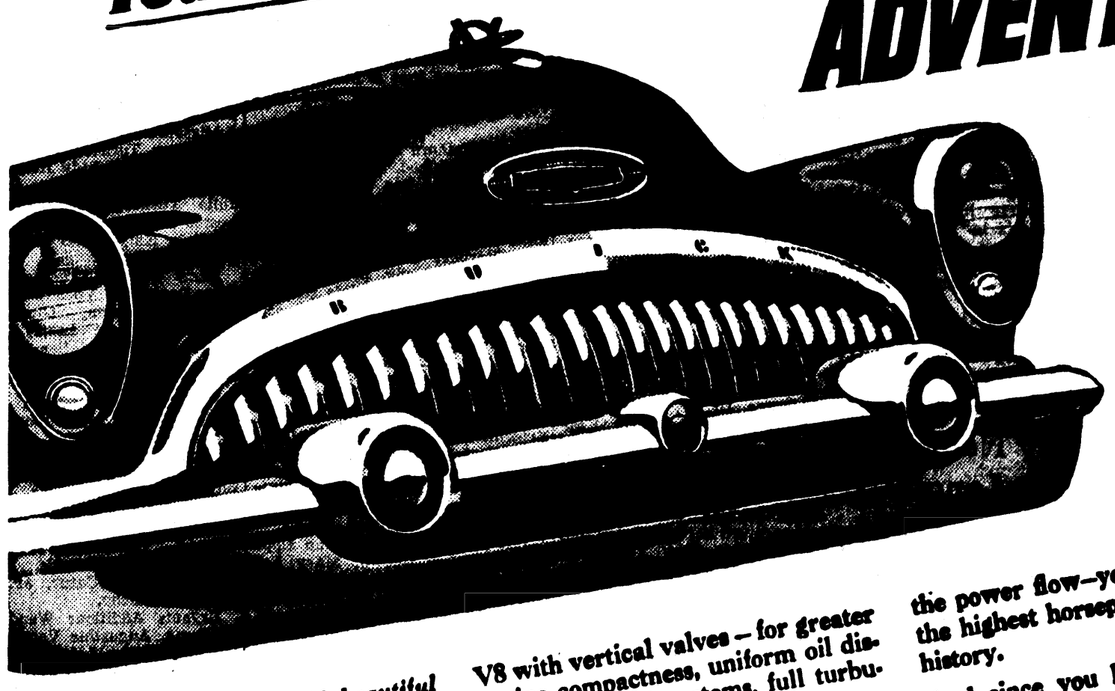
BLUEBERRY ADVICE

GENEVA, N. Y. (U.P.) — Heavy pruning insures good yields of large-sized blueberries. Dr. John C. Cain, fruit specialist at the N. Y. Agricultural Experiment Station here said. Short, twiggy growth should be removed, preferably in early spring, leaving only vigorous new shoots six inches or more in length.



ADMINISTRATOR — W. Lee Grant, administrator of the Bastrop General Hospital, has announced the leasing of the Riverside Sanitarium here. The sanitarium, which will have an open staff, is slated for opening on August 1.

You're off to a NEW POWER ADVENTURE



WORLD'S ONLY VERTICAL VALVE V8

GET behind this big, bold, beautiful front — in the driver's seat — and get set for a new kind of automotive pleasure.

Get set for everything symbolized by the "V" of that ornament nestling in the nose of the hood.

Get set for the thrill of bossing the new V8 engine that crowns fifty great Buick years with record-high power.

This is an invitation to drive a 1953 Buick ROADMASTER—where you command the power of the first Fireball V8 engine.

It is the only American passenger-car V8 with vertical valves—for greater engine compactness, uniform oil distribution to valve stems, full turbulence in the fuel charge.

It is the first such V8 to reach 8.5 to 1 compression ratio—the first to exhaust through a muffler of zero power loss —the first with a whole long list of advanced engineering features.

But the translation of these features into performance is the real news, the real thrill.

You accelerate, cruise, climb hills with the effortless ease of almost limitless power—instantly responsive.

You barely hear the velvety purr of the power flow—yet you're handling the highest horsepower in all Buick history.

And since you have this with the other great engineering advance—Twin-Turbine Dynaflow—you get brilliantly new getaway with complete and utter smoothness through all ranges.

Want to try it? Want to take the wheel of the greatest performing Buick in 50 great years and judge things for yourself?

Drop in on us first chance you have, and we'll gladly arrange matters.

W. W. Stevens has been elected chairman of the Ouachita Parish chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The announcement of the election was made late Yesterday by Norman E. Foreman, state representative.

Mrs. Stevens Chairman Of Polio Chapter

The Ouachita Parish chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis held its annual meeting this week. Officers were elected to serve the chapter for the coming year. Thos elected are: Chairman, Mrs. W. W. Stevens; Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Milling Bernstein; Secretary, Mrs. Fred Thurber; Treasurer, Mr. Roy Q. Cole, Sr.

Charles L. Massey, of New York, regional director of the national foundation, met with the local chapter, and discussed the gamma globulin program and the work that is being done on the polio vaccine. The group participated in a question and answer session with Massey, regarding the vaccine. Massey stated, "The laboratory stage of the research is completed, and we now have facing us, the human field trials which must be completed before the vaccine can be released for public consumption. There is hope that these trials will be conducted in the near future, but as yet, no definite plans have been made.

In addition to the newly-elected officers, those present at the meeting were: Paul Goldman, out-going chairman of the chapter; Mrs. Mrs. Frank Breese, chairman of women's activities committee, Lloyd Lenard, Miss Freeda Mickel, Mrs. S. M. McReynolds, Fred Thurber, Mrs. W. B. Matthews, Miss Maymie McNeill, Mrs. Dick Dean, Mrs. P. Richard Pierce, Mrs. Allen Ritter, Dr. Faheam Cannon, and Mrs. R. H. Terrell.

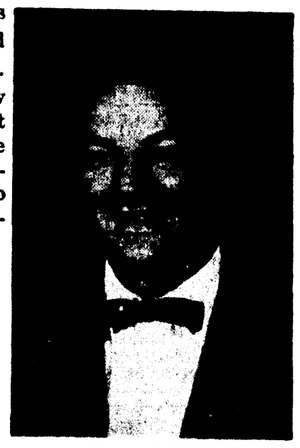
Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

This is to introduce the newest addition to the Twin City coaching fraternity — Howard Barker, an athletic figure in Louisiana nearly 20 years as an all-state high school gridder, star halfback at Louisiana Tech and a successful coach at two South Louisiana high schools who is taking charge as football coach at the new West Monroe High School.

Coach Barker has already established himself in West Monroe with temporary residence at 803 North Fourth Street until his new home is completed at 1514 Woodland Street in Sunshine Heights. He has spent the past few days making personal contact with the many people in the Twin Cities who will be working with him, and trying to get a line on his football material.



Howard Barker

A native of Jennings, where he was born February 5, 1917, Coach Barker was reared on a rice farm near Jennings and participated in high school sports at Jennings under Jerry Simmons, an early exponent of the then unusual "T" formation. Barker was an all-state halfback at Jennings in 1935.

In 1936 he enrolled at Louisiana Tech, Ruston, where he claimed the distinction of playing left halfback under four head coaches in as many years. His mentor in his senior year at Tech was Joe Aillet who is still directing the fine athletic program there.

"The proudest moment of my football career at Tech was a 97-yard touchdown run against Centenary's last great ball club in 1938," Barker declared with a glow of pride.

Upon graduation from Tech in 1941, Barker accepted a job as assistant coach at Ponchatoula where he met Miss Lucia Jane Travis. They were married on December 20, 1941. A little more than a year later, February, 1942, he went into the Army Air Force and was separated from service as a first lieutenant in July, 1946. He is now a captain in the Air Force Reserves.

His first head coaching job was at Slidell where he had charge of football, basketball, and baseball. His 1946 team was defeated by Tallulah High for the state Class B championship after playing three games in eight days to meet the state playoff deadline. In 1947 Slidell advanced to Class A, winning seven games in football, finishing third in the state in basketball and runner-up for the state baseball championship.

His great record at Slidell resulted in Ponchatoula, where he had first worked as an assistant, luring him back as head coach. He picked Dan McClure as his assistant, and McClure is also following him to West Monroe where they will be joined by Bobby Wilson, the Millsaps Grammer School coach, who is moving across the street to the new high school as a Barker aide.

In his first year at Ponchatoula, Barker's club won only two games, but his following elevens won 37 out of 45 games over a four-year period In the last two seasons, Ponchatoula was undefeated in regular season play, running up a total of 812 points to 47 for their opponents.

West Monroe football followers have already been captivated by the Barker personality. They are not promising too much in their program this year, electing to build for the future. Persons who know Barker declare West Monroe could not have picked a finer man and coach."

Barker has always used the Notre Dame box formation, firmly believing in it as a sound football procedure, and West Monroe's young athletes can begin getting acquainted with it. As for the start of football practice, Barker plans to meet with his boys on Saturday, August 15, for a get-acquainted session. Work will start in earnest the following Monday.

Coach Barker will leave here August 4 to attend the coaching school at New Orleans and do a little visiting around his South Louisiana haunts before returning about August 10.

Twin City Little Loop Series Starts Monday

Little League All-Stars go into action here this week in first games of their playoff toward possible appearance in the state championship tournament in August.

The West Monroe All-Stars and the Northside All-Stars of Monroe lunch play here tomorrow evening at Little League park with the winner to face Southside All-Stars of Monroe for the Twin City championship Tuesday evening.

The winner of the Twin City series will meet the Bastrop All-Stars in a two-out-of-three series for the district championship with the first game in district play slated for Thursday afternoon at 4:30 O'clock at Bastrop. The second, and third game if necessary, will be played here Friday evening, beginning at 6 O'clock. A third game, if needed to settle the club qualifying for the state tournament, will immediately follow the 6 o'clock opener

Ralph "Red" Sims and Charles Stevenson are running their West Monroe club, Scotty Daniel and Bob Harmon are in charge of the Southside, and E. B. Taylor and Ivy McDonald are handling the Northside.

Daniel last night said the Southside All-Stars will hold a workoug thns afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Little League park.

Manager, Ralph "Red" Sims 3 o'clock at the West Monroe All-Star entry, has called a practice session for this afternoon at 3 O'clock at the West Monroe playground for all squad members.

Legion Semi-Finals Open Here Tomorrow

Monroe Juniors Opposing Threat Of Natchitoches

The Natchitoches Motor Braves, vaulted into the state semi-final American Legion Junior playoffs when their Lake Charles conqueror was disqualified, will meet defending state champion Monroe New Car Franchise Dealers here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium in the opening game of their sectional playoff.

Coach "Woody" Boyles last night said his Monroe club will be in "pretty good shape for the game except for a couple of slightly sore arms."

Pitchers Gene Barham and Wayne Hendricks are nursing the sore flippers, their coach said, but they have been taking good care of themselves since erasing Kroehler's Lumberjacks of Shreveport from the title picture the past week. They'll be ready to pitch when needed, but right now it looks like Arthur "Little Red" Swanson will get the starting pitching assignment against the Braves.

Coach Alvin "Cracker" Brown, the Northwestern Louisiana State baseball coach who is also coaching the Natchitoches Legion club, announced yesterday he'll send a battery of Pitcher John Leone and Catcher Charles Evans against Monroe. Boyles, who is also baseball coach at Northeast Louisiana State, will use T. L. Fuller or Tommy Boyles as his catcher.

While Monroe was eliminating Farmerville and Bastrop to sack up a third straight district title, the Natchitoches boys erased the Alexandria Sentinels in the finals to win out in their own district.

A winner in all home playoff games so far, Natchitoches defeated Lake Charles, 6-4, in their opening regional playoff at Natchitoches and then traveled to Lake Charles to lose out in two games, 17-7 and 2-1.

But a protest against the eligibility of two Lake Charles players was pending all the time the series was in progress.

Lloyd Bell, Alexandria, chairman of Legion baseball for the Eighth District, which includes Natchitoches, filed the protest with John E. Coyne, director of state Legion baseball. Coyne upheld the Bell protest Friday when it was verified that Lake Charles had not certified the age of two players.

The second game of the Monroe-Natchitoches series is scheduled for Natchitoches Tuesday. Arrangements for a possible third game will be taken care of when officials of the rival clubs get together here tomorrow.

Second Avenue Pays $21.80 In Michigan Mile

DETROIT, July 25 (AP) — Second Avenue, a fast-closing bay beauty, won the $57,250 Michigan Mile today as the two big favorites—Van Crosby and Oil Capitol—ran out of the money.

Guided by veteran Carroll Bierman, who won the 1940 Kentucky Derby aboard Gallahadion, Second Avenue charged from fifth place at the head of the stretch to capture the richest race in Michigan history by a length and a half.

He flew past the favored entry of Van Crosby and Whiffenpoof, who were running 1-2, and flashed under the wire in 1:37 4-5, just four-fifths of a second off the track record. It was fast track today.

Eljay, who ran wide all the way, finished second. A nose back was Golden Trend.

Second Avenue, who runs well on the Detroit race course, paid $21.80, $8.60 and $6.20 for $2. Eljay paid $19, and $10 60, and Golden Trend $7.

Van Crosby, the 3-2 favorite of the crowd of 22,753, faded as though he were running in glue and finished a disappointing seventh.

Oil Capitol, the world's ninth leading money winner, loped along in last place until they reached the home highway. Then the six-year-old gray made a desperate but futile stretch run to finish fourth, a neck out of the money.

Moss Upsets Douglas To Win Junior Title

Moss, 17, scored heavily on placements while Douglas, playing his poorest tennis of the week-long meet, missed frequently with his overhead smashes.

Bleik Begins Swim Of English Channel

CALIAS, France, July 25 (AP) — Toufik Bleik, 24-year-old Lebanon swimmer, plunged into the English Channel shortly after 2 p.m. (EST) in an attempt to swim to Britain.

Bleik, his body well greased, said he intended to feed himself with milk and fruit from an accompanying boat.

The sea off Cape Griz Nez, where he started, was relatively warm but slightly choppy.

Roberts Shuts Out Cardinals, 3 To 0, For 17th Decision

PHILADELPHIA, July 25. (AP)—Robin Roberts won his 17th game and second shutout in a row on Willie Jones' two run single in the sixth inning tonight to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-0 win over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Roberts, the major leagues' leading pitcher in the won and lost department, pitched his usual game—throwing easy until the Cardinals put a man on base and then bearing down to retire the side.

Meanwhile, southpaw Vinegar Bend Mizell kept the Phillies scoreless until the sixth when Mel Clark opened with a single down the third base line.

Del Ennis singled to left and both runners advanced when Mizell threw wild trying to pick Clark off second. Granny Hamner was intentionally walked and afer pinch-hitter Connie Ryan struck out, Jones lined his single to left scoring Clark and Ennis with Hamner taking third.

As Mizell wound up to pitch to Roberts, Hamner started running down the third base line as if to steal home. Mizell committed a balk and Hamner scored.

Second Round Of City Loop Finals Set For Monday

The second round of the City Softball League semi-finals gets underway tomorrow night, when Gay's Bucaneers takes on 3-Way Finance at Barkdull Faulk diamond, with action slated to get underway at 8 p.m. The Buccaneers, Thursday winners over 3-Way with an extra inning 5-3 verdict, will be out to finish off the Financiers again with a second win that would put them into the finals Thursday night.

Griffin-Loftin, who were the victims of a six-run inning by News Digest, losing 9-3 the same night, will be out for revenge tomorrow in their second game at Sherrouse, scheduled for 8 o'clock.

If both winners repeat, the finals will begin Thursday.

BROOKLYN, July 25 (AP) — The rampaging Brooklyn Dodgers bounced back into a 5½-game National League lead today on the wings of the Russ Meyer's 7-0 shutout over the Milwaukee Braves.

Scoring their 11th victory in their last 13 games, the Brooks backed up Meyer's four-hit pitching with two outbursts of power. They scored with one stroke in the second inning when Catcher Roy Campanella lofted his 26th home run of the year into the left field stands with Carl Furillo on base, then made five more the slow but steady way in the fifth inning with a triple, base on balls four successive singles and a scoring fly.

Campanella's homer was all Meyer needed, however, as he turned in his first shutout of the season and his strongest game by far since coming to the Dodgers in a big midwinter trade.

Semi-Finals Open In Little-Bigger League Tomorrow

The first and second place teams in the Little-Bigger League, Scott Truck and Tractor and Clover Leaf Dairy, finished the regular season only one-half a game apart. Playoffs begin tomorrow, with first-place Scott Truck, managed by "Red" Sims, taking on fourth-place Ouachita National Bank at 4:30 p.m. on the Northeast diamond. J. R. Hood's Clover Leaf club will engage third-place Motor Supply on the Neville field at the same time.

In the "sudden-death" playoffs, a team once-defeated is eliminated, and the two winners will meet for the championship Tuesday. A collection will be taken at both games tomorrow to help defray expenses for the All-Star team's trip to Austin, Texas for the Regional Playoff.

Members of the All-Star team will be announced after the final game Tuesday.

Pittsburgh Steelers Sign Two Gridders

PITTSBURGH, July 25 (AP)— The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League signed a fullback and a tackle today and coach Joe Bach said they will join the club when training begins Aug. 3 at St. Bonaventure University in Olean, N. Y.

The new tackle is Earl Murray, who played for Purdue. The fullback is Al Bodine from the University of Georgia. Murray lives in Cincinnati and Bodine in Youngstown, O.

Bach said his quarterbacks and centers will begin daily drills at St. Bonaventure Wednesday.

Frazier Extends His Batting Lead In Texas League

DALLAS, July 25. (AP) — Joe Frazier, the Oklahoma City blaster, enters the final six weeks of the Texas League race boasting a 35-point margin over the closest pursuer in the fight for the batting championship. The Indians hammerer adds some points to his bulge each week.

For instance, the past week found him increasing his margin by seven points as Earle Brucker of Beaumont faded and fell from second to fourth place. Harry Elliott, the Houston outfielder, moved into the runnerup spot.

Frazier has a neat .368 compiled on 130 hits in 353 times at bat. Elliott has .333 on 134 hits in 402 tries.

Elliott took over the lead in hits. Frazier is a double-leader. He also tops the league in doubles with 41. Saturnino Escalera of Tulsa leads in triples with 14 and Harry Heslet of Shreveport in homers with 33.

Russ Burns, Oklahoma City's stout clubber, heads the circuit in runs batted in with 83.

The hitters generally are falling off. There are 19 doing .300 or better compared to 20 the week before.

It begins to appear that the league will be fortunate if it gets one 20-game pitching winner. With a third of the season to go, three hurlers had won 13 games apiece—Wayne McLeland of Dallas, Al Zilian of Oklahoma City and Don Fracchia of Beaumont. McLeland has the best record with 13-5. Fracchia shows 13-6 and Zilian 13-7.

Rinold Duren of San Antonio continues to lead in strikeouts. The San Antonio star has fanned 119.

Independents, Red Shield To Replay Protested Finals

The Senior League finals, of which two games were played Thursday night between Red Shield and Independents, each copping a verdict, will have to be replayed.

According to Jack Hesketh, Monroe Recreation Director, no official umpires were handling these games, and as a result, both were protested by the opposing managers, Johnny Cranham of Red Shield; and Ronny Marioneaux, Independents.

Action for the replayed tussles will begin at 7 o'clock at Missouri Pacific, with two five-inning games on tap.

6 Unearned Runs Enough To Boost Reds Past Giants

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—Aided by six unearned runs, lefthander Fred Baczewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs turned back the New York Giants 7-5 today for his fifth victory against one loss since being traded by the Chicago Cubs. Willard Marshall, a onetime Giant, and Jimmy Greengrass belted three-run homers for Cincinnati, both blows coming after the Giants should have retired the side for rookie Pitcher Al Worthington.

Schedule District Softball Tourney Here August 8-9

The second district softball tournament for teams of this section of Louisiana will be held in Monroe the weekend of August 8-9 as state eliminations begin the process of determining the Amateur Softball Association champions of America.

All teams entering the tournament must be members of the A.S.A.

Jack Hesketh, Monroe recreation director who has charge of the tournament, last night said that if only City League teams of Monroe enter the tournament, it is planned instead to have the team that wins the City League playoff title to represent the second district in the Louisiana state tournament.

The state tourney is slated for August 14-15-16 at Alexandria.

An entrance fee of $10 is required of all teams entering the tournament, and the entry deadline is August 5. All entries, accompanied by fee, must be sent to "Monroe Recreation Department, Box 1293, Monroe."

Bastrop Batter Leads In Big 8 Hit Department

RUSTON, La., July 25 (Special) Slugging Leon Langston, playing for the Big Eight League-leading Bastrop Barons, is leading the loop in hitting with an average of .438, 15 percentage points better than Farmerville's Henry Albritton, who has played in 25 more games.

Langston has 48 official trips and has banged out 21 safeties. Albritton, in 83 times at bat, has collected 35 hits, for a .421 average. Bastrop's Lee Bourdeau is also hitting above .400, with 32 hits in 78 trips, for a .410 average. Other Big Eight .300 or better hitters are: Jerry Marchand, Homer, 21 hits for 54 at bats, .388; Milford Andrews, Minden, 13 hits in 36 trips, .366; Johnny Emmons, Bernice, 29 for 82, .354; Billy Jack Price, Ruston, 21 for 59, .350; Grady Cathey, Farmerville, 20 for 58, .345; Harry Davis, Homer, 18 for 54, .333; Johnny Bledsoe, 12 for 36, .333; Frankie Shell, Bastrop, 25 for 76, .329; Harry Smith, Minden, 24 for 73, .328; Bob Brasher, Dennis, Ruston, 20 for 64, .312; and Maggie McGee, 16 for 52, .307.

In the slugging department, Johnny Emmons, Bernice, and Jerry Marchand, Homer have hit seven home runs apiece; and Duck Farrar, Minden, is second with four round-trippers.

Leading pitchers and their records are: Milford Andrews, Minden, 3-0; Wynton Overstreet, Homer, 2-0; Charley Ruggs, Farmerville, 6-1; Don Goad, Bernice, 3-1; Wayne Thrash, Bastrop, 5-3; Benny McArdle, Minden, 4-2; Horace Morton, Homer, 5-4, and Bob Guthrie, Bastrop, 3-2.

By J. P. FRIEND

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., July 25 (Special)—At the rate Steve Korfonta has been wielding the willow of late the Cotton States League can expect a new batting leader almost any day.

The Hot Springs outfielder blasted 14 hits in 27 times at bat during the week ending July 21, picked up 30 points and climbed to within nine points of his side kick and fellow Spa gardener, Hal Martin, who continues to hang on to the loop lead.

During the last 40 games Korfonta has taken the play away from the circuit batters, coming from a mere .261 to his present high figure. In 155 times at bat during the nearly six weeks Steve has collected 66 hits or an amazing .426 clip.

He rates the No. 4 spot behind Martin at .360; Roger Rada, Greenville, .353; and Pat O'Keefe, El Dorado, .353. Hammerin' Hal powdered out three more home runs and now needs just 10 to wipe out the 23-year old record of 40 owned by Ralph Weingarner for El Dorado. But while going for distance the Spa slugger lost four points in his overall batting average. He also continues to lead in runs, 89; hits, 119, and total bases, 248. He has batted in 83 tallies, only one shy of the leader in that phase, his skipper-first baseman, Vernon (Moose) Shetler, Hot Springs.

The other two leading challengers found the pace a mite steep, too, and had a few points shaved off their respective records. Rada dropped five decimals to .353; O'Keefe skidded four to the same level.

Ken Robinett, Pine Bluff first baseman, also went on a batting spree with 14-10 that enabled him to join the century-hit club, added 17 points, and took over the No. 5 position in the swat race with .333. He has 107 safeties. His manager, Frank Lucchesi, rates sixth with .331, a gain of 12; Dick Eaton, Jackson, in seventh with .331, a rise of 21; Louie Schaufele, Jackson, .330 and eighth, down five; Hugh Glaze, .325, up nine at ninth; and Banks McDowell, Jackson, .325, down three, 10th.

Adding seven points to his plate chart with 28-11, Shetler heads the second list of .300 hitters with .324. He too blasted three four masters for a season total of 17, sent in 10 mates that enabled him to climb into the RBI band wagon with 84. Following rather closely are Charley Harrington, Monroe manager-shortstop, .324; Pel Austin, El Dorado, .323; Ray Posipanka, Greenville, .322; Mike Garone, .321; Gene Pompelia, Meridian, .312; Bill Giddings, Hot Springs, .312; Jack Landis, Pine Bluff, .307; Wayne Tucker, Natchez, .304; Anse Moore, Meridian, .300 and Ray Rogers, Monroe, .300.

Martin and Nels Daehn, Monroe, .284 each have eight triples. Shetler has an advantage of one two bagger in the race for that phase. "Moore" has rapped 24; Korfonta, Robinett and Schauele 23. O'Keefe has tagged 22; Posipanka, Pompelia, Ty Braziel, Greenville (.288), Daehn and Ed Cholakian, Pine Bluff (.269), one less apiece. Lucchesi has stolen the most bases, 20, two more tham Pompelia.

Bobby Harrison, Meridian ace, was kayoed in his only start during the week, trimmed short because of rain, but he did not get credit for the Miller win. His record of 15-5 is tops in the pitching department. He has fanned the most batters, 136 in 183 1-3 innings. John Paul Jones, Jackson giant, has the same percentage with a 12-4 chart. He also has recorded three shutouts, the same as Harrison. Tom Pollett, Greenville, comes next with 14-5. Charles (Chuck) Slaber, El Dorado, has 10-4; Beverly Gross, Meridian, 7-3, ditto Bill Brughtwell, El Dorado; Jimmy Dupuy, Meridian, and Clyde Baldwin, El Dorado, 9-4 each; and diminutive Bob Picken, Pine Bluff, 8-4. Five others are boasting double-figured wins, including Bob Brown, El Dorado (11-6); Charles Lindquist, Greenville, 10-6; Marv Hatcher, Monroe (11-9); Ken Seifert (HS) 10-7, and Hugh Blanton, Monroe (11-11). Jackson leads in club batting, .280; Meridian best at fielding, .966.

Doolittle's Two-Run Homer Beats Monroe, 4 To 3

Senators Limited To Four Hits, But Cop Short Series

Monroe pitching limited the heavy-hitting Jackson Senators to just four hits last night, but one of them was a two-run homer by Manager Duke Doolittle in the seventh inning that sparked the Solons to a 4-3 win over the Sports and a sweep of the two-game series here.

The Sports, who almost doubled Jackson hit-production with seven safe blows, were enjoying a 2-1 lead until Doolittle got his mighty clout over the left field fence.

Tom Wingard relieved White in the eighth and didn't allow a hit the rest of the way.

Nelson Daehn led the Monroe attack on Bob Ward and Hal Renn with a double and two singles. Ra. Coss socked two singles, and Roman Bartkowski and Lou Stutts got one apiece, but three double plays by the Senators hurt Monroe scoring opportunities. Renn, who relieved Ward when he developed a wild streak with none out in the fifth, was credited with the victory.

Monroe developed a mild threat in the ninth after two were out but couldn't save the game. Reed Stephens worked Renn for a free pass, and Stutts came through with his single, but Wingard popped out to Dick Eaton at first base to end the game.

The Senators jumped ahead with the first run of the game in the second inning. Dick Eaton and Duke Doolittle hit successive singles. Eaton took third when Bobby Adams forced Doolittle and scored on a wild pitch.

The Sports took advantage of Jackson miscues to grab a 2-1 lead in the fourth. Roman Bartkowski and Ray Coss opened with successive singles. Ray Rogers sacrificed. Walker dropped Billy Parsons' pop fly at the edge of the infield grass in right field, Bartkowski scoring. Reed Stephens squeezed Coss across with a bunt to Ward and was safe on his sacrifice when Ward threw wide to first. Lou Stutts poled a long liner into center field that looked like a sure hit until Banks McDowell came racing in to spear the drive and double Parsons off second to end the inning.

With one out and Eaton on base with a free pass, Doolittle's homer sent the Senators into a 3-2 lead in the seventh. The ball, sixth of the season, to be hit out of the park by a visiting player (Monroe players haven't hit any), barely cleared the left field fence, and Coss, racing back for the ball, smashed into the fence. Coss was shaken up but remained in the game. Of the six homers hit here this year, Doolittle's was the fifth served up by White.

Jackson added its fourth run in the eighth when McDowell and Lou Schaufele walked, a sacrifice helped the cause along, and McDowell scored as Eaton grounded out.

The Sports came within a run of tying the score in the eighth. Wingard walked, Nels Daehn beat out an infield hit, and Charley Harrington sacrificed for the first out. Bartkowski grounded out to first base, scoring Wingard and sending Daehn to third, but Coss grounded out, ending the inning.

Hasty Road Cops Arlington Park's Richest Futurity

CHICAGO, July 25 (AP)—Unbeaten Hasty Road, ridden by Eddie Arcaro, streaked to a 2½-lengths record victory today in turfdom's richest race for 2-year - olds, the $157,915 Arlington Futurity at Arlington Park.

Hasty Road, the dark bay colt son of Roman-Traffic Court, was skillfully guided by Arcaro to a home stretch burst which whipped the early pacesetter in the six furlongs race. Greenacres farm's Mr. Prosecutor.

Third in the 18-horse field was Donnajack, the Cosmic Bomb colt owned by Mrs. S. L. Kopald, Memphis.

Hasty Road, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Allie Reuben, Toledo, who had purchased the colt at Keeneland for $23,100 was clocked in the fastest futurity time, 1:10 1-5.

The time eclipsed the record set by Occupation in 1942 with 1:10 2-5.

Hasty Road, who went off a 9 to 5 favorite, and was coupled with Sea O'Rin in the betting, returned $5.60, $3.40 and $2.60. Mr. Prosecutor paid $5.60 and $3.40. And Donnajack's show price was $2.80.

Hasty Road, in registering his third straight victory, grabbed a whopping $101,475 for his owners. Previously, he had earned only $4,200 in winning two 5½-furlongs sprints at Arlington.

Missouri Says No Post-Season Bowl Football

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 25 (AP)—The University of Missouri board of curators has ruled that M. U.'s football teams shall not play in post-season bowl games.

The University today made public a resolution adopted by the board last spring. There was no explanation of the delay in releasing the news. The resolution said:

"It is the sense of this board of curators that no football games should be played after two weeks beyond the close of the regular football season.

"The University of Missouri's faculty representative of the Big Seven Conference shall be guided by this action of the board in his dealings with the Conference on this subject."

The Big Seven last year banned bowl games and denied Oklahoma permission to play in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day. There has been some speculation, however, that the Conference might relax its ban.

Missouri has played in five bowl games in the last 15 years.

Yankees Outlast Tigers In Protested Tilt, 15-11

DETROIT, July 25. (AP)—the New York Yankees, behind nine runs at one time, rallied in the 12th inning with four runs to whip the Detroit Tigers 15-11 and increase their American League lead to five and a half games. The game was tied 11-11 at the end of nine innings.

The game was played under protest by the Tigers from the ninth inning because Manager Casey Stengel failed to leave the bench after being automatically out of the game. The chances of the protest being upheld, however, are slight. The umpires failed to enforce a rule which calls for immediate banishment of a manager who questions a ball or strike decision.

Stengel beefed on a fourth ball called by plate Umpire Jim Honochick in the ninth when the Tigers tied up the score. Pat Mullin, a pinch hitter, checked his swing on a 3-2 pitch and got a base on balls. Stengel rushed from the Yankee dugout in protest, apparently forgetting the rule.

The Yankee manager stayed on the bench while four more Tigers came to bat. Then, on Tiger Manager Fred Hutchinson's complaint, they chased Stengel. Hutchinson immediately announced his protest.

The Tigers, who had won five straight, scored seven runs in the first inning and led 10-1 at the end of three innings.

But the Yankees came to life and finally went into the lead 11-10 when Third Baseman Andy Carey hit a three-run homer off relief Pitcher Ned Garver in the ninth.

The Tigers tied it up on two walks and big Walt Dropo's single off reliefer Allie Reynolds.

Tiger Pitcher Ray Herbert was snowed under in the 12th when the entire Yankee team went to bat and made five hits.

Al Rosen Homers In Tenth, Indians Whip Solons, 6-4

CLEVELAND, July 25. (AP)—Al Rosen's 26th home run of the year for the Cleveland Indians beat the Washington Nationals 6-4 in the 10th inning today. The clout over the left field fence came after loser Johnny Schmitz had walked rookie Al Smith and retired the next two batters.

Smith and Luke Easter also had homers for the Tribe, and Pete Runnels got one in the ninth for Washington to tie the score. Bob Lemon got credit for the victory, his 14th.

Ezzard Charles, Nino Baldes To Fight In Miami

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., July 25 (AP)—Former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati, and Nino Valdes, Cuban heavyweight, have been signed for a 10-round fight at Miami Beach Auditorium Tuesday night, Aug. 11, promoter Chris Dundee announced today.

Charles won the title by beating Joe Louis in September, 1949, and lost it July 18, 1951 to Jersey Joe Walcott. He's fought four times this year, defeating Rex Layne and Billy Gilliam and knocking out Wes Bascom and Larry Watson.

Valdes, a 6 foot 4 heavyweight, lost to light heavyweight champion Archie Moore in St. Louis last March but came back last Saturday by knocking out Omelio Agramonte in Cuba. His record shows 23 wins in 33 fights.

Wins Amateur Golf Title In Scotland

WESTERN GAILES, Scotland, July 25. (AP)—David Blair won the Scottish amateur golf championship today with a 3 and 1 victory over J. T. McKay in the 36-hole final.

Blair, during a single day in the 1952 British Amateur, defeated the defending champion Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C., and the then reigning American amateur champion, Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Texas.

New Twist—Will Try Channel Hike

BRISTOL, England, July 25 (AP)—Crossing the English Channel takes on a new wrinkle Aug. 14 when an optimistic Briton will try to walk across.

The daredevil, Alexander Wozniak, has outfitted himself with a pair of water skis shaped like small boats and with two ski poles which he uses like paddles. The poles have cork rings on the end which look like life preservers.

Wozniak "walked" four miles yesterday in the Bristol Channel and will take a 21-mile stroll on the River Thames soon as a further prep for his Channel attempt.

Two Refs In Tag Team Rematch Tuesday Night

Another tag team match is on tap at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night when George and Jack Curtis take on "Irish Jack" Kelly and Jack Hader for the third time, still looking for their first decision.

Tuesday night a week ago. "Blind Bill" Barney awarded the verdict to the villainous pair when it was obivous to everyone in the house there was skulldoggery afoot. So Kelly and Hader won a much-protested decision. Last week, after Barney had been "temporarily fired", Joe Corbett, a personable wrestler himself here in recent weeks, was drafted for the officiating duties. All went well until the final minute of the final fall when Hader sneaked under the ropes, seen by everybody in the Arena except Corbett, who must have 70-80 vision, and spilled Jack Curtis, who was holding Kelly high in the air preparing to dump him to the mat for the third time. When Curtis was thus upset, Kelly, who is no Earl E. Times, came down on top and flattened thte elder Curtis long enough for Corbett, who had now recovered his sight, to count him down for the pin.

So Tuesday night there will be two referees. Barney will be back, and promoter Kallio has not named a second official as yet, but will do so tomorrow.

Two preliminaries, between opposing relay team members, will open hostilities at 8:15. The Arena has been newly air-cooled for the convenience of wrestling patrons, who need some method of cooling after the last two decisions.

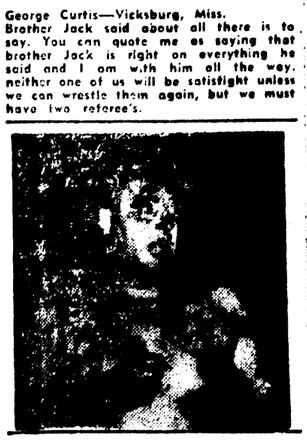
TWO REFEREES

At Gus Kallio's Arena
Tuesday Night

Jack Curtis former world's Light-heavyweight champion—Said after the match last Tuesday night—I know we had Kelly beat for the deciding fall when Hader interfered and caused me to be upset. Now I challenge Kelly and Hader for tag team match next Tues. Nite winner take all Basis—providing we have two referees.

George Curtis—Vicksburg, Miss. Brother Jack said about all there is to say. You can quote me as saying that brother Jack is right on everything he said and I am with him all the way. neither one of us will be satisfight unless we can wrestle them again, but we must have two referee's.



Irish Jack Kelly—Pride of the Yankees. In the dressing room Kelly and Hader shook hands and Kelly said, Well, old partner—we did it again. Then Kelly keep on talking. Curtis Brothers make a tough team alright, but we are too clever for them and I also believe we have them bested in speed and skill. We showed them how we wrestle up in Mo. Answer for their challenge—I see Curtis Bro's statement, they want another match winner take all basis providing there's two referee. Hader and I accept challenge, but only in 40-60 basis, unless we know who the referee's are.

Jack Hader said, It does not make any difference how many referee's we are going to have, the best men are going to win and we already have proven to be superior for Curtis boys. So let them come on. We take our stand against of Curtis Bro's any time.

Tues. Nite—Wrestling tag team match. Two falls to win with 90 minute time limit. Jack Curtis and His partner Geo. Curtis VS Irish Jack Kelly and his partner Jack Hader.

One of the referee's will be Bill Barney owner and operator of Barney's Garage in W. Monroe.

Adm. Reserved seats $1.50—Gen. Adm. $1.00. Children under 12—50c and Children under 6 walking—25c. Arena Phone 2-2261.

Stewart, Ford Tied For Lead In Kansas City Open

Mangrum, Oliver, Furgol, Turnesa All Tied For 2nd

By SKIPPER PATRICK

KANSAS CITY, July 25 (AP) — Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., birdied four of the last five holes for a third round 5-under-par 67 today and pulled up even with Earl Stewart Jr., Dallas, with a 54-hole score of 202 in the Kansas City Open Golf Tournament.

Ford started the round in the $17,500 event two strokes off Stewart's leading pace of 133. He was out in 35, one under par, and in with 32 strokes, four under. He made a 50-foot putt for a birdie on the 16th green.

Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., the 1950 champion here, caught up with Stewart on the outgoing nine but dropped off the pace and came in with a 69 and 204. That tied him with Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill.; Ed Oliver, Palm Springs, Calif., and Jim Turnesa in second place.

Stewart needed great shots on the last two holes for his 68. He hit a No. 2 wood 25 feet from the pin on the 490-yard 17th and holed out for an eagle 3. His five iron was six inches short of another eagle on the 18th.

A crowd estimated at 8,000 watched the action on the 6,500-yard Milburn Country Club layout.

Fifty-four hole leaders:

Earl Stewart Jr., Dallas, 133-68 202.

Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y., 135-67—202.

Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., 137-67—204.

Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., 135-69—204.

Bo Wininger, Oklahoma City, 139-67—206.

Ted Gwin, Salina, Kan., 137-70—207.

Fred Haas Jr., New Orleans, 135-72—207.

Duke Gibson, Kansas City, 136-71 —207.

Ruston Grid Jamboree Slated For August 21

RUSTON, La. July 25. (Special) —Football fans of north Louisiana will be treated to another taste of pre-season pigskin activity this year when the Ruston Lions Club stages its second annual Football Jamboree on August 21, with teams from eight high schools of the area participating. The jamboree, to be held in the Louisiana Tech Stadium, will be a night affair, beginning at 7:30 p.m., with pre-game events beginning as early as 6:30 p.m.

The jamboree will consist of four separate games, all to be played within a period of about two and one-half hours. Each game will consist of two regulation 10-minute halves of high school football activity, and should give both coaches and fans some good ideas about the potentialities of the various teams for the coming season. Each game will be conducted in the same manner as a regular game, including times out, substitutions, and other features.

Coach James W. Mize, who is general chairman of the Ruston Lions Club jamboree committee, has emphasized that the jamboree this year will be more interesting and outstanding than the one last year, since fan interest can be expected to be greater and the teams themselves probably will be much stronger. In a brief statement, he said, "We definitely are expecting this second jamboree to be much bigger and better than our initial effort of last year. Contacts have been made already with teams from high schools which are definitely planning to participate. These six teams are Arcadia, Farmville, Jena, Jonesboro-Hodge, Minden, and Ruston. I am sure that the addition of two more teams to this list will make it possible to have an outstanding jamboree."

It was pointed out that negotiations are under way with other teams, so that a full state of four games can be played. Further plans already announced by Coach Mize include provision for pre-game activities, at which time various bands from the high schools may take the field to perform for the crowd. All bands in uniform and prepared to participate in furnishing music for the occasion will be admitted free to the jamboree.

Other features of the evening will include introductions of queens representing each of the participating teams, presentation of distinguished guests, and a special brief opening ceremony by members of the Ruston Lions Club. According to an announcement by Dr. Paul T. Hendershot, president of the club, a special invitation has been issued to Governor and Mrs. Robert F. Kennon to attend the jamboree again this year. They were special guests of the Ruston Lions Club last year at the time of the first jamboree.

Additional distinguished guests who already have been invited include Lieutenant-Governor C. E. (Cap) Barham and Mrs. Barham; President and Mrs. R. L. Ropp, of Louisiana Tech; State Senator and Mrs. James Hinton, Downsville, State Representative and Mrs. L. D. (Buddy) Napper, Ruston; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Preaus, Farmerville; and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Heard, Ruston. Mr. Preaus is president of the Louisiana Tech Alumni Assiciation, and Mr. Heard is a member of the state board of education.

High school principals and their wives, representing the eight teams to participate in the jamboree, will be special guests, and will occupy boxes near the 50-yard line, next to the president's box, in the west stadium. Those six high schools which have already accepted invitations to the jamboree will be represented by their principals, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hester, Arcadia; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Elliott, Farmerville; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brooks, Jena; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bailey, Jonesboro-Hodge; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Williams, Minden; and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hanchey, Ruston.

Tickets to the jamboree will go on sale next week in Ruston, at prices of $2 for box seats; $1.50 for reserved seats in west stadium; $1 for adult general admission; and 50 cents for students. Members of the Lions Club, as well as business establishments in Ruston, will sell the tickets. Mail orders will be accepted by the Ruston Lions Club, if accompanied by payment for tickets ordered.

Dee Fondy Homer In Ninth Enables Cubs To Nip Bucs

PITTSBURGH, July 25. (AP) — First Baseman Dee Fondy poked a homer into the leftfield bullpen in the ninth inning to break up a tie ball game and give the Chicago Cubs a 5-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates today. Turk Lown won his fourth game of the year in relief. Johnny Lindell was the loser.

Jerry Ford Takes Post As Athletic Director At Penn

PHILADELPHIA, July 25 (AP) — Jerry Ford, former varsity football player and director of freshman athletics at the University of Pennsylvania today was named director of intercollegiate athletics at Penn. He succeeds Francis T. Murray.

Ford's appointment was announced by William H. Dubarry, executive vice president of the university. The new director will assume his new post on August 1, following completion of a tour of duty as a lieutenant commander in the U. S. navy reserve.

The appointment of Ford is the third in a series of major moves made in the university's athletic department since agreement between Murray and football Coach George Munger broke into the open last winter. Murray was ousted and Munger later announced that the 1953 season would be his last as head football coach. Munger will remain a member of the faculty in the physical education department.

Since Murray's resignation, Gene D. Gisburne, dean of admissions, has been serving as acting director of athletics. The 42-year-old Ford has been serving as public information officer to Rear Adm. Thomas H. Binford, commandant of the armed forces information school, Fort Slocum, N. Y.

Ford graduated from Penn in 1932 and earned a master of arts degree from the university in 1942.

JAMESBURG, N. J., July 25 (AP) —Ben Hogan's August golf exhibition in New Jersey will be an 18-hole charity event at the Forsgate Country Club on Aug. 12. A part of the gate receipts will go to the boys club of Newark.

Jerry Volpe, Foresgate pro, and Chet Sanok, also of Forsgate and the Metropolitan Open champion, are two of the three players who shoot with Hogan.

First Aid Scores In Saranac, Pays Backers $134.40

NEW YORK ,July 25 (AP)—They paid off in boxcar numbers at Jamaica today when the Brookmeade stable's long shot, First Aid, returned $134.40 for $2 while capturing the $23,700 Saranac Handicap. The favored Beachcomber from Alfred Vanderbilt's barn was second.

It was a real shocker for the crowd of 30,917, which had established Native Dancer's stablemate as a 3-5 favorite on the strength of five straight victories. The customers had bet him like they do the Dancer, but Beachcomber did not run like the reigning three-year-old champion.

Jockey Augustine Catalano, 24, Arlington, Va., kept First Aid well off the pace in the early part of the mile and sixteenth event and was third an eighth of a mile from the finish. Here he sent the chestnut gelding through along the rail to win by a length and three quarters.

Beachcomber, ridden by Eric Guerin, had raced sixth most of the way as Howley E. Jackson's Ceasar did set the pace at the start. Guerin brought Beachcomber into the middle of the track as they turned for home but he couldn't catch the surprising winner. He did nose out C. V. Whitney's Fly Wheel for second.

The winner was timed 1:43 4-5 on a fast track, compared with the track record of 1:42 2-5, set by One Hitter in 1950.

The few who had bets on First Aid also got $25.40 for place and $12.90 to show.

The major periods begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods are of somewhat shorter duration.

WHEN THIS PICTURE WAS TAKEN, the man at the field radio was calling a message to a battery of artillery. Today, he has a message for us. It is this: "Soldier or citizen, we all want peace. We want it enough to defend it—as we would defend our freedom. And if a peaceful future for our country depends upon our strength, we will always be ready."

We at home are keeping America economically strong—by investing in United States Savings Bonds—just as our Armed Forces are keeping her militarily strong. An enormous thing, but we're equal to it—43 million of us now own Bonds! Because we want financial security for ourselves. Because we want peace. And we know now that peace is only for the strong.

Plan to save more—starting today—through U. S. Savings Bonds. Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work—a simple, sure plan that saves something out of your pay check before you're tempted to spend it. You may invest as little as 25c a week or as much as you like. The important thing is, you'll be saving regularly—and those savings mount up! If you are self-employed, join the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank. You build security for yourself, your family, and your country—when you save with United States Savings Bonds.

Here's how E Bonds now earn more money for you!

Now safe, sure U. S. Series E Savings Bonds pay an even better return than ever before . . . thanks to 3 brand new money earning features announced by the U. S. Treasury.

1 Now every Series E Bond you get begins earning interest after only 6 months. It earns 3%, compounded semiannually, when held to maturity.

2 Every Series E Bond you own can now go on earning interest for 10 more years after it reaches the original maturity date.

3 All maturing E Bonds automatically earn interest at the new, higher rate (average 3% compounded semiannually).

Start now! Invest more savings in better-paying Series E Bonds—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank!

Peace is for the strong. For peace and prosperity invest in U. S. Savings Bonds!

LEAVING DEPARTMENT

BATON ROUGE, La., July 25—UP—John B. St. Romain, former head of the driver's license and financial responsibility divisions of the State Department of Public Safety, has been released from the department effective Aug. 7, State Safety Director Chester B. Owen said Saturday.

St. Romain has been placed on annual leave, the director said.

Since Perry Johnson of Baton Rouge has headed the two auto divisions, Owen said, St. Romain has been acting as assistant to the director.

St. Romain said he plans to return to private law practice.

Underground Supply Of Oil Is Unlimited

TULSA, Okla., July 25 (AP)—If the sometimes predicted critical oil shortage in the Western Hemisphere should materialize in the foreseeable future, it will not be because there isn't plenty underground.

That's the assurance the Independent Petroleum Association of America gives in its book, "Petroleum in the Western Hemisphere," published after two years of research.

Several hundred billion barrels of oil and natural gas liquids in the earth are awaiting the wildcat driller, the IPAA estimates.

Moreover, the association said, improved technological methods probably will increase the supply by drawing upon some 100 billion barrels of oil that cannot be tapped with today's equipment.

The report quotes an Association of American Petroleum Geologists prediction that possible future oil lands in the United States will cover about half of the total land area of the country.

They include extensions of many present oil fields plus areas in Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Arkansas, Alabama, Georgia, Florida and a strip through most of the Atlantic Seaboard states.

Known hemispheric deposits of oil and natural gas liquids recoverable under present methods and economics are adjudged to be 46.2 billion barrels.

In addition, the book states, oil shales, oil sands, solid bitumens, asphalts and vein deposits account for several billion more barrels whose recovery depends upon improved economics and partly upon better extraction methods. The same applies to coal deposits which possibly could provide billions more barrels.

A qualified forecast by the IPAA study declares crude oil and natural gas liquids production in the Western Hemisphere will total 13,420,000 barrels by 1960. The prediction is based on past trends and cautious that political or economic factors could change the estimate.

The Hemisphere's crude output in 1951 was 8,479,000 barrels daily, or 72.4 per cent of the total world production.

Production of crude oil and natural gas liquids in the United States from 1941 to 1951 rose from 4,034,000 barrels. The IPAA survey said at this rate domestic production by 1960 should reach 9,300,000 barrels per day.

From 1946 to 1951, Canada boosted by 514 per cent her crude and natural gas liquids output. Her production in 1951 was 256,000 barrels daily and the IPAA believes it will hit 600,000 barrels in the next seven years.

Canada is the Western Hemisphere fourth largest oil producer. The United States, Venezuela and Mexico lead in that order. The four countries account for 96.6 per cent of the Hemisphere's output.

Venezuela's 1951 crude production was 1,705,000 barrels daily and Mexico's was 211,000 barrels.

Estimated known crude oil reserves in Canada and Mexico, according to IPAA, are 1.4 billion barrels. Venezuela's are believed to be about 10 billion barrels. Domestic reserves are listed at 32.2 billion barrels.

The IPAA predicted the future total production rate of crude oil and natural gas liquids in the Hemisphere, excluding the United States and Canada, will average 3,670,000 barrels per day by 1960 compared to 2,152,000 barrels in 1951.

Two Producers Are Brought In During Past Week

Two wells were brought in and two others plugged and abandoned according to a weekly field report of oil and gas wells drilled and completed in the Monroe district for the period ending July 23. The report was issued by the local office of the state department of conservation, minerals division.

Also listed in the report were six new locations and two wells which were converted to salt water injection wells.

The two producers were:

Tests Will Be Given Students At Enrollment

All freshmen enrolling at Northeast State this fall will be given psychology and vocational tests as part of an expanded guidance program to be directed by Dr. Henry W. Sageser, college vocational counselor and assistant professor of psychology. This plan for freshmen group tests will be an added part of the college guidance program and not entrance examinations, Dr. Sageser explained.

In expanding his counseling services to students, Northeast State's psychologist announced that all interested students other than freshmen are eligible to take the tests, many of which are newly obtained. Most of the examinations will be given to groups, but some individual testing will be done, he said.

Dr. Sageser described his new program as consisting of two phases of expansion—testing and selective service work. He was recently appointed liaison officer for the college and the local selective service office. A file on all male students at the college will be maintained in order that any information concerning the man and his draft board will be available at short notice. Any changes in the student's selective service status will be noted

Purpose of the new tests to be given students will be to furnish information to both the student and his faculty adviser so that they can evolve better vocational guidance. In the case of freshmen, the group examinations will be a part of the orientation course required of all new college students here.

The testing program will provide for each student several measures of his abilities and vocattional aptitudes. Although many freshmen enter college with clear-cut occupational goals, there are also many who have no idea as to what career or vocation they seek, the psychologist pointed out. Both groups will be aided through testing, he said. For those who know what they want to do the examinations will confirm or correct it; those who have no idea will be helped by considering the subject.

Two group t[illegible] have been received recently by the college, he stated. They are the "American Council on Education Psychological Examination for College Freshmen" and the "Kuder Preference Record Test." The former will help determine the student's abilities in mathematical problems, language and college work in general, while the latter measures the person's activity interests or preferences.

Results show the areas in which the individual interests are strong and where they are weak. This comparative strength is expressed in terms of how the person's interests compare with the interests typical of persons employed in dozens of specific occupations.

Each student will be free to see his own test results and to discuss them with the vocational counselor.

Summerfield To Be On 'Meet The Press'

Arthur Summerfield, United States post master general, will be featured on "Meet the Press" Sunday night over the National Broadcasting Company. The broadcast will be heard over the local NBC outlet at 10:30 p.m. Monroe time.

It is considered likely that the present survey of fourth class post offices, many in northeast Louisiana, will be brought into the discussion.

West Monroe Post Master Oliver Boyd urged all persons in this section of the state, "especially those living in small post office areas," to listen to the program Sunday night.

Flower Show Theme At Tech 'Summer Time'

RUSTON, July 25 (Special) — "Summer Time" will be the theme of a student class flower show which will be open to the public from 1-6 p. m. on Thursday, July 30, in the horticulture laboratory of the agriculture building at Louisiana Tech.

The show will emphasize flower arrangement as considered in a course offered in the school of agriculture for the first time at Tech this summer. The class is taught by John A. Wright, associate professor of horticulture.

In the show will be arrangements of marigolds, zinnias, roses and other summer time flowers grown at the Tech farm and supplementary flowers grown by the class members at their homes.

The flower course is being taken by regular Tech students for credit and by special drive-in students who are auditing the class without credit, Mr. Wright said.

Ridge Avenue Baptists To Break Ground

The Ridge Avenue Baptist Church, West Monroe, is breaking ground for the construction of a new educational building.

The new edifice will be a two story brick building, 40 by 110 feet. The church has already completed one two story educational building and an auditorium, but plans are made to erect a much larger auditorium in the near future. Work on the grounds for the new building got under way the past week by J. B. and Monty Salley, contractors. The structure will cost $60,000.

Dr. Ben Oliphint To Fill Methodist Church At College

Memorial Methodistts will have one worship service this morning instead of the regular two that are usually held at 8:30 and 11:00. Dr. Ben Oliphint will preach at the service which will be held at 8:45 a. m. The pastor, Rev. Ralph Cain, is out of the city serving a period of active duty with the U. S. Air Force at Enid, Okla.

The special music will be furnished by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Estelle Sanders. Wesley's "Jesus Lover of My Soul" will be sung. A nursery will be maintained during the service. Church School will follow immediately, with classes for all ages.

The night program will feature hymn-singing, an altar period, and a special film, "No Other Gods." A time of fellowship after church will be held.

N.E. Coop To Hold Meet August 4

WINNSBORO, July 25 (Special) —R. E. Holladay, Jr., manager of the Northeast Louisiana Power Cooperative, Inc., has announced that the annual meeting of the 7,576 member Co-op will be held in the Winnsboro High school auditorium Tuesday, August 4.

The meeting will open at 9 a. m. and the principal address will be delivered by Congressman Otto E. Passman at 10 a. m. The business meeting is scheduled to get under way at 10:35 a. m.

Also included on the program are music by Fred Williams and the Midnight Ramblers, invocation by the Rev. W. H. Bengston, pastor of the Winnsboro First Methodist Church; a welcome address by Robert F. Mulhearn, mayor of Winnsboro; presentation of reports, election of directors and officers for the ensuing year and drawing for "nice assortment of prizes for holders of lucky numbers"

Youth Arrested In Burglary Of Furniture Store

Early yesterday afternoon city detectives and members of the sheriff's department arrested James Louis Foster, 18, of West Monroe, on a charge of burglarizing the Star Furniture store Friday night.

According to Chief Tolbert of the city detectives Foster admitted entering the furniture store Friday night and stealing two pistols, a box of cartridges, and five dollars in cash. The total loot was valued at $94.50.

Detectives investigating the case stated that entrance was gained to the store by climbing a telephone pole adjacent to the building and breaking open a skylight on the roof.

Police received the call at 7:45 yesterday morning. Deputy sheriffs and detectives lifted a number of finger prints at the scene of the crime, which were identified as those of Foster. He was picked up by police in West Monroe early yesterday afternoon.

Chief Tolbert said that it was the second time that Foster had burglarized the furniture store in about two years. He had previously been convicted of the charge and sentenced to three years in jail, but was paroled after a year. He was still on parole at the time of Friday night's theft.

All the loot was reported to have been recovered.

Ouachita Scouts Due To Arrive Back On Monday

Latest reports received from the Ouachita Valley contingent of the Boy Scouts and leaders who have attended the third national jamboree in California indicate that the group will not arrive at Camp Ki-Ro-Li until late Monday.

The three special buses will arrive at Camp Ki-Ro-Li.

Due to the expected late arrival and the uncertainty of the hour, provisions are being made for the boys to remain in camp overnight, if they wish.

Police Reports

Five persons were arrested for operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating liquors according to a weekly arrest report issued by headquarters of the Louisiana state police, Troop F. The report included all arrests made by members of the troop.

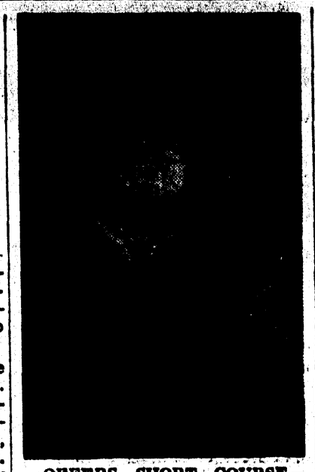
Hammond Chief Dismissed By Mayor

HAMMOND, La., July 25—UP—William Thompson served as acting chief of police here Saturday after the former chief, Robert Edwards, said he was fired from the job because he was "too good" a police officer.

Edwards said that Mayor James Stire fired him because he refused to drop charges against persons arrested at the request of politicians. He said his chief assistant, Gene Wilson, also was dropped from the force.

Stire, who appointed Thompson acting chief, refused to give any reason for dismissing Edwards.



OFFERS SHORT COURSE—Dean William M. Smith of Northeast State will direct a short course in social studies, opening Monday at 9 a.m. on the local campus. The five-day program, which carries college credit, is being offered at the request of teachers and administrators in this area.

Swimming is always a popular activity at Ki-Ro-Li. Seated at the edge are Paulette Buttita, Barbara Jackson, Carol Jean Cahn, Judy Willis, Barbara Higgins, Peggy Lanier. In the water are Gayle Dunn, Penny Nichols, Laura Allen, Anne Quillen, Sally Pierce, Janet Noland, Karen Bauer, and Paula Bauer. Standing are Musette Roy, Ronnie Lee Smith, Helen Martin and Marretta Heidenreich.

Preparing vegetables for a stew which they will cook over an outdoor fire are Mary Martin, Harriet Hayes, Cecie Wood, Patsy Riser, and Mary Claire Hansen.

Each unit set up a complete handwashing facilities in its part of camp. Shown making use of the tripod they have lashed are Mary Jo Strausser, Jolene Buttita, Judith Netherland and Natalie Roy of the Pine Wood unit.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: I was going steady with my boy friend for almost five years when I saw him with another woman and broke up with him. He then married her but two months later, met me, told me he was having the marriage annulled and left her. When he could not obtain an annulment and his wife refused to divorce him, I moved in with him. We love one another and he does everything he can to make me happy and comfortable; we have been together for four years. He could now start his own divorce proceedings but has put off because he says he needs $250. Recently, however, he paid $300 for a car. When I ask him when we will be married, he says, "Soon." What do you think I should do? — Ann

The car deal is your answer. The car is more important to your "husband" than making marriage possible. After the car, it will be something else. Wake up little dreamer. Why should the man marry you? He is quite content as things are. He can walk out on you at any time. You have no legal claim or protection. Try walking out yourself. If he wants you badly enough, he can make it legal. If he does not, this is a good time to find out before you are any older or become an unwed mother.

Dear Mrs. Landers: Before entering the service I dated frequently but knowing I would be in the service, did not allow myself to fall in love. When I came back I found that all of my old dates were married. So I began dating younger girls and find that I do not feel at ease with them; they seem to think and act differently than I do.

However, I have been dating an 18-year-old girl at work and we seem to have a reasonably good time when we are together; I am 24. I know she will mature in time but I keep feeling that I am too old for her and might do her more harm than good. What do you think? — Bewildered.

Under what cabbage leaf have you been hiding, "old man" of 24? An 18-year-old girl of today is no child. Many are married and mothers of children. The "difference" that you detect in your dates is not due to their youth but of a change in thinking, attitude and values that occurred while you were away. It is you who has to "catch up," not they. Six years is not a great difference in age. Give the girl two years at which time you will be 26 and you both will have your feet on the same path.

Dear Mrs. Landers: I was very disgusted with you when you told "Clara S." to tell her nervous neighbor to get out her checkbook and buy the farm for Clara and her brood! Mothers such as Clara do not discipline their children when they need it but let them exert their so-called "natural emotions" as they please at the expense of other people's nerves. Those of us who try to keep our surroundings nice are faced with the "Claras." When we ask them to tell their children not to trample our flowerbeds or throw rubbish around they get as mad as wet hens. They answer, "Johnny and Susie have to play somewhere!" — J. R.

PS — I am a mother.

Let's watch our blood pressure. If you had read the entire article you would have noted that "Clara" was advised, also, to understand the neighbor's side of the problem and was given other, and more practical, solutions.

Sorry to have upset you but I am picketing for parents who are brave enough to defy people who frown on children and large families and do the job for which they were put on earth—rear children.

PS—I, too, am a mother and the owner of flowerbeds and have found that trampled flowerbeds survive and revive but trampled children do not.

Young Couple's Wedding Plans Announced Today

JONESBORO — Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Johnson of 831 Polk Street, Jonesboro, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Miss Annise Virginia Johnson to Mr. Jimmie William Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmidt of Hodge.

The double-ring ceremony will be performed August 8, 1953 at seven-thirty in the evening in the home of Rev. John S. Hurt, pastor of the Jonesboro Baptist Church with Reverend Hurt hearing the wedding vows.

The bride's only attendant will be Miss Marcia Ann Schmidt, sister to the groom and the bridegroom's father will serve his son as best man.

Both the bride and bridegroom are students of Louisiana Tech where the bride is registered with the secretary-science department and the groom is a student of the mechanical engineering department.

Following the ceremony the couple will go on a short wedding trip and will be at home in Jonesboro upon their return home. Both plan to continue studying at Louisiana Tech.

Natchez Wedding Of Interest In Monroe

On Saturday evening, July the eighteenth, Miss Anne Clayton Benoist, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Eugene Benoist, became the bride of Eugene Lee Wallace, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lee Wallace, of Tallulah, La. The vows were exchanged at half after seven in the First Presbyterian Church in Natchez, Miss.

A program of nuptial music and traditional wedding marches were presented by Harold Koerber, organist, and Mrs. George Abrams, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white organdy and embroidered swiss. The tight fitting basque was of embroidered swiss with a deep yoke of illusion. Triple folds of self material created a low off-shoulder effect which tapered to a low point in the back and the sleeves were brief. The voluminous skirt of organdy fell from a pointed basque in both the front and back and flared into a cathedral length train. Enhancing the skirt were two panels formed of graduating tiers of embroidered swiss extending from the waistline to the hem toward the center front while the same effect was repeated on the skirt back.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a coronet encrusted with seed pearls and she carried bouquet of white bridal roses surrounded by sprays of valley lilies on a puff of white maline. Extending from the bouquet was a shower of white satin ribbons with lilies of the valley caught in lover's knots.

Mrs. Glenn Ruffin, of Laurel, Miss., served her sister as matron of honor. Her gown, of aqua embroidered organdy, was designed with strapless bodice and bouffant floor-length skirt. A pleated ruching of organdy, matching in color, bordered the bodice top while a fitted stole of the same material created a portrait neckline. The skirt featured a flounce of matching organdy at the hemline and was worn over period hoops. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses attached to a puff of chartreuse maline with loops of talisman ribbons and her headdress was a spray of matching flowers.

Her bridesmaid attendants were Miss Emily Howard Hall, a cousin, from Leland, Miss. Miss Caroline Benoist, Miss Jane Feltus, Miss Ethel Green, Miss Ilene Byrne Miss Lorna Lynn Purnell and Miss Dunbar Babbitt, from Natchez, Miss. They were gowned alike in pastel yellow embroidered organdy fashioned a long identical lines as the honor attendant and they carried identical bouquets.

Eugene Lee Wallace, Sr. served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Lt. Edwin E. Benoist, Jr., brother of the bride, Sam Emerson, Winnfield, La., Sam Barnes, Hattiesburg, Miss., Lamar T. Loe, Jr., and Richard Sevier, of Tallulah, La., D. R. Sartor, Jr., Alto, La., and James E. Wynne, New Orleans. Ushers were John F. Benoist and Eugene M. Benoist of Natchez, Miss., cousins of the bride.

Reception

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on South Union Street. Throughout the interior of the home were quantities of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums arranged with fern.

The bride's table in the dining room was overlaid with an Italian embroidered cutwork linen cloth and in the center was the tiered wedding cake. On opposite ends of the table were white tapers set in silver candelabra.

Guests were also received in the upper and lower gardens which were illuminated by Japanese lanterns. A program of music was played here throughout the hours of the reception.

Alternating in serving punch were Misses Ruth Ellen Green, Roan Goisenberger, Eleanor Byrne, Gail Jenkins, Emma Gene Jones, Dorothy Marie Stone, Peggy Mitchell, Katherine Ferguson and Catherine Roll, Natchez, Mississippi.

The bride's cousin, Miss Evelyn Turner, presided at the guest register and others assisting as floating hostesses were Mrs. Louis Benoist, Mrs. Percy Benoist, Mrs. Roger Williams, Mrs. Jesse Henderson, Mrs. Kuehnle, Mrs. R. P. Stewart, Mrs. Francis Dixon, Mrs. Hattie G. Bauer, Mrs. Mary Louise Giles, Mrs. William Fetus, Mrs. Allen Bowie, and Mrs. W. I. Hooks, all of Natchez, Mississippi.

The couple left later for a wedding trip to be spent touring the Smoky Mountains and Virginia. For traveling the bride changed to a costume suit of natural colored linen with matching accessories and her corsage was a spray of green orchids.

Upon their return they will reside in New Orleans, where the groom is a senior law student at Tulane University. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, social fraternity, and Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity. The bride attended H. Sophie Newcomb College, where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, social sorority.

Attending the wedding from out of town were Miss Snodie Howard, Greenville, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hall, Jr., John Hall III, Miss Emily Hall, Leland, Miss. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Turner, and daughters, Evelyn and Beth, Holandale, Miss Helen N. Turner, Columbus, Miss., Mrs. Leroy P. Turner, Memphis, Tenn., Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Ruffin, Laurel, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. Ben Walker, Leland, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wynne, Guy LaMue, New Orleans, Dr. and Mrs. D. T. Milam, Monroe, Mrs. G. F. Beckett and children, DeWitt and Mary Eve from ElReno, Okla., Sonny Texada and Bill Calhoun from Alexandria, Don Mack Mayor, from Winnsboro, Bill Watson, St. Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Workman and daughter Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar T. Loe Sr., Mrs. Lamar T. Loe, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Schicker, Mrs. E. H. Johnson, Mrs. Adeline Couch, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Windham, Mrs. L. A. Nettles, Jr., Miss Baba Pollard from Tallulah, and Mrs. C. F. Blanchard and Mrs. Eulah B. Grigsby from Epps, Louisiana.

Fashion Starts With Jacket

Almost every fashion for the college or career girl this fall starts with a jacket, points out Women's Wear Daily. Plain or fancy, boxy or fitted, the jacket is the core of the costume to which the skirt, vest, shirt, slacks, shorts and even belts are coordinated.

New fabrics contribute to the jacket's versatility. Bright felt, wall-paper-printed velveteens, damasks (from the upholstery field), velvets, tweeds, flannels, jerseys, suede or furt rimmed collars, cotton tweeds, cashmere, camel hair, corduroys — when the college girl asked for variety she opened the flood gate for new ideas for jackets.

Flyaway jackets are a new fashion which promises to be more important as the season wears on. These are flared jackets which come just below the waist — are seen in a buttonless pullover style with V neck in a mohair fleece that goes over a basic black jersey "leotard" dress with style — and in a flared jacket with buttoned front panel which tucks into the high cummerbund of a pair of slacks.

Finger-tip jackets which are really coats in fabrics like chinchilla and whipcord are lined with the metal-insulated linings for extra warmth — and really should be the answer to the college girl's need for a smart and warm jacket which can be worn on a bicycle. Some of the newest have fur collars for fun — raccoon, beaver, leopard. The blazer is still well represented, but out-blazing the blazer is the boy jacket without all the crest embroidery and piping.

Bright linings underscore the importance of jackets for fall. Silk stripes, rose prints, paisleys are the bright surprise inside the jacket. When matched with sweaters or blouses the linings complete the costume look.

Drawstring waistline jackets in wool jerseys are soft enough and versatile enough to take the place of a sweater. This style is seen in every imaginable fabric, starting with early season cottons and continuing through to evening velveteens.

O'Neal-Scurria

TALLULAH — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scurria announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Grace Scurria to Mr. Sidney O'Neal, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. O'Neal of Swartz, La. The wedding will take place in the late fall.

The wedding will be an event of August 16 at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe.

Girl Scouts Enjoy Camping At Ki-Ro-Li

This year's day camp set some kind of record for rainy days, we'll bet. And while the rain is bound to interfere with some activities, it's surprising how much goes on in spite of the drizzles and the sprinkles and the downpours.

You would have laughed to see Brownies holding an umbrella over the tiny fire they were trying to encourage to burn during a shower. Their perseverance paid off, and the girls made an excellent stew. Mrs. Fred Riser was the patient leader who helped with the project. The rain obligingly held off so the girls could eat their lunch out of doors. In fact, only one planned cookout has had to be turned into a cookin.

Once each week each unit cooks its lunch and for dessert usually makes ice cream. Last week two other units tried foil cooking and enjoyed the novelty. Making fires with wet wood has been good practice, but a bit discouraging at times especially when all is going well, and another sudden shower douses the fire.

The units have been taking turns planning the campfire each afternoon. Dramatizing songs in a favorite, as well as games that all can play, and singing, of course.

Tuesday the Woodsmen unit invited the campers to their unit home, which they had raked and cleaned for the occasion. The visitors were interested in the lashed tables the girls had made and the samples of lashing on the bulletin board.

Dramatizing "Ten Thousand Men" was fun for the actors and spectators alike, since all took part in singing the lively song. Frances Louise Yeldell as the farmer wearing overalls brown paper was perfect for the part of the farmer. Peggy Pierce as the Mermaid was the glamour girl of that dramatization.

The Pinewooders had charge of campfire in the council ring one afternoon with the program based on trees. A "What is it?" game was fun, especially the gum tree which might take a little explaining. Since Girl Scout campers are asked not to chew gum at camp, those who forget are always asked to put it on a "gum" tree. Now, in this case, it is not a real gum tree at all, just the nearest tree, on which a girl sticks her gum as high as she can reach. This solves the problem of stepping on gum or getting it in ones hair. Quite a neat method of disposal, we'd say.

Now Monday night the campers who still want more experience will have an overnight at Pine Wood.

Selecting Beachwear

Bathing suit selection is a very confusing business for many women, judging by the number of mistaken choices one sees on the beaches.

If a woman keeps her figure needs in mind when she shops, she'll have less trouble. She should try the suit on and look at herself in a full-length mirror, both front and rear views.

If she's a mature woman, there are certain suits she can eliminate at once before she enters the fitting room (unless her figure is girlish and exceptional). The figure-hugging lastex suits, whether in taffeta, satin or cotton, are not for her. The extra fat must go somewhere when such a girdle-type suit is worn and it generally shows at the thighs and back in a roll where the suit cuts into the flesh. A bilt-in bra, however, is an absolute necessity.

Almost needless to say, the two-piece suit and the maillot are out for the vast majority of mature women. Likewise, the white suit, the most demanding type of all, are definitely for the younger set.

The little-boy shorts type of suit might be a good choice since it doesn't outline the flesh. Even this suit is out for the women who is quite overweight or has very infirm muscles. She'll look her best in skirt-type suits that are long enough—at least mid-thigh. Black is the best color choice for her. It wil look smart if it's well cut an easy fit, neither voluminous nor figure-hugging.

A busty woman need'nt bother trying on the suit with ruffles and frills across the top. These suits are for the girls who need building up.

Dr. Thatcher Will Marry In Detroit

He was presented a gold key and made a member of the research department of the hospital, with papers recently published in the April issue of the American Journal of Physiology. He has also passed successfully the National Board of Medical Examiners. Phanor has returned to Philadelphia to enter the University of Pennsylvania Hospital as assistant resident in general surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Crowley and their daughter, Marilynn have returned from a delightful vacation in Mexico. They spent several days in Mexico City where they toured the floating gardens of Xochimilco, the pyramids at Teotihuacan, Chapultepec Castle, Shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe and were spectators at the bull fights. Later they flew to Acapulco and were guests at the Majestic Hotel. They enjoyed several deep sea fishing trips during their stay at Acapulco.

Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Collins and their son, Jack, have returned from a delightful Caribbean cruise aboard the Chirique. They spent several days in the Panama Canal zone, Columbia, Honduras and other points of interest in Central and South America. Jack won first prize at a costume ball aboard the ship with his Mahatma Gandhi costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Holloway left Friday for a two-week vacation at Rockaway Beach, Mo. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Loeb and their children, Jimmie and Marian, of Corpus Christi, Tex.

Elaine Peters' Engagement Is Announced Today

QUITMAN — Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Peters announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Elaine Peters to Mr. James A. Jenkins, of El Dorado, Ark., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Jenkins of Simsboro. The double ring ceremony will be heard in the Quitman Baptist Church August 15th, at seven o'clock.

Miss Barbara Peters of Northeast College in Monroe will serve her sister as maid of honor.

The bridegroom has chosen his brother-in-law, Mr. Lemoine Hogan of Sibley to serve as best man.

Miss Polly Ann Head of Chatham will furnish the nuptial music and Jimmie Rogers will serve as soloist.

Ushers will be brother-in-laws of the bride, Mr. Jack Shows and Mr. Grady Bates.

Candlelighters will be Johnny Shows and Judy Jenkins. Little Bill Bates, nephew of the bride will serve as ring bearer.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception will be held in the home of the bride's parents in Quitman. After a short wedding trip to the Ozarks the couple will be at home in El Dorado where the groom is employed by the South Western Laboratories Inc.

The bride is a graduate of Louisiana Tech where she received her B. S. Degree and is a teacher in the Quitman High School. The groom is a graduate of Louisiana Tech where he received his B. S. degree and also a graduate of L. S. U. where he received his M. S. degree.

Washing the kitchen walls will yield more satisfactory results if you wash from the bottom up, thus avoiding the hard-to-remove streaks caused by water dripping down a soiled surface.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD — Mrs. William Perry Tomlinson of Choudrant announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her granddaughter, Vivian Eloise Sisemore, to Louie Vernon Culver, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Vernon Culver of West Monroe. Miss Sisemore is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hardy Sisemore of Choudrant.

JULY BRIDE—Mrs. Ansel M. Winham was before her recent marriage Miss Mary Glynn Pipes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pipes of Choudrant. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. G. F. Winham and the late Mr. Winham of Minden.

Winham-Pipes Wedding Is Solemnized In Choudrant

Miss Mary Glynn Pipes became the bride of Mr. Ansel M. Winham of Minden in a beautiful summer wedding solemnized at seven o'clock Tuesday evening at the Baptist Church in Choudrant. The Rev. A. H. Johnson of Ruston, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pipes of Choudrant and the groom is the son of Mrs. G. F. Winham and the late Mr. Winham of Minden.

Mrs. Billy Smith of Minden was the pianist and rendered a concert of prenuptial music. She accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Eugene Frazier, also of Minden who sang "Because" and "Through the Years."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was wearing a gown of white tulle and lace over taffeta. The dress was fashioned with a wide portrait neckline accented by scallops with sequins. The sleeves came to points over the hand and the sweeping skirt extended the length of the cathedral train. The moulded bodice buttoned down the back with tiny covered buttons and the waist was accented with scallops. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a lace crown embroidered with seed pearls and sequins.

Mrs. T. H. Pipes, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Cora Pearl Williams of Ruston and Mrs. Sidney Rhames, sister of the groom, of Minden. Miss Patsy Loyd and Miss Betty Ann Maxwell lighted the candles.

The attendants were dressed identically in floor length gowns of pastel shades. They were fashioned with crushed bodice fitted with scalloped drapes. The matron of honor wore a light pink and the bridesmaids were attired in matching shades of pastel blue. Both candlelighters wore gowns of light yellow styled identically from those of the bridesmaids. They wore half hats with tiny net veils with sequins.

The altar was banked with greenery with bouquets of white gladioli and white daisies placed between wrought iron standards of tall slender burning tapers. Southern smilax entwined the altar rail. The pews were marked by bows of white satin ribbon.

Mr. Ben Winham, Sr. of Plain Dealing, uncle of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Bert Neil Pipes, brother of the bride and Sidney Rhames of Minden.

The bride's mother was wearing a blue lace dress with navy accessories, with a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother, Mrs. Winham, was attired in a light blue lace model with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and held a three-tiered wedding cake circled with white carnations. At the end of the table was the punch bowl presided over by Mrs. Mitchell Dudgale. Miss Ruth Johnson and Miss Irene Fallin assisted in serving the cake.

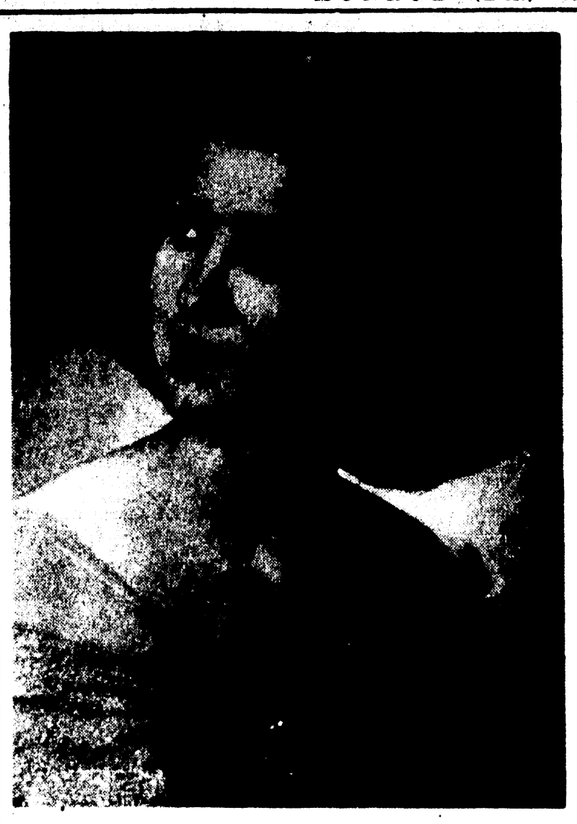
The bride is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. They will make their home in Tucumcari, New Mexico.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. Ben Winham, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ben Winham, Sr. of Plain Dealing; Miss Vera Hendrick, Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Hendrick of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Frazier, Mrs. Billy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Rhames of Minden; Mrs. G. V. Fleming, Jr., of Gibsland; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Williams of Ruston; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sims of Monroe.



TO WED IN CROSSETT—Miss Barbara Sue Rogers daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Rogers of Crossett, Ark., will become the bride of George Sidney Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Chambers of Logan, West Virginia on August 28.

WILL MARRY IN SEPTEMBER—Mr. and Mrs. Odis R. Newman of Winnsboro announce the engagement of their daughter Lucille to Thomas Earl Hale son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thomas Hale of Waterproof. The wedding will be an event of September 29.

News From The Public Library

In spite of the fact that the summer time is the slack season in the publishing world, several interesting books have been added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library this month. "A Lady at Bay" by Edgar Maass is a re-creation of the true story of one of the most fascinating and mysterious women of the 17th century. She was the historic Marquise Marie Madeleine d'Aubray de Brinvilliers, accused of poisoning her father and her two brothers so that she might come into possession of the family fortune. It might be called a historical murder mystery and should appeal to readers of both types of books. "Home to Kentucky" by Alfred Leland Crabbe is another of his exciting stories based on incidents from the early history of Kentucky and Tennessee. This story does for Henry Clay, what "Home to the Hermitage" did for Andrew Jackson. In this book we gain a good picture not only of life in Kentucky, but of the whole young, eager, growing republic. It is a novel that will warm the heart. Dr. Crabbe already has a large public who will welcome his latest book.

There are a number of readers who especially enjoy any book with a Chinese setting. These readers will welcome "The Vermilion Gate" by Lin Yutang. He presents a beautiful and exciting picture of life in China before the rise of the Communists. The book is written with his usual charm and style and will have a large audience appeal. James Michener, author of the book "Tales of the South Pacific," from which the hit play was taken, has a new novel "The Bridges at Toko-ri." It is probably one of the masterpieces of war literature and it is one of the first stories with a background of the Korean war. Don't miss it.

Although Zane Grey has been dead for a number of years, his literary executors manage to bring out a new book each year, from the papers he left. His latest title is "Wyoming." His audience will be eagerly waiting for the book and it is certain to be popular. Another novel which will appeal to the western fans is "Billy the Kid" by Edwin Corle. The author did a great deal of original research and came out with new facts about this man who has been a legend in the southwest. "The Candle's Glory" by Sylvia Thompson is a strange sort of novel, but withal a fascinating one. The characters who walk through its pages will not soon be forgotten.

"The Winds Blow Free" by Louella Grace Erdman is another of her fascinating and realistic stories of life in the Texas Panhandle. She portrays the joys and pleasures of pioneer life in a most accurate manner. It will appeal especially to older girls. "The House of Moreys" by Phyllis Bentley has been compared to "Jane Eyre" and will appeal to the same audience. It is the novel about the ill-fated Moreys whose violence, hatred and suspicion wrecked successive generations. It's scene is in the Yorkshire area that Miss Bentley has made her own. How Eleanor Moreys, a distant relative unravels the tangled skein, makes a most readable and thrilling story.

Surely one of these books will appeal to you and you can borrow it from the Ouachita Parish Public Library.

Chambers-Rogers Wedding Plans Announced Today

Pearl Essence In Nail Polish

Girls who like the iridesence luster type of nail polish will be glad to know that one firm now has it avaible in four new shades.

The shimmering glow results from a sparkling pearl essence added to the formula. The makers claim that this material gives longer wear as well as special beauty. The pearl essence will remain in suspension for a long time before stirring becomes necesary, they say.

To relate the shades to your clothes colors, the makers suggest their pastel rose for black, bright blue or gray and their pastel pink for navy or pink. There's also a flaming shade and an absolutely white shade that's like the pearl itself.

Your pearly iridescent finish will be smooth and even if you're careful to use smooth, even strokes during application. Don't overload the brush nor yet have so little on it that you can't finish the stroke out to the nail tip. Judging the right amount is simply a matter of practice. For long wear, don't be hasty about putting on your second coat. Let the first one dry throughly.

Little Marion Church Gets Wide Recognition

An outstanding honor such as few small churches ever recieve will be awarded to the Marion Methodist church next Wednesday by the conference at EmoryUniversity, Atlanta, Ga. It is based on the showing as exemplified in the theme, "The Rural Church of the Year." This church ranks as runnerup in a state wide contest and the award carries one hundred dollars and a certificate of recognition. The contest was held in the Town and Country development program sponsored by the Sears, Roebuck Foundation in Emory University. To the pastor, Rev. Edwin L. Brock must be accorded recognition for his enlightened and ever indefatigable leadership. In brief here is the story:

"Religion Through Education" is a progress report of the Methodist Church in Marion, La. It attempts to analyze the program, activities, and development of the church for the period of April 1, 1952 to April 1, 1953.

The report has been prepared in connection with the Town and Country Development program sponsored by the Sears - Roebuck Foundation and administered by the Town and Country School of Emory University, Georgia.

As the title implies, the report seeks to show the manner in which a small church in a little north Louisiana rural community has tried to present religion through a program of education that embraces all the activities of the church. The report which was sent in for the program consist of one hundred and five pages of which this is the main section. The report was supplemented by an extensive appendix containing an analysis of the church in relation to the community, country, and world. It contained copies of the church bulletins, financial reports, and samples of every member canvass materials, write-ups by the pastor appearing in current periodicals, a history of the church, an analysis of the parish, a population and housing study of the parish, materials used in mid-week meetings, etc.

The analysis of the church in relation to its own program, the community, the country, and the world was made over a period of several weeks in connection with the mid-week meetings of the church held on Wednesday nights. In this way, many of the active members of the congregation participated in the entire study.

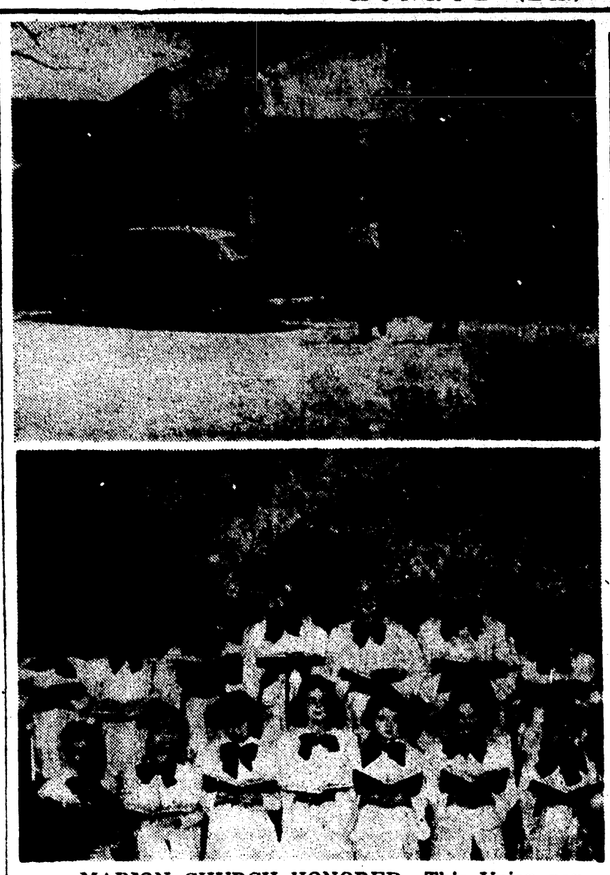
Rev. Holstead Is Leading In Tent Revival Series

Rev. Charles Holstead is preaching nightly at 7:45 and at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, five miles from the city limits on the Arkansas road.

This revival will continue through this week. Assisting Rev. Holstead is Frank Mobley, director of music and Clyde B. Fulton, Jr., musician.

Rev. Holstead is now pastor of the Baptist Church at Hathorn, Miss. while studying for his minister's degree at the Baptist Seminary at New Orleans, La. He was born less than one hundred yards from where the tent is located.

All churches and friends are invited to attend these services which will feature gospel singing and preaching.



MARION CHURCH HONORED—This Union parish church rated as runnerup in a state wide little church contest held in Atlanta, Ga. Upper picture shows the church edifice, while the lower picture is of an active church group. Pictures taken by the church's own photographer.

The first map of America produced after the U. S. Revolution was engraved by Abel Buell who also served time in jail for counterfeiting, says the National Geographic Society.

Amity Baptists To Initiate Revival

The Amity Baptist Church will start a revival series Monday, July 27. Bible study at 7:45 p. m. and service starts at 8 p. m.

The old Amity church building stood on the site where the present church is located. In years gone by many young people have attended this church and have comprised faithful supporters.

The present pastor, Rev. Gerald Davis invites young and old to attend the revival which will be in charge of Rev. Tom Ratcliff, guest pastor, of Jena.

Everybody will be accorded a hearty welcome.

Century Old Church To Be Dedicated Today

A centennial, as well as a revival, will be carried out in a program at Alabama Presbyterian Church, which was organized under a brush arbor in the Sibley community just 100 years ago. There will be services twice daily Sunday at 11 a.m. and at 8 p.m., the morning service being a dedication of the fine new church edifice. Rev. E. L. Gage of Clinton, Miss., a former pastor, and Rev. John Davis, will assist Rev. W. R. Gage, present pastor in the services of dedication. Dinner on the grounds will be served Sunday noon. There will also be services, of revival nature, throughout the week both night and morning.

The site of the rough and rugged initial church edifice is replaced by a building completely modern and with facilities for this growing church much as city churches possess.

This church has a strong hold on affairs of the denomination not only in Sibley but throughout all northeast Louisiana. This church proudly claims that eight members from this church have been claimed by the ministry. Many of them will have an important role in the exercises to be held.

The eight are listed as follows: Rev. D. L. O'Neal, retired moderator of the synod of Louisiana; Rev. Duncan Naylor, U. S. Army chaplain; Rev. Charles Ford, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Hot Springs, Ark.; Rev. Dan Parnell, pastor of the Mansfield Presbyterian Church; Rev. John Davis, pastor at Minden; Rev. Stanford Parnell, pastor of Inman Park Presbyterian church, Atlanta, Ga.; Rev. J. B. Crowley, retired missionary now residing in Wilmington, N. C. and Rev. Littleton, pastor of Bay Street Church, Hattiesburg, Miss.

First pastor of this church was Rev. James H. Hall who built the first pulpit with his own hands. A year later the congregation numbered 34 and at that time the church was represented in the organization of the Red River Presbytery. Ruling Elder L. Smith, represented the church at the first presbytery meeting. The first benches in the church were made from crude logs, a far cry from the modern building that is now being formally dedicated. The membership today is 268.

REV. T. J. WELCH

Doctor's Degree Is Awarded To Rev. T. J. Welch

Rev. T. J. Welch, pastor of First Baptist Church of Sterlington, received his Doctor of Theology Degree from Southwestern Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex., on July 16, 1953. Dr. Welch majored in New Testament and minored in Old Testament and Philosophy of Religion. The subject for his thesis was "A Historio-Exegetical Interpretation of The Terms Used for Moral Evil in Pauline Writings."

He received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Ark., in 1945 and his Bachelor of Divinity Degree from Southwestern Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex., in 1948.

Dr. Welch, now in his fourth year as pastor of First Baptist Church of Sterlington, was accompanied to Fort Worth by his wife, the former Miss Jeffie Liner. His commencement exercises were, also, attended by his daughter, Miss Patricia Welch, who resides in Fort Worth.

Free Methodists Call Pastor For Their Church

The Monroe Free Methodist Church, "Church of the Light and Life Hour," has just been assigned a pastor, Rev. Robert T. Fisher. The assignment was made at the annual conference by the bishop.

Reverend Fisher, native of this state, surrounded by a home that was deeply spiritual, early after conversion decided to follow the ministry. After completing high school he entered Spring Arbor (Mich.) college, and it was there he met and married his wife.

The first pastorate where this couple received a church assignment was at Winnsboro, La. He has been serving as annual conference secretary and editor of the Louisiana conference Messenger. He has had six years in these capacities.

He was sent as Sunday School delegate to the general conference at Winono Lake, Ind., in 1947 and as a youth delegate to Hillsdale, Mich. in 1951.

He is regarded as an outstanding young preacher. He comes to Monroe from Columbia, La. where he was pastor for six years, where, aided by his efforts, a two-story church was erected.

first sermon as pastor here last Sunday to an enthusiastic congregation. The Fishers and two children are now living at 1101 Jackson street.

It is hoped soon to build a church edifice. This church was organized only last March 8, and is growing rapidly.

There were 4,170,000 tractors on American farms in 1952 compared with 1,545,000 in 1940 and 920,000 in 1930.

Lutherans To Install New Pastor Here

The newly called pastor, Rev. Arthur Betz, who recently arrived in the city from Hattiesburg, Miss., will be installed at a special service as minister of Trinity Lutheran parish at 7:30 o'clock on Sunday. Rev. Lothar Kleinhans, pastor at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Shreveport, will serve as officiant and will also deliver the sermon for the occasion.

A number of Lutheran pastors from neighboring cities are expected to assist in the rite of induction. Pastor Betz presently resides at 1905 N. Third St., with Mrs. Betz and son, Robert. Following is the order of the installation service at which Mrs. Shirley Fominaya will serve as organist.

Prelude; Hymn of Welcome; Versicles; Psalmody; Lection; Versicle; Hymn for Spiritual Graces; Sermon: "The Precious Commitment" by Pastor Lothar Kleinhans; Offertory to God; Hymn for a Successful Ministry; Rite of the Installation; Address to the new pastor; Address to the Congregation; Lay on of hands; Charge to the new pastor; Prayer for Divine Blessing; Lord's Prayer; Benediction, by Pastor Arthur Betz.

At 5:30 p.m. the ladies of Trinity parish are serving a supper at the parish house to which all families of the congregation and friends are invited. This will also provide occasion to get acquainted with the newly arrived pastor and Mrs. Betz and son, Robert.

Bible Comment

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

What Does It Mean To Grow In Grace?

The Apostle Peter in the closing of his Second Epistle (II Peter 3:18) admonished his fellow-Christians to "grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ."

With regard to the great essentials of the Gospel of Christ in its proclamation of the power and saving grace of God, and in the application and manifestation of the Gospel in personal character and conduct, there was no division among the great founders of Christianity, regardless of how much they might differ on minor matters.

So, Peter in his call for growth "in grace" is only expressing what Paul emphasized in many ways throughout his Epistles. In Paul's Epistles the word "grace" occurs twice as often as in all the rest of the New Testament. A commentator has pointed out that it is the first word of greeting and the last word of farewell, in Paul's letters.

In Luke 4:22 the reference is to "the gracious words" of Jesus as He spoke in the synagogue of Nazareth. And in Colossians 4:6 Paul advises the disciples there to "let (their) speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt." A good counsel for our own time, especially as it was a way of knowing "how to answer every man."

But grace, for Paul in greeting, farewell, conversation, or manners, always had its meaning in the grace of God manifest in Jesus Christ. Here, as it was the source and power of salvation, was the source of power for Christian living.

It was not something static attained once for all and never changing or growing. It was dynamic, a force ever present and ever active. For Paul himself it was a pressing toward the mark of a goal he had not yet attained (Philippians 3:14).

This growth in grace was in a love abounding in knowledge and in all judgment (Philippians 1:10), and if there were any limits to knowledge the love of Christ passed all knowledge (Ephesians 3:19).

"Let knowledge grow from more to more,
But more of reverence in us dwell;
That mind and soul, according well,
May make one music as before,
But vaster."

There is always a "vaster" for the Christian soul. The riches of Christ are as inexhaustible as they are unsearchable.

Congratulations.... to the Marion Methodist Church

ON A JOB WELL DONE

On July 29 at a Conference on "Religion and Rural America" held at the Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia the Marion Church will be recognized as a runner-up in the contest to select "The Rural Church of the Year" in Louisiana and the South. This Church was recently designated as the runner-up in the contest in Louisiana. As such it will receive an award of $100.00 and a certificate of recognition. The contest was a part of a Town and Country Church Development Program promoted by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation and Emory University.

A goal was set!

RELIGION THROUGH EDUCATION

The Methodist Church in Marion, Louisiana stakes its claim for progress upon the development of a broad educational program during the last three years in all areas of the church life which seeks to promote and encourage Christian living and the application of Christian principles to all areas of life. Its services of worship, its sermons, its mid-week meetings, its church school, its social, missionary, and youth activities have a distinctively educational intent and purpose. Even its revival service this year departed from the conventional to pursue a pattern of educational rather than distinctively evangelistic emphasis. Its total program, therefore, is designed to promote growth in Christian living not narrowly individualistically conceived but embracing one's relation to his social and economic order, his responsibilities toward a world Christian community, his obligations in the area of world peace, his concern for developing better race relations.

Techniques For Sewing Plastics

Your imagination is your only limit when you create clothes and accessories from vinyl plastic film, say home sewing experts. You can get it by the yard in varied textures and weights, in many colors and patterns, and you may select from clear, translucent and opaque.

Just a few of the many things you might make are a rain poncho, a beach bag and mat, and a set of aprons. Terry cloth is used with the plastic to make the beach bag and mat.

Sewing this film is simpler than sewing fabric, and you have the advantage of being able to wash soil off with a damp, sudsy sponge.

Before you begin to sew, let the wrinkles hang out of the plastic film. Smaller pieces hang conveniently over a table edge. Larger ones can be hung over an open door.

Have a thin No. 11 needle and mercerized thread. This is important, for you don't want to tear your plastic film. Set your machine for a slightly longer stitch than that used for cloth fabrics. Moisture may cling to plastic film in humid weather but this problem is easily overcome with talcum powder. Lightly dust the fabric edge to be inserted into the sewing-machine attachment.

Other items to have near you are small bean bags (or other weights) to hold the pattern to the film, a pencil for marking the fabric, and paper clips to keep the cut sections with their pattern. Avoid using pins.

Sewing - center experts suggest that you use light tension and light pressure. You needn't turn under raw edges since plastic film can't fray. For a finished look, use your pinking attachment or pinking shears.

If you're going to sew on a fabric binding, proceed as if you were sewing onto cloth fabric. If the binding is to be plastic, you needn't fold the edges under. Cut it ½ inch wide and insert in the outside scroll of binder.

Before you use a fine or adjustable hemmer, thread a hand needle with double thread. Pass it once through the point of extreme edge of the film to be hemmed. With the double loop of thread in your right hand, lead point of film into the scroll of the hemmer and draw into position by pulling on thread. This will give a true fold at the very edge of the fabric you're hemming. Continue to feed in the same way as you would when handling bias fa[illegible].

Garden News

Pansies And Violas Grow From Seed Planted Now

For shady places in the garden, where the soil is porous and well drained, there is no flower more rewarding in garden color and cut blooms than the pansy. Beginners who want experience in growing biennial flowers should start with the pansy, which is treated as a biennial and usually sown in late summer.

Fill a "flat" with a mixture of sharp sand and your best top soil, sifted. Scatter a packet of seed evenly over the surface, and cover it lightly with sifted soil. Keep most and in the shade until the seed sprout, then place in a protected location where the plants will have a few hours of sunshine daily, and be watered as you do other plants.

When the seedlings are large enough to handle, they can be transplanted to other flats spaced two inches apart each way; but they do not insist upon this. Let them alone if you wish, and when freezing weather comes the flat will be crowded with vigorous plants. Place in a cold frame, or in a protected corner near the house foundation, where there is enough sun to keep down mildew, and cover the flat with dry leaves. Inspect it occasionally to be sure it is not too dry, but let the snow cover it without worrying.

In the spring your pansy plants should look much as they did in the fall, with dark green leaves unfaded beneath the blanket leaves. In a cold frame they can be flowered by tulip time, but a longer garden display will be obtained if the plants are kept in the open, and transplanted to the chosen place as soon as the soil is workable.

In well drained soil with only a few hours sun pansies will bloom all summer. The more blossoms you cut for indoor use, the more the plants will bear. If in midsummer the flowers become fewer, cut back the top growth severely and a new crop will follow.

Violas are treated just like the pansies, the difference between them being chiefly a matter of size, and color markings. Violas have the tufted growth of violets, and no color blotches, or "faces."

Pansies have faces.

Violas have none.

When violas are given a protective mulch they will often live for several years, but the best practice is to start a flat of new seedlings every summer. It is remarkable how little time it takes, and how undemanding are the pansy and viola plants.

In selecting strains for the garden, many named varieties of both pansies and violas are available, as well as mixtures which provide all colors in the remarkable range which these flowers possess. Beds of a single color are beautiful, but most amateurs will find a mixture of colors most interesting.

Night Lighting The Garden

A few spot lights in your garden at night, these summer nights will make it a place of magic beauty. Even if you have no flowers at all, shafts of strong light thrown up into the trees will create a picture of deep summer. If you do have flowers, place your light behind them in such a way as to make the light come through the flowers from one side or the other so that it will not shine in your eyes. It is best to sit on your terrace or in your outdoor living room without any light so that all the bugs will leave you alone and go to the light. If your spot light is on the ground, millions of bugs will go to it, and the toads will come to catch them. When you have watched toads eat bugs by the hundreds all evening you will realize how valuable these frogs are to a garden. Your guests will go off into gales of laughter when small toads try to swallow large fuzzy bugs.

For a summer night's party, set one or more water sprinklers going in the flowers, and focus your lights on the sprinkler. This may not quite equal Mr. Dupont's water symphony and ballet, but it will certainly give your guests something to talk about and make them think they are cool. There are special electric light bulbs made for out-of-door use. These will not crack when water is thrown on them or when it rains. If you wish to light the interior of your lily pool, get the special lights made for this purpose. A crepe myrtle is dazzlingly beautiful with a spot light turned on it at night. Keep it well watered, and you will have a long season of bloom.

Nicotiana, the flowering tobacco gives off a strong scent on hot summer nights. Even a single blossom will scent up a large area. If you have it growing in the garden away from your lighted area, pick it, and use it in a flower arrangement. Florists can usually get nicotiana for you for a night party. The shrubby clerodendron called "Harlequin Glory Bower" which is common in the summer gardens in some places in the south is a fragrant plant at night, too. If you do not object to the scent of petunias, they will provide fragrance.

For a spicy odor, try stocks of various kinds. You will find that white flowers give the best effect with lights at night. Some of the light yellow night flowering daylilies are quite effective, too, and flower arrangement if you will observe how they behave. Be sure to practice with them, however, or they may fold up on you just as the guests arrive!

All of us southern gardeners need to plan more carefully where we plant crepe myrtles. Too many watermelon red ones have been set out in front of red brick houses! White crepe myrtles are extremely useful to plant in groups of colored one. The white shows off the others extremely well. For accent trees, here and there on the lawn, white ones are very dramatic. Also, at some distance from the house where red or pink would be too far away to show up, you can plant a white tree to lead the eye in that direction. Most of the white variety being sold in the nurseries are really a creamy white.

Once in a while, it is possible to find a white specimen with little flecks of some other color among the flowers. These trees are apt to be seedlings, and the seeds ought to be saved from them when they are ripe this fall and kept for spring planting. The seedlings will be apt to be new shades we do not now have in crepe myrtles.

As we have said before in the column, there would be more colors to choose from but for the fact that crepe myrtle seeds are not hardy enough to go through our winters on the ground. They fall from the seed heads in the fall and freeze during the winter. If you will simply collect them when they are ripe and keep them till next summer or plant them in a greenhouse, the seedlings may be very valuable new colors. The seeds from trees with white flowers are more likely to give new colors than those from the red, pink or purple ones.

If you have an old tree of the common purple crepe myrtle, plant a white one or two to set it off. Then you will like the purple flowers. White perennials can be planted in the garden picture to go with the purple tree, too. Masses of the white cone flower called "White Lustre" will be in bloom with the tree and will last for weeks and weeks. White physostegia is another long lasting tough perennial that can take the heat and bloom a long time.

Catalogues of the past two years have carried it. Where the old purple crepe murtle has been planted in front of a red brick wall, there is nothing to do but plant a creeper of some kind on the wall. The fall foliage of crepe myrtles is extremely beautiful in bronzy tones, red tones and yellows. This foliage color lasts a long time and is as much a show as the flowers. Chrysanthemums blend right in with it in October because their flowers run to the same colors. If something yellow or bronzy is needed as a background or here and there amongst the chrysanthemums, there is nothing more dependable or longer lasting in the fall than the foliage of the small shrub, spirea thunbergi. In fact, the autumn foliage of this shrub lasts many more days than the flowers do in the spring.

Memorial Day was first made a legal holiday in New York in 1873 and is now observed in all but a few of the southern states of the United States.

New Cottons

Have you been in the down-town shops to see the new winter cottons? They're really lovely. I fell in love with bark cloth, 3 inches wide, $.98 a yard. There are tweeds, match-mates in solids and figures, speckled denims and — believe it or not — reversible denims. There's a new 45 inch gingham that is so attractive. It doesn't look at all like gingham but is a jacquard weave. All of these materials are washable. Just makes you want to sew.

Tricky Purses

Have you seen the purses made from wicker baskets that Ashley Hamilton has been making? Charlotte (her mother) and Lottie (grandmother) each were carrying one. Ashley buys the baskets, shellacs or paints them and trims with a bunch of flowers to harmonize. They are quite attractive and practical.

August Food Pentifuls

The plentiful food list for August features beef, locally grown vegetables, milk and milk products, fresh fish, table and salad fats, oils and shortenings. Market supplies of frying chickens will continue to be relativcly large.

Garden Jobs

From now until September first is a busy time in the yard. First, start out by house cleaning. Pull up old annuals and if they're free from disease put them on the compost pile. Work up the beds ready for planting soon for early spring blooms.

This is the time to cut the tops of your bearded iris in a fan shape. (Put cut tops in compost heap.) Work a handful of bone meal around each. You can divide and transplant these bulbs, too, if you'll keep them watered during dry spells. (If we have any.)

Mrs. Jo Evans says it's time to plant Belles of Ireland. I've had no experience with this beautiful foliage plant but I'm following her instructions.

You can lift your daylilies and divide them during August if your planting is beginning to crowd or if you wish to extend your planting. Lift the clump, hold it under the faucet to wash away all the soil. This is so you can see what you are doing when you divide the plants. Replant, being careful to spread the roots. Cut the top of the plant back to four or five inches. Mulch plants well and water.

Any time in August cut the foliage off your violets and fertilizer with cotton seed meal or well rotted barnyard fertilizer. Keep watered well during dry season. Your plants will bloom better, the blooms will have longer stems and you'll get rid of some unsightly foliage that was scalded during the June heat.

Bulbs like jonquils and narcissus should be dug, divided and replanted about every four or five years. Otherwise they will become too thick and the size of the blooms will become small. Now that the tops have died down is the proper time to do the job. They can be replanted immediately, but a better way is to store in a dry cool place and replant this fall. They do better with a little rest period. (Don't we all! ! !)

Now is the time to make azalea and camellia cuttings. Use current season's growth, three to six inches long. Remove all leaves except two or three at the tip end. Set in rows, in partial shade. Keep well watered but not soaking wet.

To keep the flowers blooming, remove all blossoms as they begin to fade nad give the plants plenty of water.

Mrs. Hines, 104 South Fourth Street, West Monroe, has one of the newer very pale pink crepe myrtles, so you can drive by there and see how this variety differs from the older ones. It doesn't grow nearly so upright, and the panacles droop more. Olive Munholland and I were noticing the white crepe myrtles around town. Some are snow white, some creamy white and some have the tiniest tinge of pink. If the leaves begin to curl on this shrub, it's clear evidence that powdery mildew is present. To control it dust frequently with finely powdered sulphur. Be sure the plants are dry before applying.

Did you fail to plant some of the quick growing annual flowers earlier in the season? If so, don't worry, but plant some of the following in well prepared rows or beds: sweet alyssum, late cosmos, ageratum, balsam, cock-comb, four o'clock, zinnia, periwinkle and French marigold.

Next Sunday, I'll tell you about farm and home week. See you in this same column one week from today.

All sections of the state can receive the Civil Defense attack warning alert in less than three minutes after it is received from the Air Force but it is up to the parishes and municipalities to spread the alert locally, advises Reece M. Kolb, state deputy director of Civil Defense.

Best Time To Start Pruning Is In August

Every garden enthusiast has at some season attempted to propagate cuttings from a favorite rose, flower, tree or shrub. Some have met with failure and some with a surprising measure of success.

However, since experience has taught that the majority of cuttings root best when taken during August, I suggest waiting until then.

Magnolias possess a nobility which few flowering trees can equal. There is not one that is not worthy of planting in the small yard or garden. One of the most useful is commencing to bloom now, and in my opinion, is the best of them all.

Magnolia Virginian, Sweet, Bay,

has bright green leaves with glaucus underparts. The camelia-like, fragrant snow-white flowers, two to three inches across, are produced from midsummer until autumn. This magnolia begins flowering while quite small. A dandy small tree for a semishady location — but plant in spring near the house so you can enjoy its real beauty.

It is the practice at the New York Botanical Garden to begin pruning its climbing roses sometime in August. With the exception of such rampant types as Dr. W. Van Fleet, there is usually enough new wood at this time to warrant cutting out all of last year's wood.

Five or six new canes are selected and strongly tied with string to the poles or supports. As many as eight or 10 bands often are used. No loose ends of branches are left to switch in the winds during the winter. With such a method of pruning they have no trouble in keeping down mildew and blackspot.

Care of peonies is important to next year's bloom. Cut off dried blooms and feed with complete, balanced plant food such as 4-12-4 fertilizer. During the summer peonies form their growing eyes for next year, and this requires effort which can be supported only by the right kind of plant food. Dahlias, roses, asters, chrysanthemums and other autumn bloomers will appreciate feeding at this time.

We must remember the necessity for mulching the earth around rhododendrons in summer as well as in winter. Rhododendron roots grow very close to the surface. They are easily destroyed by cultivation, and they suffer from the hot rays of the sun.

The proper way in which to keep these plants in good health is to maintain permanent mulch the year-round. The best mulch consists of forest leaves, but if leaves cannot be obtained, peat moss is a valuable substitute.

Rhododendrons which have flowered should have the old blossom heads removed. This work should be done with care so that none of the new growth is broken off.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

Q—How late in the season may I cut asparagus?

A—Not after a cutting period which runs for eight weeks. It is important to leave enough shoots, needed to store food for the extensive root system.

Q—How should I take care of a Poinsettia after the flowers are gone? ask a dozen readers.

A—A Poinsettia plant, after blooming, should be kept in a warm, light place and kept watered, sparingly, for six to eight weeks. The old stalks should then be cut back to within four or five inches of the soil line.

In late May fertilize and plunge, pot and all, in the garden where it receives morning sunlight. Water as and when you do other garden plants. Bring indoors before danger of frost, fertilize lightly and again when the flowers begin to form on the growth made during the summer.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Exercises that you enjoy are apt to be more beneficial. Perhaps you would enjoy fencing and after a few lessons you could practice at home.

Life-Long Exercise Will Help Keep You Youthful

He said, "The most effective inhibitor of aging we have found so far is systematic exercise over a long period. Men and women who have exercised regularly at sports they like are, at age 60 and 70, twenty years younger than their physically inactive contemporaries in three distinct ways — appearance, health and efficiency." He also found that they seem to live longer.

Doctor Jokl also believes that exercise which you really enjoy, that which you do for pleasure, is most beneficial because it seems to increased the blood flow to the heart while exercise taken under tension is harmful and narrows the coronary artery.

For many years, "Why Grow Old" had been pounding away at you about dropping the sports habit early in life. The average man and woman do this soon after marriage, the woman almost always after the first child arrives. Of course the reason for this is many cases is the fact that the mother has no one to leave the baby with. However there are sports you can enjoy right at home.

Table tennis or ping pong is one which is lots of fun and is also plenty of exercise once you become somewhat skilled at it. Then there is horse-shoe throwing, or dancing, or even fencing. Choose the one you like best. You would have to take a few fencing lessons but after that could practice at home. This is a splendid exercise for posture. Archery is also practical at home. One or two of these would add great pleasure and health to your hours at home.

There has been a growing tendency today to say that middle - aged people should not take up sport. It is true that good judgment should be used and medical opinion sought before beginning a new sport at mid-life. However this is the time when it is important to adopt a sport which you can take down the years with you. Golf, swimming, walking and horseback riding, belong to this group if you indulge in them sensibly and stop long before you are fatigued.

We can almost always spot the man and woman who have exercised regularly. They have an elasticity and aliveness, energy and verve, which sedentary folks lack. They do usually look much younger than their contemporaries.

So, if you have dropped the sports habit, begin again but start in gradually and see your doctor first. If you are young, take the habit of outdoor pleasurable exercise along the years with you. That is the best way of all.

Definitely Not The Face Of A Leading Man

By WILLIAM BENDIX
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, July 25. — In the midst of this current "unusual" California heat wave, a wind of any kind would be welcome, even an ill one. And that brings to mind that trite and crude statement, "It's an ill wind that blows etc." for actually it was the ill-wind of the Great Depression that blew me right out of my job as the manager of a grocery store and into an acting job that settled what had threatened to be a pretty unstable future.

I'd never given an acting career serious thought, and the theatre evidently wasn't suffering from this lack of attention on my part. I had a good reason for this indifference. If you've ever glanced even casually at my face you're bound to have come to a conclusion that it is definitely not the face of a leading man. It's a difficult-type face to describe. Some critics have used the word "homey" — spelling it with an "I" of course—when referring to it. I somehow never thought playwrights would create characters to fit that face.

So I concentrated my ambitions on being a baseball player. Nobody cares what a baseball player looks like, as long as he can hit. I used to spend so much time around the Polo Grounds that the players got to know me by my first name, which was "Hay you" at that time. I finally got a job as bat boy, which served to get me inside the park. When I wasn't carrying bats to the players, I'd practice. Most of my practice involved chasing balls that everybody else missed, and then returning them dutifully to the pitchers.

Either my ability or my enthusiasm impressed the coach, because I was invited to go to spring training camp with the team. Nothing was said about salary, but I was too happy to notice this. However, my parents did. They refused their permission, and from that day forth Babe Ruth was safe from competition.

I then got into the grocery business. The most important aspect of my first job was to keep an eye out for customers who pinched the tomatoes too hard. I wasn't good but I was quick and it wasn't long before I was made manager of a branch store in Orange, N. J.

In 1927 I married my childhood sweetheart, and two years later our daughter, Lorraine, was born. Lorraine and the depression arrived simultaneously. The grocery business steadily declined, and in 1936 my store folded. I was too old to go back to being bat boy, so I applied at the New Jersey Federal Theatre project for a job —not as an actor but as an usher or a cashier.

Louis Simon, head of the project, took one look at me and before he'd chance a second glance said he had a role for just my type. I stayed with the company for three years and by that time decided that acting was as good a career for me as the grocery business.

Later Simon introduced me to Cheryl Crawford, a Broadway producer, and I did six plays for her ... all flops. I began to feel like I have imagined black cats feel on Fridays the 13th.But Miss Crawford had more faith in me than I had in myself. She recommended me to the Theatre Guild for a play then casting. It was William Saroyan's "The Time of Your Life." I played the role of Krupp, the policeman. The play was a hit and I stayed with it on Broadway a year, then toured another year with it.

At the close of the tour, MGM tested me for a role in "Woman of the Year," which starred Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn. I got the part, and when the picture was released, the reviews were more than kind.

I sat back and waited for picture offers to pour in. The only thing that poured was rain—those were the years when it was raining in California. Evidently the public demand for Bill Bendix had been met and fulfilled with one picture. I spent my time alternately calling my agent and sunning myself on the beach. I was the healthiest looking, poorest actor in Hollywood. Finally, after almost a year of waiting, my wife, daughter and I made plans to return to New York.

The day before we were to leave, Hal Roach called. He told me he'd been searching for months for a man to play the cab driver in "The McGuerins of Brooklyn" and had shelved the picture because he couldn't find the type he wanted. Roach signed me that afternoon, and from then on I've never left Hollywood, except for short trips.

I've been in a lot of pictures since then—over 40 of them. And I've been lucky. My roles have been consistently good ones. My current one in RKO's "Glacier Story" is a case in point. It's a fine story, being filmed in Technicolor at Glacier National Park in Montana, probably the most beautiful of America's national parks. When I'm not working, I can spend my time fishing in some of the best trout lakes in the world.

The RECORD SHOP

Richard Bowers — Stardom On Records

NEW YORK (NEA)—The story of Richard Bowers is a perfect example of the wild and wooly record business, with its sudden stardom.

Last January, Bowers was running a drill press. Today he's one of the hottest properties of Columbia records. And all because of a record he made in Japan of a foolish little song with an amateurish band.

Bowers was in the army. He was a clerk, and he sang some on the side. He sang with a barbershop quartet and with an army band. Somebody asked him to make a record of "Gomen Nasai." He made it. When he was discharged, he brought it back with him and gave it to a San Francisco disc jockey.

Then he went home to Vauxhall, N. J., and took a civil service exam. While he was waiting, he got the drill-press job. Then came the phone call, just like in the movies and the better day-dreams. It was the San Francisco disc jockey; people in California were wild about the record.

"Don't sign anything, kid," the jockey said. "Wait for a good offer."

The rest was relatively easy. He waited for a good offer, then signed with Columbia. Now he has a new record out, called "Baby, Let Me Kindle Your Flame," which may be another big one.

Dick Bowers is now 25, with a future that looks bright and completely free of drill presses.

The Popular Side: Backing Mindy Carson on her Columbia release, "Honey Darlin'," is a brand new instrument, the "orkon." It's a cross between a piccolo and a flute. . . . Betty Hutton is selling autographed copies of her Capitol record, "Goin' Steady," on a personal appearance at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas. She's turning the proceeds over to charity. . . . Sauter and Finegan have coined a description of their interesting music. It's "symphonic jazz."

On The Classics: The trend to documentary records continues. Latest is the exciting story of the creation of a nation, called "Israel Is Born." It's a fascinating wedding of historical fact and real sounds, issued by Caedmon. . . . Patrice Munsel is the latest opera star to go pop on records. RCA-Victor has issued her "Melba Waltz."

IKE LEADS BRASS

QUANTICO MARINE BASE, Va., July 24 (AP)—Old soldier Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the Air Force chiefs and a four-star general in a golf game today and outdrove them all off the first tee.

"I hope I come in with an 80," the President chuckled as his ball came to rest about 240 yards down the middle of the fairway on the par four 360-yard first hole.

His partners were Secretary of Air Force Talbott; Gen. Nathan F. Twining, the new Air Force chief of staff; and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, retiring Army chief of staff.

Motor-vehicle travel on roads and streets in 1952 reached an all-time high of nearly 517 billion vehicle-miles, a gain of 5.4 per cent over 1951 and 55 per cent above the 1941 mileage.

Diseases transmitted by rats have killed more human beings than all the wars of history.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

1. CAN YOU HELP A PERSON BY DISCUSSING HIS FAULTS?
YES ☐ NO ☐
2. SOLDIER WRITES: HOW DOES IT FEEL TO BE IN LOVE? YOUR OPINION—
3. DO PEOPLE BECOME MORE RADICAL WHEN IMPORTANT ISSUES ARISE?
YES ☐ NO ☐
7-25

Answer to Question No. 1

1. No. It's the surest way to alienate friends and not influence people. To make a friend aware of his faults and not lose him is one of the most delicate jobs heaven has given us mortals — and one of the most tempting to try. It's better to let him and heaven work it out themselves. If they can't do it, better let him go to the bow-wows.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. My dear boy, the first time I felt it I didn't know what was the matter with me. I only knew life had suddenly changed and something tremendous, super-colcssal, super - cosmic, cataclysmic, had happened to me. When you have a similar feeling that you can't explain except that it has been caused by a girl — it's love. After a dozen or so such feelings, you'll get used to it.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. An explosive subject gives people strong opinions. Psychologist Goodwin Watson finds that in ordinary times most people are either conservative or middle-of-the roaders. But, let some big question arise — coal or steel strike, new or old Deal, prohibitions, juvenile delinquency or what's wrong with the schools, and instantly vast numbers take violent sides. The less people know about the subject, usually the stronger their opinions.

HOW TO RELAX

If his plane weren't equipped with a hydraulic-boost system, the pilot of a modern fighter plane flying at the speed of sound would have to exert 5,700 pounds of pressure on the control stick to overcome airsteam forces.

SPECTACULAR "YOUNG BESS"—With an apprehensive Stewart Granger and Deborah Kerr standing by, Jean Simmons, left, dares the wrath of Charles Laughton, cast as the domineering British monarch, Henry VIII, in "Young Bess." M-G-M's spectacular Technicolor drama of the girl who was to become England's first Queen Elizabeth opens today at the Paramount Theatre.

'Young Bess' Story Of Elizabeth First

"Young Bess," one of M-G-M's major Technicolor productions of the year, opens today at the Paramount Theatre, with a distinguished cast of stars headed by Jean Simmons, Stewart Granger, Deborah Kerr and Charles Laughton.

Based on the novel by Margaret Irwin, "Young Bess" unfolds a dramatic narrative of the life and love of the girl who became England's Queen at the age of twenty-five. Against spectacular and colorful backgrounds of Tudor England, the story traces the childhood of the unwanted Princess whose mother had been beheaded by her father, Henry VIII, shows her as she grows up to become the foil of unscrupulous political plotters, depicts her impassioned love affair with the handsome Thomas Seymour, Britain's great naval hero, and concludes with the triumphant defeat of her enemies and her emergence as the young Queen who was to become one of the greatest monarchs in English history.

The role of Young Bess is played by Jean Simmons, making her first appearance on the M-G-M lot. One of the screen's most popular stars on both sides of the Atlantic, Miss Simmons has scored in such hits as "Great Expectations," "Trio" and, most recently, "Androcles and the Lion."

Stewart Granger, who has fought and loved his way across the screen in such romantic action pictures as "Scaramouche" and "The Prisoner of Zenda," has another colorful role as the Admiral who becomes romantically involved with Young Bess. (Of interest is the fact that Granger and Miss Simmons are husband and wife in private life.)

Deborah Kerr, seen with Granger in "King Solomon's Mines" and "The Prisoner of Zenda," is reunited with him for the third time in the role of Catherine Parr, surviving wife of King Henry VIII. The latter role is enacted by Charles Laughton, who, twenty years ago, won an Academy Award when he played this monarch in "The Private Life of Henry VIII."

The screen play of "Young Bess" was written by Jan Lustig and Arthur Wimperis. The picture was directed by George Sidney and was produced by Sidney Franklin.

Kirk Douglas Featured In 'The Juggler'

"The Juggler," Columbia Pictures' tense saga of a man who tries to run away from himself, opens today at the Tem Theatre, reuniting star Kirk Douglas and producer Stanley Kramer, maker of "High Noon," for the first time since they both achieved fame with Mr. Kramer's outstanding picture, "Champion."

The picture marks the American debut of bronze - blonde bombshell Milly Vitale, Italy's premiere movie charmer, who is being hailed as the greatest screen importation since Greta Garbo. Winner in a world - wide talent search for the role, Miss Vitale was picked on sight from only three minutes of film — the only footage of her available in Hollywood.

Importantly featured in the cast are Paul Stewart, who acted as fight manager for Kirk Douglas in "Champion"; Joey Walsh, the child discovery of "Hans Christian Andersen," as Kirk's boy companion, and Oscar Karlweis, New York stage star as Kirk's sympathetic friend.

Edward Dmytryk directed the picture and Michael Blankfort wrote the screenplay from his own best-selling novel of the same name. Long before any publisher had seen the manuscript of Blankfort's book, it had been read by Kramer who bought it immediately as a screen natural. By the time Little, Brown and Co. published the book, Kramer had already started his production.

For Kirk Douglas, the new picture brings opportunity for an intriguing change of characterization and a role of high dramatic impact. He is seen as a famous European juggler who has developed an obsessive fear of police. His neurotic behavior causes him to be challenged by a policeman and, after a frenzied battle, he flees believing he has killed his assailant. He leads the police, headed by Stewart, a breathless cross-country chase in the course of which he is sheltered by an attractive farm worker, played by Milly Vitale, finds romance and, ultimately, the peace that is possible through self-understanding.

Miss Vitale is said to be breathtakingly beautiful in her first American film, and to match Douglas' intensity with an eagerness and a charm which places her in the very forefront of filmdom's newcomers.

Working 8 hours a day, a new electronic computer used in flight research can solve a problem in 10 days that would take an expert mathematician 45 years.

AUNTIE DIXIE—ARE CATERPILLARS GOOD TO EAT??
IMOGENE!!
MUST YOU TALK OF SUCH THINGS WHILE PEOPLE ARE EATING??
NO "BUTS" ABOUT IT—YOU'RE GETTING OLD ENOUGH TO KNOW BETTER
SEE—AUNTIE DIXIE—
SEE NOTHING! I'LL NOT HEAR ANY ALIBIS—THAT WAS DISGUSTING!
(SIGH)—IF YOU'LL ONLY—
IF YOU'LL ONLY TRY TO CONCENTRATE ON BEAUTIFUL THINGS, YOU'LL AUTOMATICALLY REPEAT THEM—
I DIDN'T MEAN TO BE SO CROSS, DEAR—BUT WHATEVER MADE YOU SAY A THING LIKE THAT???
'CAUSE THERE WAS A CATERPILLAR ON YER SALAD—BUT IT'S NOT THERE NOW!!

EGAD! HERE'S $3 ON THE TABLE! I MUST HAVE LEFT IT THERE—HOW CARE-LESS OF ME!
COME TO THINK OF IT, I DON'T RECALL LEAVING IT THERE!
THE STILL SMALL VOICE
THE OLD BOY HIMSELF
DRAT!!
CONSCIENCE AGAIN
JUST THINK! WON'T IT BE NICE TO HAVE A FEW DOLLARS IN YOUR POCKET TOMORROW?
UM!!
CONFOUND IT! NOW I REMEMBER! THE $3 IS CHANGE FROM THE GROCERIES MARTHA SENT ME FOR TODAY—I MUST RE-PLACE IT!
BULLY FOR YOU, CHUM!
GET AWAY FROM THAT PURSE, YOU BIG BURGLAR!

TOMMY, MAYBE WE OUGHTA KINDA HIDE ALL THIS RYE SOGGIES WE WON, BEFORE TH' FOLKS GET HOME!
I SPECK SO. MOM'S APT TO NOTICE IT WHEN SHE COMES IN TO SEE IF WE'RE ASLEEP!
TH' ONLY PLACE THAT'S NOT FULLA SOGGIES ALREADY IS TH' TOP SHELF IN TH' LINEN CLOSET...AN' WE CAN'T REACH THAT!
HMM...HERE'S GRANPOP! HE CAN... AN' HE'S TOO SLEEPY TO NOTICE WOT IT IS!
IT'S SUMTHIN' WE'RE SORTA SAVIN' AS A SUPRISE FOR POP'S-ER- BIRTHDAY.
ALL RIGHT...ALL RIGHT! BUT I DON'T WANT TO GET SO WIDE AWAKE I CAN'T GO BACK TO SLEEP!
NO INDEED, GRANPOP!
OH, GOSH! STAY BACK, J.P.! WATCH OUT, GRAN-POP!
WHAT TH-
HOLY SMOKE! I GUESS IT'S TIME TO LET YOU IN ON OUR SECRET, GRAN-POP! WE WON A DONKEY ON TV!
AN' YOU'RE TH' FIRST ONE TO GET A RIDE ON HIM!
MY SOUL AND BODY! STOP HIM!
GEE, I HOPE THIS DOESN'T GET YOU ALL WAKED UP, GRANDPOP!
WHOA, J.P.! IF THAT'S TH' WAY YOU TREAT YOUR NAMESAKE, WE'LL TIE YOU OUTSIDE!
S:SEN! THAT'S MOM AN' POP COMIN' HOME FROM TH' PARTY!
WHAT, DADDY! IS ANYTHING WRONG?
NO INDEED! I ENJOY RIDING DONKEYS DOWN-STAIRS! BUT NEXT TIME YOU WANT ME TO BABY SIT....
I'D LIKE A LIST OF THE ENTIRE FAMILY...INCLUDING ALL LIVESTOCK!
HE'S DELIRIOUS, WASH! I HOPE HE DIDN'T KEEP THE TWINS AWAKE!
I DON'T WANTA SEEM CRITICAL, MR McKEE, BUT HOW COME YOU SCATTERED OUR GOSSEG ALL OVER TH' HOUSE!

IT IS TRUE! THE MISTER HOGAN IS SO JEALOUS OF THE DOCTOR SHU WHO TREATED PRINCESS SNOWFLOWER THAT ONLY THE INTERVENTION OF THE BLONDE CANYON PREVENTED COMPLETE DISASTER! THE GUERRILLAS ARE IN CHAOS!!

HAVE YOU TOLD THIS TO ANYONE ELSE?

I CAME TO YOU BECAUSE YOU PROMISED TO SEND US TO OUR NATIVE VILLAGES IF WE WOULD DESERT THE PRINCESS! WHEN CAN I COLLECT MY REWARD?

H-HOGAN, WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

MORALE IS LOW ENOUGH! THE TROOPS MUST NOT SEE YOU WEEPING!

BUT JUST WHEN I WAS GETTING WELL -YOU ATTACKED DR. SHU!

YOU FELL IN LOVE WITH HIM!

W-WHAT IF I DID?

YOU CAN'T BE A SYMBOL OF RESISTANCE TO THE CHINESE REDS AND BE DEWY-EYED WITH ROMANCE! THE DOCTOR GOES-!

WELL, CANYON, SORRY I GOT YOU INTO SUCH A SQUEEZE THAT WE'RE UNDER HOUSE ARREST BY FIELD MARSHAL HOGAN!

I SHOULD HAVE WARNED YOU THAT DOCIE IS INSANELY JEALOUS OF THE PRINCESS!

HUH?

HOGAN WAS AFRAID SHE'D FALL IN LOVE WITH ME AND BE LESS EFFECTIVE AS A RALLYING POINT FOR THE ANTI-RED CHINESE!

BUT HE WAS PLENTY WORRIED WHEN SHE WAS ILL!

FOR THE SAME REASON!.. YOU SEE, THE PRINCESS DOESN'T WANT TO BE A BIG HEROINE - SHE WANTS TO GET MARRIED AND HAVE KIDS - BUT HOGAN WON'T LET HER! - SO SHE WORRIED HERSELF ILL!. IT'S ALL MENTAL... SHE HAD NOTHING ORGANICALLY WRONG!

BUT YOU PERFORMED SURGERY!

I MADE A SURFACE INCISION, STALLED FOR A WHILE, THEN SEWED UP THE WOUND! NOW SHE FEELS BETTER! REMEMBER THAT I TOO WISH TO RETAIN HER AS A SYMBOL FOR FREE CHINA!

IF LOHMAR HAS ABDUCTED MISS WHITNEY, WE MUST RESCUE HER, TRADER!

NO, CAPTAIN BAKER... THERE'S NOTHING WE CAN DO...

IF LOHMAR DROVE THE JUBIDOS FROM THEIR CAVES, WHY CAN'T THEY DO THE SAME TO LOHMAR?

I GAVE THE NATIVES A FEW RIFLES, HOPING THEY COULD... BUT THERE'S A SINGLE TRAIL UP THE FACE OF THE CLIFF TO THE CAVES!

AND LOHMAR MAKE BIG MOUNTAIN SLIDE, QUICK!

I SEE... A MAN-MADE AVALANCHE! IS THERE ANY OTHER WAY TO GET INTO THE CAVES?

ME KNOW ENTRANCE ON MOUNTAINTOP... BUT NO CAN CLIMB....

I HAVE AN IDEA, CAPTAIN BAKER...MAYBE WE COULD FLY THE PLANE UP THERE!

OF COURSE, TIM...

AND WE COULD TAKE A COUPLE OF BUNDLES OF LANAKA-TREE TWIGS, AND SET FIRE TO THEM AND SMOKE LOHMAR OUT!

THAT'S AN EXCELLENT IDEA! THE LANAKA SMOKE WILL MYSTERIOUSLY MAKE ANYONE DO AS HE IS TOLD!

WE'LL TRY IT! COME ON, BU WADODI, SHOW US THE WAY!

Copr. 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

ME NO WANT TO FLY... ME STAY!

EASY, BU WADODI...WE NEED YOU!
